under sub-section (1) to that representative, widow or next of kin, as the case may be, and shall not further interfere in relation to the property of the deceased.

(3) In the case of a deceased Indian commissioned officer, the committee, save as may be prescribed, shall, if it appears to it necessary for the payment of regimental and other debts in camp or quarters and the expenses, if any, incurred by the Committee, and may, in any other case, collect all moneys left by the deceased in any bank (including any post office savings bank, co-operative bank or society or any other institution receiving deposits in money, however named) and for that purpose may require the agent, manager or other proper officer of such bank, society or other institution to pay the moneys to the Committee forthwith, and such agent, manager or other officer shall be bound to comply with the requisition notwithstanding anything in any rules of the bank, society or other institution, and when any money has been paid by a bank, society or other institution in compliance with the requisition under this sub-section, no person shall have a claim against the bank, society or other institution in respect of such money.

(4) In the case of a deceased Indian commissioned officer whose estate has not been dealt with under sub-section (2) and in the case of a deserter, the Committee, subject to any rules made in this behalf under this Act, shall, for the purpose of paying the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters, and may in any other case, sell or convert into money the moveable property of the deceased or deserter.

(5) The Committee shall, out of the moneys referred to in sub-sections (3) and (4) pay the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters (if any) of the deceased or deserter.

(6) In the case of a deceased Indian commissioned officer the surplus (if any) shall be remitted to the prescribed person.

(7) In the case of an Indian commissioned officer who is a deserter the surplus (if any) shall be forthwith remitted to the prescribed person and shall, on the expiry of three years from the date of his desertion, be forfeited to the Central Government unless the deserter shall in the meantime have surrendered or been apprehended:

Provided that the prescribed person may pay the whole or such part of the surplus as he may deem proper to the wife or children or other dependents of the commissioned officer.

(8) If in any case a doubt or difference arises as to what are the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters of a deceased officer or deserter or as to the amount payable therefor, the decision of the prescribed person shall be final and shall be binding on all persons for all purposes.

(9) For the purpose of the exercise of its duties under this section the Committee shall, to the exclusion of all authorities and persons whomsoever, have the same rights and powers as if it had taken out representation to the deceased, and any receipt given by the Committee shall have effect accordingly.

116C. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Administrator General's Act, 1913 (III of 1913), an Administrator General shall not interpose in any manner in relation to any property of a deceased Indian commissioned officer which has been dealt with under the provisions of section 116B except in so far as he is expressly required or permitted to do so by or under the provisions contained in this Chapter.

Power of Central Government to hand over the estate of a deceased officer to Administrator General.

(2) The Central Government may at any time and in such circumstances as it thinks fit direct that the estate of a deceased Indian commissioned officer shall be handed over by the Committee to the Administrator General of a Province for administration and thereupon the Committee shall make over the estate to such Administrator General.

(3) Where under this section any estate is handed over to the Administrator General he shall administer the estate in accordance with the provisions of the Administrator General's Act, 1913 (III of 1913):

Provided that the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters of the deceased officer (if any) shall be paid in priority to any other debt due by him.

(4) The Administrator General shall pay the surplus, if any, remaining in his hands after discharging all debts and charges, to the heirs of the deceased and, if no heir is traceable, shall remit such surplus to the prescribed person in the prescribed manner.

(5) The Administrator General shall not charge in respect of his duties any fee exceeding three per cent. of the gross amount coming to or remaining in his hands after payment of the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters.

Disposal of surplus by the prescribed person.

(1) If he knows of a representative of the deceased, he shall pay the surplus to that representative.

(2) If he does not know of any such representative, he shall publish every year a notice in the prescribed form and manner for six consecutive years. If no claim to the surplus is made by a representative of the deceased within six months after the publication of the last of such notices, the prescribed person shall deposit the surplus together with any income or accumulation of income accrued therefrom to the credit of the Central Government:

Provided that such deposit shall not bar the claim of any person to such surplus or any part thereof.

116E. Where any part of the estate of a deceased Indian commissioned officer consists of effects, securities or other property not converted into money, the provisions of section 116B and section 116D with respect to paying the surplus shall, save as may be prescribed, extend to the delivery, transmission or transfer of such effects, securities or property, and the prescribed person shall have the same power of converting the same into money as a representative of the deceased.

Disposal of effects not money.

116F. Property deliverable and money payable to the representative of a deceased Indian commissioned officer under section 116B or section 116D may, if the total amount or value thereof does not exceed five thousand rupees, and, if the prescribed person thinks fit, be delivered or paid to any person appearing to him to be entitled to receive it or to administer the estate of the deceased, without requiring the production of any probate, letters of administration, succession certificate or other such conclusive evidence of title.

Disposal of certain property without production of probate, etc.

116G. Any payment of money or delivery, application, sale or other disposition of any property or money made, or purported to be made, by the Committee or the prescribed person in good faith in pursuance of section 116B, section 116D, section 116E or section 116F shall be valid and shall be a full discharge to the Committee or the prescribed person, as the case may be, and to the Crown from all further liability in respect of that money or property; but nothing herein contained shall affect the right of any executor or administrator or other representative, or of any creditor of the deceased officer against any person to whom such payment or delivery has been made.

Discharge of committee, prescribed person and the Crown.

Property in the hands of the Committee or the prescribed person not to be assets at the place where the Committee or the prescribed person is stationed.

116H. Any property coming under section 116B or under sub-section (4) of section 116C into the hands of the Committee or the prescribed person shall not, by reason of so coming, be deemed to be assets or effects at the place in which that Committee or the prescribed person is stationed and it shall not be necessary by reason thereof that representation be taken out in respect of that property for that place.

Saving of rights of representative.

116I. After the Committee has deposited with the prescribed person the surplus of the property of any deceased officer under sub-section (6) of section 116B. any representative of the deceased or any Administrator General, shall, as regards any property of the deceased not collected by the Committee and not forming part of the aforesaid surplus, have the same rights and duties as if section 116B had not been enacted.

Application of sections 116B to 116I to lunatics, etc.

116J. The provisions of sections 116B to 116I shall so far as they can be made applicable apply in the case of an Indian commissioned officer who, notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912 (IV of 1912), is ascertained in the prescribed manner to be insane, or who, being on active service, is officially reported missing, as if he had died on the day on which his insanity is so ascertained or, as the case may be, on the day on which he is officially reported missing:

Provided that in the case of an officer so reported missing no action shall be taken under sub-sections (2) to (5) of section 116B or under section 116C until such time as he is officially presumed to be dead.

Appointment of Standing Committee of Adjustment when officers die or desert while on active service.

116K. When an Indian commissioned officer dies or deserts while on active service, the references in the foregoing provisions of this Chapter to the Committee shall be construed as references to the Standing Committee of Adjustment, if any, appointed in this behalf in the manner prescribed.

Interpretation.

116L. For the purposes of this Chapter—

(1) the expression 'regimental and other debts in camp or quarters' includes money due as military debts, namely, sums due in respect of, or of any advance in respect of—

(a) quarters;

(b) mess, band, and other regimental accounts;

(c) military clothing, appointments and equipments, not exceeding a sum equal to three months' pay of the deceased, and having become due within eighteen months before his death;

(2) 'representation' includes probate and letters of administration with or without the will annexed, and a succession certificate, constituting a person the executor or administrator of the estate of a deceased person or authorising him to receive or realize the assets of a deceased person;

(3) 'representative' means any person who has taken out representation but does not include an Administrator-General."

Amendment of section 126, Act XIV of 1932

4. In section 126 of the Indian Air Force Act, 1932,—

(i) in the opening paragraph for the word "rules" the word "provisions" shall be substituted and after the words "this Act" the words, "not being an officer or warrant officer of the Indian Air Force," shall be inserted;

(ii) for clause (2) the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(2) In the case of a deceased person who has left in a bank (including any post office savings bank, co-operative bank or society or any other institution receiving deposits in money, however named) a deposit not exceeding one thousand rupees, the commanding officer may, if he thinks fit, require the agent, manager or other proper officer of such bank or other institution to pay the deposit to him forthwith, notwithstanding anything in any rules of the bank or the other institution and when any money has been paid by such bank or other institution in compliance with such requisition, no person shall have any claim against the bank or the other institution in respect of such money";

(iii) in clause (4) after the words "cause the move able property to be sold by public auction" the words "and may convert into money any cash certificates (including post office cash certificates, defence savings certificates and national savings certificates)" and after the words "proceeds of the sale" the words "or conversion", shall be inserted;

(iv) clause (7) and the Explanations shall be omitted and clause (8) shall be renumbered (7);

(v) in clause (7) as so renumbered the words "or the Standing Committee of Adjustment, as the case may be" shall be omitted and after the words "a deceased person" the words "or deserter" shall be inserted.

Substitution of new sections for section 128, Act XIV of 1932.

5. For section 128 of the Indian Air Force Act, 1932, the following sections shall be substituted, namely:—

Application of sections 126 and 127 to lunatics, etc.

"128. The provisions of sections 126 and 127 shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply in the case of a person subject to this Act (not being an officer or warrant officer of the Indian Air Force) who notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912 (IV of 1912) is ascertained in the prescribed manner to be insane, or, who, being on active service, is officially reported missing, as if he had died on the day on which his insanity is so ascertained, or, as the case may be, on the day on which he is officially reported missing;

Provided that in the case of a person so reported missing, no action shall be taken under clauses (2) to (5) inclusive of section 126 until such time as such person is officially presumed to be dead.

Property of officers of the Indian Air Force who die or desert.

128A. The provisions of sections 128B to 128I shall apply to the disposal of the property of the officers and warrant officers of the Indian Air Force who die or desert.

Powers of Committee of Adjustment.

128B. (1) On the death or desertion of an officer or warrant officer of the Indian Air Force, a Committee of Adjustment appointed in this behalf in the manner prescribed (hereinafter referred to as the Committee) shall, as soon as may be, subject to the rules made in this behalf under this Act,—

(a) secure all the moveable property belonging to the deceased or deserter, that is in camp or quarters, and cause an inventory thereof to be made, and ascertain and draw the pay and allowances, if any, due to him ; and

(b) ascertain the amount, and provide for the payment, of the service and other debts in camp or quarters (if any) of the deceased or deserter.

(2) In the case of a deceased officer or warrant officer whose representative, widow (if any) or next of kin has given security to the satisfaction of the Committee for the payment of the service and other debts in camp or quarters (if any) of the deceased, the Committee shall deliver any property received by it under sub-section (1) to that representative, widow or next of kin, as the case may be, and shall not further interfere in relation to the property of the deceased.

(3) In the case of a deceased officer or warrant officer, the Committee, save as may be prescribed shall, if it appears to it necessary for the payment of service and other debts in camp or quarters and the expenses, if any, incurred by the Committee, and may, in any other case, collect all moneys left by the deceased in any bank (including any post office savings bank, co-operative bank or society or any other institution receiving deposits in money, however named) and for that purpose may require the agent, manager or other proper officer of such bank, society or other institution to pay the moneys to the Committee forthwith, and such agent, manager or other officer shall be bound to comply with the requisition notwithstanding anything in any rules of the bank or other institution; and when any money has been paid by a bank or other institution in compliance with the requisition under this sub-section, no person shall have a claim against the bank or other institution in respect of such money.

(4) In the case of a deceased officer or warrant officer whose estate has not been dealt with under sub-section (2) and in the case of a deserter the Committee, subject to any rules made in this behalf under this Act, shall, for the purpose of paying the service and other debts in camp or quarters, and may, in any other case, sell or convert into money the moveable property of the deceased or deserter.

(5) The Committee shall, out of the moneys referred to in sub-sections (3) and (4), pay the service and other debts in camp or quarters (if any) of the deceased or deserter.

(6) In the case of a deceased officer or warrant officer, the surplus (if any) shall be remitted to the prescribed person.

(7) In the case of an officer or warrant officer who is a deserter, the surplus (if any) shall be forthwith remitted to the prescribed person and shall, on the expiry of three years from the date of his desertion, be forfeited to the Central Government unless the deserter shall in the meantime have surrendered or been apprehended:

Provided that the prescribed person may pay the whole or such part of the surplus as he may deem proper to the wife or children or other dependents of the officer or warrant officer.

(8) If in any case a doubt or difference arises as to what are the service and other debts in camp or quarters of a deceased officer or deserter or as to the amount payable therefor, the decision of the prescribed person shall be final and shall be binding on all persons for all purposes.

(9) For the purpose of the exercise of its duties under this section, the Committee shall, to the exclusion of all authorities and persons whomsoever have the same rights and powers as if it had taken out representation to the deceased, and any receipt given by the Committee shall have effect accordingly.

Powers of Central Government to hand over the estate of a deceased officer to Administrator General.

128C. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Administrator Generals Act, 1913 (III of 1913), an Administrator General shall not interpose in any manner in relation to any property of a deceased officer or warrant officer which has been dealt with under the provisions of section 128B except in so far as he is expressly required or permitted to do so by or under the provisions contained in this Chapter.

(2) The Central Government may at any time and in such circumstances as it thinks fit direct that the estate of a deceased officer or warrant officer shall be handed over by the Committee to the Administrator General of a Province for administration and thereupon the Committee shall make over the estate to such Administrator General.

(3) Where under this section any estate is handed over to the Administrator General, he shall administer the estate in accordance with the provisions of the Administrator General's Act, 1913 (III of 1913):

Provided that the service and other debts in camp or quarters of the deceased officer (if any) shall be paid in priority to any other debt due by him.

(4) The Administrator General shall pay the surplus, if any, remaining in his hands after discharge of all debts and charges, to the heirs of the deceased and, if no heir is traceable, shall remit such surplus to the prescribed person in the prescribed manner.

(5) The Administrator General shall not charge in respect of his duties any fee exceeding three per cent. of the gross amount coming to or remaining in his hands after payment of the service and other debts in camp or quarters.

Disposal of surplus by the prescribed person.

128D. On receipt of the surplus referred to in sub-section (6) of section 128B or sub-section (4) of section 128C, the prescribed person shall proceed as follows :—

(1) If he knows of a representative of the deceased, he shall pay the surplus to that representative.

(2) If he does not know of any such representative, he shall publish every year a notice in the prescribed form and manner for six consecutive years If no claim to the surplus is made by a representative of the deceased within six months after the publication of the last of such notices, the prescribed person shall deposit the surplus together with any income or accumulation of income accrued therefrom to the credit of the Central Government:

Provided that such deposit shall not bar the claim of any person to such surplus or any part thereof.

Disposal of effects not money.

128E. Where any part of the estate of a deceased officer or warrant officer consists of effects, securities or other property not converted into money, the provisions of section 128B and section 128D with respect to paying the surplus shall, save as may be prescribed, extend to the delivery, transmission or transfer of such effects, securities or property, and the prescribed person shall have the same power of converting the same into money as a representative of the deceased.

Disposal of certain property without production of probate, etc.

128F. Property deliverable and money payable to the representative of a deceased officer or warrant officer under section 128B or section 128D may, if the total amount or value thereof does not exceed five thousand rupees, and, if the prescribed person thinks fit, be delivered or paid to any person appearing to him to be entitled to receive it or to administer the estate of the deceased, without requiring the production of any probate, letters of administration, succession certificate or other such conclusive evidence of title.

Discharge of Committee, prescribed person and the Crown.

128G. Any payment of money or delivery, application, sale or other disposition of any property or money made, or purported to be made by the Committee or the prescribed person in good faith in pursuance of section 128B, section 128D, section 128E or section 128F shall be valid and shall be a full discharge to the Committee or the prescribed person, as the case may be, and to the Crown from all further liability in respect of that money or property ; but nothing herein contained shall affect the right of any executor or administrator or other representative or of any creditor of the deceased officer or warrant officer against any person to whom such payment or delivery has been made.

Property in the hands of the Committee or the prescribed person not to be assets at the place where the Committee or the prescribed person is stationed.

128H. Any property coming under section 128B or under sub-section (4) of section 128C into the hands of the Committee or the prescribed person shall not, by reason of so coming, be deemed to be assets or effects at the place in which that Committee or the prescribed person is stationed and it shall not be necessary by reason thereof that representation be taken out in respect of that property for that place.

Saving of rights of representative.

128I. After the Committee has deposited with the prescribed person the surplus of the property of any deceased officer or warrant officer under sub-section (6) of section 128B any representative of the deceased or any Administrator General, shall, as regards any property of the deceased not collected by the Committee and not forming part of the aforesaid surplus, have the same rights and duties as if section 128B had not been enacted.

Application of sections 128B to 128I to lunatics, etc.

128J. The provisions of sections 128B to 128I shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply in the case of an officer or warrant officer of the Indian Air Force, who notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912 (IV of 1912), is ascertained in the prescribed manner to be, insane, or who, being on active service, is officially reported missing, as if he had died on the day on which his insanity is so ascertained or, as the case may be, on the day on which he is officially reported missing :

Provided that in the case of an officer or warrant officer so reported missing no action shall be taken under sub-sections (2) to (5) of section 128B or under section 128C until such time as he is officially presumed to be dead.

Appointment of Standing Committee of Adjustment when officers die or desert while on active service.

128K. When an officer or warrant officer dies or deserts while on active service, the references in the foregoing provisions of this Chapter to the Committee shall be construed as references to the Standing Committee of Adjustment, if any appointed in this behalf in the manner prescribed.

Interpretation.

128L. For the purposes of this Chapter :—

(1) the expression 'service and other debts in camp or quarters' includes money due as air force debts namely, sums due in respect of, or of any advance in respect of —

(a) quarters ;

[THE] INCOME-TAX AND BUSINESS PROFITS TAX (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1948.

(ACT XLVIII OF 1948).

[8th September 1948.]

An Act further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, and the Business Profits Tax Act, 1947.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 and the Business Profits Tax Act, 1947, for the purposes hereinafter appearing ;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I

PRELIMINARY

Short title. 1. (1) This Act may be called the Income-tax and Business Profits Tax (Amendment) Act, 1948.

(2) Sections 3 to 12 shall be deemed to have come into force on the 30th day of March, 1948, and the amendment made in the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 by section 2 shall be deemed to be operative so as to apply in relation to all assessments subsequent to the assessment for the year ending on the 31st day of March, 1948.

Sections 13 to 15 shall be deemed to have come into force on the day on which the Business Profits Tax Act, 1947 came into force.

CHAPTER II

AMENDMENT OF ACT XI OF 1922

Amendment of section 2, Act XI of 1922. 2. For clause (6) of section 2 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (hereinafter in this Chapter referred to as the said Act), the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(6) "company" means an Indian company as defined in clause (7A) or any Indian or non-Indian Association, whether incorporated or not, which the Central Board of Revenue may, by general or special order, declare to be a company for the purposes of this Act."

Amendment of section 4, Act XI of 1922. 3. In Explanation 2 to sub-section (1) of section 4 of the said Act, the words "and not being pension payable without India" shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 9, Act XI of 1922. 4. In section 9 of the said Act, after sub-section (3), the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(4) For the purposes of this section, the holder of an impartible estate shall be deemed to be the individual owner of all the properties comprised in the estate."

Amendment of section 12B, Act XI of 1922. 5. In section 12B of the said Act,—

(a) in the third proviso to sub-section (2), after the words "property of the assessee" the words brackets and figure "or of the previous owner where the cost of the capital asset to the previous owner is to be taken in accordance with sub-section (3)" shall be inserted;

(b) to sub-section (3) the following proviso shall be added, namely : —

"Provided that where the capital asset became the property of the assessee—

(i) before the 1st day of April 1947, under a deed of gift or on the partition of a Hindu undivided family, the actual cost allowable to him shall be the fair market value of the capital asset on the date of the gift or the date of the partition, as the case may be, if such value is greater than the actual cost to the previous owner or the fair market value thereof on the 1st day of January 1939, where the third proviso to sub-section (2) applies;

(ii) on or after the 1st day of April, 1947, on the partition of a Hindu undivided family, the cost allowable to him shall be the fair market value on the date of the partition."

Amendment of section 14, Act XI of 1922.

6. To sub-section (1) of section 14 of the said Act, after the words "income of the family" the words "or in the case of an impartible estate where such sum has been paid out of the income of the holder of the estate belonging to the family" shall be added.

Insertion of new section in Act XI of 1922.

7. After section 33A of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely: —

Power of Commissioner to revise Income-tax Officer's orders.

"33B. (1) The Commissioner may call for and examine the record of any proceeding under this Act and if he considers that any order passed therein by the Income-tax Officer is erroneous in so far as it is prejudicial to the interests of the revenue, he may, after giving the assessee an opportunity of being heard and after making or causing to be made such enquiry as he deems snecesary, pass such order thereon as the circumstances of the case justify, including an order enhancing or modifying the assessment, or cancelling the assessment and directing a fresh assessment.

(2) No order shall be made under sub-section (1) —

(a) to revise an order of re-assessment made under the provisions of section 34; or

(b) after the expiry of two years from the date of the order sought to be revised.

(3) Any assessee objecting to an order passed by the Commissioner under the sub-section (1) may appeal to the Appellate Tribunal within 60 days of the date on which the order is communicated to him.

(4) An appeal to the Appellate Tribunal under sub-section (3) shall be in the prescribed form and shall be verified in the prescribed manner and shall be accompanied by a treasury receipt in support of having paid the fee of Rs. 100, and such appeal shall be dealt with in the same manner as if it were an appeal under sub-section (1) of section 33 "

Amendment of section 34, XI of 1922.

8. For section 34 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

Income escaping assessment.

"34. (1) If—

(a) the Income-tax Officer has reason to believe that by reason of the omission or failure on the part of an assessee to make a return of his income under section 22 for any year or to disclose fully and truly all material facts necessary for his assessment for that year, income, profits or gains chargeable to income-tax have escaped assessment for that year, or have been under-assessed, or assessed at too low a rate, or have been made the subject of excessive relief under the Act, or excessive loss or depreciation allowance has been computed, or

(b) notwithstanding that there has been no omission or failure as mentioned in clause (a) on the part of the assessee, the Income-tax Officer has in consequence of information in his possession reason to believe that income, profits or gains chargeable to income-tax have escaped assessment for any year, or have been under-assessed, or assessed at too low a rate, or have been made the subject of excessive relief under this Act, or that excessive loss or depreciation allowance has been computed, he may in cases falling under clause (a) at any time within eight years and in cases falling under clause (b) at any time within four years of the end of that year, serve on the assessee, or, if the assessee is a company, on the principal officer thereof, a notice containing all or any of the requirements which may be included in a notice under sub-section (2) of section 22 and may proceed to assess or reassess such income, profits or gains or recompute the loss or depreciation allowance; and the provisions of this Act shall, so far as may be, apply accordingly as if the notice were a notice issued under that sub-section:

Provided that—

(i) the Income-tax Officer shall not issue a notice under this sub-section, unless he has recorded his reasons for doing so and the Commissioner is satisfied on such reasons recorded that it is a fit case for the issue of such notice;

(ii) the tax shall be chargeable at the rate at which it would have been charged had the income, profits or gains not escaped assessment or full assessment, as the case may be; and,

(iii) where the assessment made or to be made is an assessment made or to be made on a person deemed to be the agent of a non-resident person under section 43, this sub-section shall have effect as if for the periods of eight years and four years a period of one year was substituted.

Explanation. — Production before the Income-tax Officer of account books or other evidence from which material facts could with due diligence have been discovered by the Income-tax Officer will not necessarily amount to disclosure within the meaning of this section.

(2) Where an assessment is reopened in circumstances falling under clause (b) of sub-section (1), the assessee may, if he has not impugned any part of the original assessment order for that year either under section 30 or under section 33A, claim that the proceedings under sub-section (1) of this section shall be dropped on his showing that he had been assessed on an amount or to a sum not lower than what he would be rightly liable for even if the items alleged to have escaped assessment had been taken into account, or the assessment or computation had been properly made:

Provided that in so doing he shall not be entitled to reopen matters concluded by an order under section 33B or section 35, or by a decision of the High Court or of the Privy Council under section 66 and section 66A.

(3) No order of assessment under section 23 to which clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 28 applies or of assessment or re-assessment in cases falling within clause (a) of sub-section (1) of this section shall be made after the expiry of eight years, and no order of assessment or re assessment in any other case shall be made after the expiry of four years, from the end of the year in which the income, profits or gains were first assessable :

Provided that where a notice under sub section (1) has been issued within the time therein limited, the assessment or re-assessment to be made in pursuance of such notice may be made before the expiry of one year from the date of the service of the notice even if such period exceeds the period of eight years or four years, as the case may be:

Provided further that nothing contained in this sub-section shall apply to a re-assessment made under section 27 or in pursuance of an order under section 31, section 33, section 33A, section 33B, section 66 or section 66A."

Amendment of section 46, Act XI of 1922.

9. After sub-section (5) of section 46 of the said Act, the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(5A) The Income-tax Officer may at any time or from time to time, by notice in writing (a copy of which shall be forwarded to the assessee at this last address known to the Income-tax Officer) require any person from whom money is due or may become due to the assessee or any person who holds or may subsequently hold money for or on account of the assessee to pay to the Income-tax Officer, either forthwith upon the money becoming due or being held or at or within the time specified in the notice (not being before the money becomes due or is held) so much of the money as is sufficient to pay the amount due by the tax payer in respect of arrears of income-tax and penalty or the whole of the money when it is equal to or less than that amount.

The Income-tax Officer may at any time or from time to time amend or revoke any such notice or extend the time for making any payment in pursuance of the notice.

Any person making any payment in compliance with a notice under this sub-section shall be deemed to have made the payment under the authority of the assessee and the receipt of the Income-tax Officer shall constitute a good and sufficient discharge of the liability of such person to the assessee to the extent of the amount referred to in the receipt.

Any person discharging and liability to the assessee after receipt of the notice referred to in this sub-section shall be personally liable to the Income-tax Officer to the extent of the liability discharged or to the extent of the liability of the assessee for tax and penalties, whichever is less.

If the person to whom a notice under this sub-section is sent fails to make payment in pursuance thereof to the Income-tax Officer, further proceedings may be taken by and before the Collector on the footing that the Income-tax Officer's notice has the same effect as an attachment by the Collector in exercise of his powers under the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 46.

Where a person to whom a notice under this sub-section is sent objects to it on the ground that the sum demanded or any part thereof is not due to the assessee or that he does not hold any money for or on account of the assessee, then, nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to require such person to pay any such sum or part thereof, as the case may be, to the Income-tax Officer."

Omission of section 49, Act XI of 1922.

10. Section 49 of the said Act shall be omitted.

Amendment of Section 49A, Act XI of 1922.

11. In section 49A of the said Act,—

(a) in sub-section (1),—

(i) for the words "on which has been paid" the words "on which have been paid" shall be substituted:

(ii) between the words, "under this Act and" and "Dominion income-tax" the word "either" shall be inserted;

(iii) after the words "Dominion income-tax in one or more countries" at the end, the words "or Burma income-tax" shall be added;

(b) after sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be added, namely :—

"(3) For the purposes of this section 'Burma income-tax' means any income tax or super-tax charged under any law in force in Burma where the laws of Burma provide for relief in respect of tax charged on income both in Burma and in British India which appears to the Central Board of Revenue to correspond to the relief which may be granted by the section."

Amendment of section 49AA, Act XI of 1922.

12. In section 49AA of the said Act, after the word "Pakistan", wherever it occurs, the words "or the United Kingdom" shall be inserted.

CHAPTER III

AMENDMENT OF ACT XXI OF 1947

Note. — Sections 13, 14 and 15 are omitted as the amendments made thereby in sections 2 and 9 and Rule 2 of Sch. II of the Business Profits Tax Act, 1947 (XXI of 1947) have already been incorporated.

(3) In section 28, as so renumbered, sub-section (2) and the figure and brackets "(1)" in sub-section (1) shall be omitted.

Insertion of new heading and new sections 34 to 46C in Act IX of 1890.

3. After section 33, as renumbered by section 2, the following heading and sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"RAILWAY RATES TRIBUNAL

Constitution of the Tribunal.

34. (1) There shall be a Tribunal, called the Railway Rates Tribunal, for the purpose of discharging the functions hereinafter specified in this Chapter.

(2) The Tribunal shall consist of a President, and two other members, appointed by the Central Government; and they shall hold office for such periods and on such terms and conditions as the Central Government may, by general order, prescribe.

(3) A person shall not be qualified for appointment as a member of the Tribunal unless he is or has been, or is qualified for appointment as, a Judge of a High Court.

Constitution of panels of assessors.

35. (1) The Central Government shall constitute two panels of assessors namely, (a) the trade, industry and agriculture panel; and (b) the railway panel.

(2) The trade industry and agriculture panel shall consist of not more than sixty persons chosen by the Central Government; one-third of the number chosen shall represent trade, one third industry, and one-third agriculture, the representatives in each group being chosen after consulting such associations representing trade, industry or agriculture (as the case may be), as the Central Government may consider necessary.

(3) The railway panel shall consist of not more than thirty persons with railway experience, chosen by the Central Government.

(4) Any appointment to either panel shall be notified in the official Gazette; and the notification shall specify the term for which the appointment is made. The term shall not exceed two years, but the member shall be eligible for re-appointment after the expiry of his term.

Staff.

36. The Tribunal may, with the sanction of the Central Government, appoint such staff, and on such terms and conditions, as the Central Government may determine.

Headquarters.

37. The head-quarters of the Tribunal shall be at such place as the Central Government may fix.

Sittings of the Tribunal.

38. The Tribunal may sit at such place or places as it may find convenient for the transaction of business.

Jurisdiction.

39. For the purpose of exercising the jurisdiction conferred on it by this Chapter, the Tribunal may pass such interim and final orders as the circumstances may require, including orders for the payment, subject to the provisions of this Chapter, of costs; and it shall be the duty of the Central Government, the Provincial Government or the Government of an Acceding State (as the case may be) on whom any obligation is imposed by any such order, to carry it out.

Powers of the Tribunal.

40. The Tribunal shall have the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908), for the purposes of taking evidence on oath, enforcing the attendance of witnesses compelling the discovery and production of documents and issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses and shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for all the purposes of section 195 and Chapter XXXV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), and any reference to the presiding officer of a Court shall be deemed to include a reference to the President of the Tribunal.

Complaints against a railway administration.

41. (1) Any complaint against a railway administration, or jointly against two or more railway administrations, that such administration or administrations —

(a) is or are contravening the provisions of section 28; or

(b) is or are charging —

(i) unreasonable rates; or

(ii) rates which are unreasonable by reason of any condition attached to them regarding minimum weight, packing assumption of risk or any other matter; or

(c) is or are levying unreasonable charges excluding terminal charges which are, or may hereafter be, standardised; or

(d) is or are unreasonably refusing to quote a new station to station rate; or

(e) has or have unreasonably placed a commodity in a higher class shall be heard and decided by the Tribunal in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter.

(2) In the case of a complaint under clause (d) of sub-section (1), the Tribunal may fix a new station to station rate.

Power to alter rates or reclassify commodities.

42. (1) The Tribunal alone shall have power to reclassify any commodity in a higher class, but such power shall not be exercised except on the application of the Central Government.

(2) The Central Government alone shall have power —

(a) to increase or reduce the level of class rates, schedule rates and terminal and other charges;

(b) to classify any commodity which has not been classified before.

(3) The Tribunal as well as the Central Government shall have power to reclassify any commodity in a lower class.

Tribunal to decide matters with aid of assessors.

43. (1) All matters shall be decided by the Tribunal with the aid of assessors.

(2) Where, in the opinion of the President of the Tribunal, any matter prima facie appears to involve a question of principle, it shall be decided by a Full Bench consisting of the President and the other two members, with the aid of not less than four assessors, selected by the President in equal numbers from the trade, industry and agriculture panel and from the railway panel.

(3) All other matters may be decided by a single member of the Tribunal with the aid of not more than four assessors selected by the President of the Tribunal in equal numbers from the trade, industry and agriculture panel and from the railway panel:

Provided that the President may, in his discretion direct that any such matter shall be decided by the Full Bench:

Provided further that where a single member of the Tribunal hearing any matter considers that it involves a question of principle, he shall refer the matter to the President who shall direct that it shall be decided by the Full Bench in the manner referred to in sub-section (2).

(4) It shall be the duty of each assessor to advice the Tribunal and state his opinion on all questions arising in the matters before the Tribunal, but the Tribunal shall not be bound to act on the advice, or to conform to the opinion, of all or any of the assessors.

Procedure.

44. (1) With the approval of the Central Government, the Tribunal may make rules regarding its practice and procedure and generally for the effective discharge of its functions under this Chapter.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the preparation of panels of assessors :

(b) the terms and conditions of the appointment of assessors ;

(c) the award of costs by the Tribunal ;

(d) the reference of any question to a member or officer of the Tribunal or any other person appointed by the Tribunal, for report after holding a local inquiry ;

(e) the right of audience before the Tribunal, provided that any party shall be entitled to be heard in person, or by a representative duly authorised in writing, or by a legal practitioner ;

(f) the disposal by the Tribunal of any proceedings before it, notwithstanding that in the course thereof there has been a change in the persons sitting as members of the Tribunal or as assessors ;

(g) a scale of fees for and in connection with the proceedings before the Tribunal.

(3) The Central Government shall give to the Tribunal such assistance as it may require, and shall also place at its disposal any information in the possession of the Central Government which that Government may think relevant to the matter before the Tribunal.

(4) Any person duly authorised in this behalf by the Central Government shall be entitled to appear and be heard in any proceedings before the Tribunal.

(5) The Tribunal shall make annually a report to the Central Government of its proceedings under this Chapter.

Bar of jurisdiction of the Tribunal.

45. Nothing in this Chapter shall confer jurisdiction on the Tribunal in respect of scales of charges levied by a railway administration for the carriage of passengers and their luggage, parcels, military traffic and traffic in railway materials and stores, and demurrage charges, except on a reference made to the Tribunal by the Central Government.

Alteration and cancellation of certain station to station rates.

46. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter, a railway administration may, in respect of the carriage of any merchandise by goods train, —

(i) quote a new station to station rate ; or

(ii) increase or reduce an existing station to station rate, not being a station to station rate introduced in compliance with an order made by the Tribunal ; or

(iii) after due notice in the manner prescribed by the Central Government, cancel any station to station rate which has not been introduced in compliance with an order made by the Tribunal, unless the Tribunal has, after notice has been given as aforesaid, granted an injunction against such cancellation ; or

(iv) withdraw, alter or amend the conditions attached to a station to station rate other than conditions introduced in compliance with an order made by the Tribunal.

Decision of the Tribunal.

46A. The decision of the Tribunal shall be by a majority of the members sitting and shall be final :

Provided that where a single member of the Tribunal has heard and decided any matter, he may, in his discretion, give leave to any party to appeal to the Full Bench; and if an appeal is filed in pursuance of such leave, the decision of the Full Bench or of a majority of the members thereof, as the case may be, shall be final.

Execution of orders of the Tribunal.

46B. The Tribunal may transmit any order made by it to a Civil Court having local jurisdiction ; and such Civil Court shall execute the order as if it were a decree.

Definitions.

46C. In this Chapter, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "classification" means the grouping of commodities into classes as notified in the Indian Railway Conference Association's Goods Tariff and as in force at the commencement of the Indian Railways (Second Amendment) Act, 1948, for the purpose of determining the rate to be charged ;

[THE INDIAN] TELEGRAPH (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1948.
(ACT XLV OF 1948)

[3rd September, 1948.]

An Act to amend the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885 for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Indian Telegraph (Amendment) Act, 1948.

Amendment of section 1, Act XIII of 1885. 2. For sub-section (2) of section 1 of the Indian Telegragh Act, 1885 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(2) It extends to the whole of India."

Amendment of sections 4 and 20, Act XIII of 1885. 3. In sections 4 and 20 of the said Act, for the words "the Provinces" wherever they occur, the word "India" shall be substituted.

Insertion of new section in Act XIII of 1885. 4. After section 34 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

'Provincial Government' to include Government of an Acceding State.

"35. In the application of this Act to any Acceding State,—

(a) all references to a Provincial Government shall be construed as references to the Government of that Acceding State, and

(b) references to the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in section 20 and to the Indian Penal Code in section 31 shall be construed as references to the corresponding law for the time being in force in that Acceding State."

III.—UNREPEALED ORDINANCES.

(Ordinances made and promulgated during the period beginning with 27th June 1940 and ending with 31st March, 1946.)

Ordinances made by the Governor-General.— Under section 72, Schedule IX of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General may, in cases of emergency, make and promulgate ordinances. But any such ordinance shall only have force for not more than six months from its promulgation. But subject to this time limit, such an ordinance will have the same effect as an Act of the Indian Legislature. Although thus, there is a time limit for the legal life of an ordinance of the Governor-General issued under s. 72, as that section is to-day and was originally, yet, by virtue of the India and Burma (Emergency Provisions) Act, 1940 (3 and 4 Geo. VI, Ch. 33) the words in S. 72 limiting the duration of life of such ordinances ceased to have effect with regard to the ordinances made during the period beginning from the passing of the Act and expiring with the date which was notified as the end of the emergency which was the occasion for the passing of the Act. The date of the passing of the Act was 27-6-1940 and the date from which the emergency was notified to have ceased was 1-4-1946. So with regard to the ordinances made during this period, there was no time limit for their duration.

But under s. 72, Schedule IX, such ordinances cannot have a greater force or validity than an Act of the Central Legislature. Hence, under s. 102 (4) of the Government of India Act, 1935, with regard to subjects in the Provincial list in Schedule VII, the ordinances can have effect only if a Proclamation of Emergency by the Governor-General has been made and even then, the ordinances will cease to have effect on the expiration of 6 months after such Proclamation has ceased to operate. During the last War, such a Proclamation of Emergency was issued on 3-9-1939 and was revoked by a Proclamation of 1-4-1946. Hence, ordinances made by the Governor-General during this period, although dealing with subjects in the Provincial list, were valid for the duration of the period and thereafter up to the end of 6 months from 1-4-1946, i. e., up to the end of September 1946. After September 30, 1946, such ordinances, in so far as they dealt with subjects in the Provincial list, ceased to have any effect. A prominent instance of such an ordinance is the Hoarding and Profiteering Prevention Ordinance of 1943.

Ordinances not dealing with subjects in the Provincial list and made during the period between 27-6-1940 and 1-4-1946 are subject to no time limit as regards their existence and validity unless imposed by the ordinances themselves or other amending or repealing legislation whether by ordinance or otherwise.

There was felt some doubt about the effect of the amendment, above referred to, of S. 72, Schedule IX, Government of India Act. It was thought in some quarters that the effect of the amendment would only be to give life to the ordinances during the emergency which occasioned the amendment and the ordinances would cease to have effect on the declaration of the end of the emergency on 1-4-1946. But this view does not accord with actual words employed in the amending statute and, further, has been authoritatively repudiated by the Federal Court (see A. I. R. (34) 1947 F. C. 38).

Hence, we are giving such of the ordinances passed during the above period as do not deal with subjects in the Provincial list and as have not otherwise expired or been repealed .

[THE] ACTIVE SERVICE ORDINANCE, 1941.

(Ordinance No. X of 1941)[a]

[6th December, 1941]

An Ordinance to declare that certain persons shall be deemed to be on active service for the purposes of the Army Act, the Air Force Act, the Indian Army Act, 1911 and the Indian Air Force Act, 1932.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to declare that certain persons shall be deemed to be on active service for the purposes of the Army Act, the Air Force Act, the Indian Army Act, 1911, and the Indian Air Force Act, 1932;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a.] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 6th December 1941.

Saving as to past proceedings.

3. No punishment inflicted, and no order passed or other action taken in any proceedings held, under any of the Acts specified in section 2 shall, after the commencement of this Ordinance, be called in question in any Court on the ground only that the person on whom the punishment was inflicted or to whose prejudice the order was passed or the action was taken was not on active service, if—

(a) the act for which the punishment was inflicted, or in respect of which the proceedings were commenced, occurred on or after the 3rd day of September, 1939, and

(b) such person at the time the act was committed, formed part of, or was employed by, or was in the service of, or was a follower of, or accompanied any portion of, His Majesty's Forces.

Section 1 — Note 1

[1] By virtue of S. 1 (2) read with S. 2 of this Ordinance military store-keepers engaged by the Army authorities during the continuation of the hostilities must be regarded as on active service and can be tried by the Court-martial. [THE] ALLIED FORCES (CHINA) ORDINANCE, 1946.

(ORDINANCE NO. VIII OF 1946)[a]

[19th January, 1946.]

An Ordinance to make certain provisions respecting the forces of the Republic of China in British India.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary, in order to give effect in British India to an agreement (hereinafter referred to as the said Agreement) entered into between His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom and the Government of India and the Government of the Republic of China, relating to jurisdiction over members of the forces of those Governments, to make certain provisions respecting the forces of the Republic of China in British India;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 19th January, 1946.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Allied Forces (China) Ordinance, 1946.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance the expression "members of the Chinese forces" has the meaning assigned to it in clause (b) of paragraph (1) of Article 1 of the said Agreement, and set out in the Schedule to this Ordinance.

Bar of criminal proceedings in British Indian Courts.

3. (1) Notwithstanding anything in section 12 of the Allied Forces Ordinance, 1942, or elsewhere in any law in force in British India, no criminal proceedings shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be prosecuted or continued in British India before any Court of British India against members of the Chinese forces and any such proceedings pending at the commencement of this Ordinance shall be discharged, unless representation to a contrary effect is made under the proviso to this sub-section in respect of any such pending proceedings:

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply to any particular case in respect of which representation to such effect is made in writing on behalf of the Government of the Republic of China to the Commissioner of Police in a Presidency-town, or to the District Magistrate elsewhere.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall affect any powers of arrest, search, entry or custody exercisable under the law in force in British India with respect to offences committed or believed to have been committed against that law, but where a person against whom proceedings cannot, by virtue of that sub-section, be prosecuted or continued before a Court of British India is in the custody of any authority of British India, he shall be delivered into the custody of the appropriate authorities of the forces of which he is a member:

Provided that the powers of arrest, search and entry saved by this sub-section shall not be exercised on or in respect of any premises or ship for the time being occupied exclusively by members of the Chinese forces, except with the permission of the officer commanding or person in charge of the forces occupying such premises or ship.

Arrest of persons charged with offences against Chinese law.

4. On application made by or under the authority of the officer commanding or other person in charge of any members of the Chinese forces to a magistrate in British India for the arrest of any such member alleged to have been guilty of an offence against the law of the Republic of China, the magistrate may issue a warrant for the arrest of such member, and such warrant may direct his delivery when so arrested into the custody of the appropriate authorities of the forces of which he is a member.

Proof of identity as member of Chinese forces.

5. For the purposes of any proceedings in any Court of British India, a certificate issued by an officer of the Chinese military forces of rank not below that of Major or an officer of the Chinese naval or air forces of rank not below that corresponding to Major stating that a person of the name and description specified therein is, or was at the time so specified, a member of the Chinese forces, shall be conclusive evidence of that fact, and any document purporting to be a certificate issued for the purposes of this section and to be signed by an officer as aforesaid shall, unless the contrary is proved, be deemed to be a certificate issued by such officer.

Bar of legal proceedings.

6. Nothing contained in this Ordinance shall render any person subject to any liability whether civil or criminal in respect of anything done by him to a member of the Chinese forces in good faith and without knowledge that he was a member of the Chinese forces.

Termination of Ordinance.

7. On the termination of the said Agreement in pursuance of any notice given under paragraph (2) of Article 9 thereof, the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare that with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification this Ordinance shall cease to be in operation, and upon the issue of such notification this Ordinance shall be deemed to be repealed on the date so specified.

THE SCHEDULE.

'Article 1.—(1) In this Agreement the expression . . .

(b) "members of the Chineses forces" means every uniformed person, holding a rank in the naval, military or air forces, maintained by the Government of the Republic of China, who is, in respect of the duties which he performs in India or Burma, under the orders of the commander or any Chinese naval, military or air force in India or Burma. It includes uniformed members (i) of political and civil staffs attached to the Chinese forces, (ii) of the women's forces auxiliary to the said forces, (iii) of the nursing staffs, male and female, (iv) of the staff of the Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes, (v) of guerilla units auxiliary to the Chinese forces which operate under the command of a commander of the Chinese forces and which are subject to Chinese military law. It does not include British nationals employed by or accompanying the Chinese forces but not enlisted or commissioned in the Chinese forces; nor does it include nationals of third powers or persons without nationality who may be recruited in India or Burma for employment with the Chinese forces. The expression also includes members of the crews (other than British subjects or British protected persons) of merchant ships belonging to or chartered or requisitioned by or on behalf of the Government of the Republic of China, which are operating in conjunction with the Chinese naval authorities."

[THE] ARMED FORCES (SPECIAL POWERS) ORDINANCE, 1942.

(Ordinance No. XLI of 1942.)[a]

[15th August, 1942.]

An Ordinance to confer certain special powers upon certain officers of the armed forces.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to confer certain special powers upon certain officers of the armed forces;

Now, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 15th August, 1942.

Applied to British Baluchistan, see Notification No. 80-W, dated 20-8-1942, Gazette of India, 1942, Part I, page 1385 ; to the Darjeeling District and the partially excluded areas of the Mymensingh District with effect from 15-10-1942, see Bengal Government Notification No. 20215-P dated 8-10-1942 ; sections 2-4 applied to members of the Armed Reserves, Special Emergency Forces, Vizianagram and Pallavaram and the Malabar Special Police, see Madras Government Notification No. 226—Home, dated 29-1-1943. This Ordinance is amended by Ordinance No. 36 of 1945. See also Ordinance No. 66 of 1942.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Ordinance, 1942.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Power to certain officers of armed forces to order use of force in certain circumstances.

[a]2. (1) Any officer not below the rank of Captain in His Majesty's Military Forces and any officer holding equivalent rank either in His Majesty's Naval or Air Forces or in the forces of a foreign power allied with His Majesty or in the forces of a foreign authority recognised by His Majesty as competent to maintain armed forces for service in association with His Majesty's forces or in the military forces of an Indian State serving in association with any such forces as aforesaid may, if in his opinion it is necessary for the proper performance of his duty so to do, by general or special order in writing, require any personnel under his command to use such force as may be necessary, even to the causing of death, against any person who —

(a) fails to halt when challenged by a sentry, or

(b) does, attempts to do, or appears to be about to do or attempt to do, any such act as would endanger or damage any property of any description whatsoever which it is the duty of such officer to protect ;

and it shall be lawful for such personnel, when so ordered, to use such force against such person.

(2) The use of force against any person in obedience to an order under sub-section (1) shall include the power to arrest and take into custody such person, and the use of such force as may be necessary, even to the causing of death, in order to effect such arrest.

[a] See the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Extension Ordinance, 1942 (66 [LXVI] of 1942), S. 2. [24-12-1942.]

Arrested persons to be made over to appropriate authority.

[a][3. Any person arrested and taken into custody under this Ordinance shall, as soon as practicable, be made over, together with a report of the circumstances occasioning the arrest, to the officer in charge of the nearest police station, or where the said person is a person subject to military law, to the appropriate military officer.]

[a] Section 3 was substituted for the original section 3, by the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Amendment Ordinance, 1945 (36 [XXXVI] of 1945), S. 2. [18-9-1945.]

Protection to persons acting under this Ordinance.

[a]4. No prosecution, suit or other legal proceedings for any order purporting to be made under this ordinance or for any act purporting to be done in obedience to any such order shall be instituted in any court except with the previous sanction of the Central Government, and notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, no person purporting in good faith to make such an order or to do any act in obedience thereto shall, whatever consequences ensue, be liable therefor.

[a] See the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Extension Ordinance, 1942 (66 [LXVI] of 1942), S. 2. [24-12-1942].

[THE] ARMED FORCES (SPECIAL POWERS) EXTENSION ORDINANCE, 1942.

(Ordinance No. LXVI of 1942.)[a]

[24th December, 1942]

An Ordinance to provide for the extension of the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Ordinance 1942, to officers and members of police forces employed on certain duties.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the extension of the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Ordinance, 1942 (XLI of 1942), to officers and members of police forces employed on certain duties;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 24th December 1942.

This Ordinance is applied to the Chittagong Hill tracts, with effect from 28th January 1943, see Bengal Government Notification No. 273-S, dated the 22nd January 1943.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Extension Ordinance, 1942.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Power to extend Ord. XLI of 1942 to police forces.

2. The Central Government or a Provincial Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, direct that the provisions of section 2 and section 4 of the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Ordinance, 1942[a], shall apply to the officers and members of any police force or any portion of a police force specified in the notification, when employed on any duty specified in the notification, as they apply to officers and members of His Majesty's Military Forces; and on such direction being made the powers exercisable by an officer not below the rank of Captain in His Majesty's Military Forces shall be exercisable by any officer of a police force so specified who holds a gazetted appointment in such force.

[THE] ARMY (FORFEITURE OF EMOLUMENTS) ORDINANCE, 1945.

(Ordinance No. XL of 1945.)[a]

[27th October, 1945]

An Ordinance to provide for the forfeiture in certain cases not provided for by the Army Act of pay and allowances of certain persons subject to that Act.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the forfeiture in certain cases not provided for by the Army Act[b] of pay and allowances of certain persons subject to that Act;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935 the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 27th October 1945. The Ordinance is amended by Ordinance No. 13 of 1946. [b] (1881) 44 & 45 Vict., C. 58.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Army (Forfeiture of Emoluments) Ordinance, 1945.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Forfeiture of emoluments in certain cases.

2. (1) The whole or any part of the pay and allowances of a person subject to the Army Act,[a] [b] ✠ ✠ ✠ may be forfeited by order of the Central Government if the said person is found by a military Court of Enquiry constituted under this Ordinance.

(a) to have deserted to the enemy, or

(b) while in enemy hands, to have served with, or under the orders of the enemy, or in any manner to have aided the enemy, or

(c) to have allowed himself to be taken prisoner by the enemy through want of due precaution, or through disobedience of orders or wilful neglect of duty, or,

(d) having been taken prisoner by the enemy, to have failed to rejoin His Majesty's service when it was possible to do so.

(2) The Central Government may at any time cancel in whole or in part any order made under sub-section (1), and any such cancellation may be with retrospective effect.

[a] (1881) 44 & 45 Vict., C. 58. [b] The words "as an officer" were omitted by the Army (Forfeiture of Emoluments) Amendment Ordinance, 1946 (15 [XIII] of 1946), S. 2. [30-3-1946].

Courts of Enquiry.

3. The Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Forces in India or any officer authorised by him in this behalf may constitute a military Court of such composition as the constituting authority thinks fit to enquire into and report to the Central Government on any case of the nature referred to in sub-section (1) of section 2.

Power to withhold emoluments pending enquiry.

4. Where the conduct of any person is to be enquired into under this Ordinance, the Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Forces in India or any officer authorised by him in this behalf may order that the whole or any part of the pay and allowances of such person shall be withheld pending the orders of the Central Government on the report made on the case under section 3.

[THE] ARMY (PROVISION FOR DEPENDANTS) ORDINANCE, 1944.

(ORDINANCE NO. XXX OF 1944)[a]

[1st July, 1944.]

An Ordinance to enable provision to be made for the dependants of certain persons subject to the Army Act or the Indian Army Act, 1911.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to enable provision to be made in certain cases for dependants of certain persons subject to the Army Act[b] and of persons subject to the Indian Army Act, 1911.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance —

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 1st July 1944. The Ordinance has been partly repealed by Ordinance No. 1 of 1946. [b] (1881) 44 and 45 Vict., C. 58.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Army (Provision for Dependants) Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Power to make provision for dependants of certain persons subject to the Army Act.

2. (1) In the case of all persons subject to the Army Act[a] whose pay and allowances are paid by and on the authority of the Central Government, it shall be lawful, notwithstanding any provision in any other enactment or any rule of law to the contrary, for proper provision to be made by such authorities as the Central Government may authorise in this behalf for any dependants of any such person as aforesaid who is a prisoner of war or missing, out if his pay and allowances.

(2) Any payments made before the commencement of this Ordinance to dependants which, if this section had been in force could have been validly made are hereby validated.

Insertion of new section 52B in Act VIII of 1911. 3. [Repealed by the Repealing Ordinance, 1946 (1 [I] of 1946), S. 2 and Schedule (5-1-1946).]

[THE] BANK NOTES (DECLARATION OF HOLDINGS) ORDINANCE, 1946. (ORDINANCE No. II of 1946)[a]

[12th January, 1946.]

An Ordinance to require banks and Government treasuries to furnish information concerning certain bank notes held by them.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for obtaining from banks and Government treasuries information concerning bank notes of certain denominational values held by them:

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance;—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 12th January 1946.

Short title, extent and commencement. 1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Bank Notes (Declaration of Holdings) Ordinance, 1946.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation. 2. In this Ordinance,—

(a) "bank" means a banking company as defined in section 277F of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, and includes any branch of a bank;

(b) "bank note" includes all currency notes of the Government of India issued either by the Central Government or by the Reserve Bank;

(c) "Reserve Bank" means the Reserve Bank of India.

Closing of banks and Government treasuries. 3. All banks and Government treasuries shall be closed on the 12th day of January 1946 for the transaction of all business except the preparation and presentation of the first return referred to in section 4, and that day shall for the purposes of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 be deemed to be a public holiday notified under that Act.

Declaration of holding of certain bank notes. 4. (1) Every bank and every Government treasury shall prepare and send to the Reserve Bank in the manner provided in this section—

(i) a first return showing separately under each denominational value the total value of bank notes of the denominational values of one hundred rupees, five hundred rupees, one thousand rupees and ten thousand rupees held by it at the close of business on the 11th day of January 1946, and

(ii) a second return giving details of such bank notes, if any, received by it by post in the ordinary course of business on or after the 12th day of January 1946 which appear to have been posted on or before the 11th day of January 1946, together with in each case the name and address of the sender, the post office of despatch and the registration number affixed by that post office to the cover containing the notes, and if no such bank notes are received as aforesaid, it shall be stated accordingly in the second return.

(2) Every such return shall be presented for forwarding to the reserve Bank to the manager of a branch of the Reserve Bank, or to the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate, or if such Manager or Magistrate is not available, to the seniormost revenue or police officer available, in the case of the first return not later than 3 p. m., on the 12th day of January 1946, and in the case of the second return not later than the 16th day of January 1946;

Provided that if it is not convenient to present the first return to any such person as aforesaid, it may be presented by handing two copies thereof not later than 3 p.m. on the 12th day of January 1946 to a telegraph office, one copy for despatch by express telegram to the Reserve Bank at Bombay at the expense of the bank or Government treasury, as the case may be, and the other copy for return to the person presenting it in the manner provided in sub-section (4), and by despatching the third copy required by sub-section (3) by registered post on the same date to the Reserve Bank at Bombay.

(3) Every such return shall be prepared and presented in triplicate, and shall be signed by the manager of the Bank or the officer in charge of the Government treasury, as the case may be.

(4) The officer to whom a return is presented shall give back to the person presenting it one copy thereof in acknowledgment of receipt on which shall be recorded the time and date of receipt, and such officer shall without delay forward one copy of the return to the Reserve Bank at Bombay.

Powers of inspection. 5. (1) In order to verify any return made under section 4 or where any bank fails to present any such return in the manner provided by that section, the Central Government may, by general or special order, authorise any person to inspect the books, accounts and other documents of any bank, and it shall be the duty of the manager or other officer of the bank to produce to any person so authorised all such books, accounts and other documents in his custody or power relating to the bank's holdings of bank notes at all times between the 11th and 16th days, both inclusive, of January 1946, as the person so authorised may require of him.

(2) Any person making an inspection under sub-section (1) may examine on oath any manager or other officer of the bank in relation to the bank's holdings of bank notes as aforesaid, and may administer an oath accordingly.

Penalties. [a]6. (1) If any bank fails to prepare and present in the manner provided by section 4 any return referred to in that section, or presents any such return which is false in any material particular, the manager of the bank shall, unless he proves that the failure took place or the false return was presented without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent the same, be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

(2) If any person refuses to produce any book, account or other document which under section 5 it is his duty to produce or to answer any question relating to the matters referred to in that section, he shall be punishable with a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees in respect of each offence.

(3) No prosecution for an offence punishable under this section shall be instituted except with the previous sanction of tha Central Government.

(ORDINANCE NO. IV OF 1946)[a]

[15th January, 1946.]

An Ordinance to enable inspection of the affairs of banking companies to be made in certain circumstances.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make provision to enable inspection of the affairs of banking companies to be made in certain circumstances ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 15th January, 1946.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Banking Companies (Inspection) Ordinance, 1946.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance,—

(a) "banking company" means a banking company as defined in section 277F of the Indian Companies Act, 1913 ;

(b) "Reserve Bank" means the Reserve Bank of India.

Power to order inspection.

3. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in section 138 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, the Central Government may at any time direct the Reserve Bank to cause an inspection to be made of any banking company and its books and accounts, and to make a report thereon to the Central Government.

Inspection of books and examination of officers.

4. (1) On receipt of a direction under section 3, the Reserve Bank may authorise one or more competent persons to make the inspection as aforesaid, and it shall be the duty of every director or other officer of the banking company to produce to any person so authorised all such books, accounts and other documents in his custody or power relating to the affairs of the banking company as the person so authorised may require of him.

(2) Any person making an inspection under sub-section (1) may examine on oath any director or other officer of the banking company in relation to its business, and may administer an oath accordingly.

(3) If any person refuses to produce any book, account or other document which under this section it is his duty to produce, or to answer any question relating to the business of the banking company, he shall be liable to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees in respect of each offence, and if he persists in such refusal, to a further fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day during which the offence continues.

Powers of Central Government on receipt of report.

5. (1) If after consideration of the report of the Reserve Bank under section 3, the Central Government is of opinion that the affairs of a banking company are being conducted to the detriment of the interest of its depositors, the Central Government may—

(a) by order in writing prohibit the banking company from receiving fresh deposits, or

(b) notwithstanding anything contained in sub section (6) of section 42 of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, refuse to direct the inclusion of the banking company in the Second Schedule to that Act, or if the banking company is included therein, by notification in the official Gazette direct its exclusion from that Schedule:

Provided that the Central Government may cancel or modify any order passed under this sub-section upon such terms and conditions as it may think fit to impose.

(2) If any deposits are received by a banking company in contravention of an order under clause (a) of sub-section (1), every director or other officer of the banking company, unless he proves that the contravention took place without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent it, shall be deemed to be guilty of such contravention and shall be punishable with a fine which may extend to twice the amount of the deposits so received.

Publication of reports.

6. The Central Government may, after giving reasonable notice to the banking company concerned, publish any report of the Reserve Bank under section 3 or such portion thereof as may appear necessary to the Central Government.

[THE] BOMBAY EXPLOSION (COMPENSATION) ORDINANCE, 1944.

(ORDINANCE NO. XXXII OF 1944.)[a]

An Ordinance to provide for and regulate the payment of compensation in respect of the explosions and fires in Bombay on the 14th April 1944.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for and regulate the payment of compensation for death and permanent personal disablement and damage to property due to or arising out of the explosions and fires which occurred in the Bombay Docks on the 14th April 1944, to restrict litigation in connection with the said explosions and fires, and to make certain other provision in connection therewith;

NOW THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by S. 72 of the Government of India Act as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 1st July 1944.

The Ordinance has been amended by Ordinance No. 51 of 1944.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Bomay Explosion (Compensation) Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "the explosion" means the explosions which occurred in the Bombay Docks on the 14th April 1944 and and the fires which ensued therefrom ;

(b) "explosion damage" and "explosion injury" mean respectively damage which occurred, whether accidentally or not, and personal injury sustained, as the direct result of the explosion or as the direct result of measures taken under proper authority to avoid the spreading of, or otherwise to mitigate the consequences of such damage as aforesaid ;

(c) "scheduled explosion injury" means an explosion injury resulting in any such measure of permanent disablement as is described in the First Schedule;

(d) "total disablement" means such disablement as permanently incapacitates a person for all work which he was capable of performing at the time when he sustained the injury resulting in such disablement, and includes the permanent loss of the sight of both eyes or the combination of any two or more of the disablements described in Part II of the First Schedule where the aggregate of the percentages specified in that Part against the disablements involved amounts to or exceeds one hundred;

(e) "dependant" has the same meaning in relation to a person whose death resulted from the explosion or an explosion injury as it has in relation to a deceased workman under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 (VIII of 1923);

(f) "uninsured property" means property which was not covered whether wholly or partially by any policy of fire, marine or miscellaneous insurance at the time of the explosion :

Explanation.—A policy of insurance issued under the War Risks (Goods) Insurance Ordinance, 1940, or under the War Risks (Factories) Insurance Ordinance, 1942 is not a policy of insurance within the meaning of this clause.

(g) "proved loss" in relation to any uninsured property means the difference as assessed by the enquiring Claims Commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and the rules made thereunder, between the value of the property immediately before the explosion and its value immediately after the explosion;

(h) "miscellaneous insurance" means any kind of insurance which is not in the opinion of the Central Government life, fire or marine insurance;

(i) "prescribed" means prescribed by the rules made under this Ordinance;

(j) "Schedule" means a Schedule to this Ordinance;

(k) "Chairman" means the Chairman of the Claims Committee.

Claims Committee.

3. For the purposes of enquiring into and determining applications for compensation under section 14, the Central Government shall appoint a Claims Committee consisting of not more than twenty persons, of whom one shall be nominated by the Central Government to be Chairman.

Claims Commissioners.

4. For the purposes of enquiring into and determining applications for compensation under section 11 or section 16, the Central Government shall appoint such number of Claims Commissioners as it may from time to time think fit to have jurisdiction in regard to such class of applications as the Central Government may specify.

Applications for compensation.

5. (1) Any person claiming compensation under this Ordinance shall make an application in such one of Forms A, B, C, D and E set out in the Second Schedule as may be applicable to his case not later than the [a][30th day of November] 1944.

(a) to the Chairman of the Claims Committee, where the compensation is payable under section 14, or

(b) to an appropriate Claims Commissioner, in all other cases.

[b][Provided that the Central Government may, if it is satisfied that there was reasonable excuse for the delay, direct that an application made after the said date but not later than the 31st day of October, 1945, shall be enquired into and determined under this Ordinance.]

(2) Save as hereinafter provided, an application for compensation under this Ordinance shall be made, in respect of compensation payable—

(i) under section 11, by the person sustaining the scheduled explosion injury ;

(ii) under section 14, by the holder of the policy of insurance ;

(iii) under section 16, by the owner of the damaged property :

Provided that—

(a) where death has resulted from the explosion or an explosion injury, the application may be made by any dependant of the deceased, or with the permission of the Claims Commissioner by any other near relative of the deceased, and where in such a case applications are received from more than one person, they shall be enquired into and determined together ;

(b) where a scheduled explosion injury has been sustained by a minor, the application shall be made by his guardian ;

(c) in respect of claims for compensation payable under section 16 for explosion damage to household and personal effects, only one application shall be entertained in respect of the effects of one household and the personal effects of all persons of that household, and that application shall be made by the householder.

(3) Where under sub-section (2) a person may make an application for compensation under this Ordinance, such application may be made on his behalf by his duly accredited representative.

(4) If any person makes in an application for compensation under this Ordinance any statement which is false, and which he either knows or believes to be false or does not believe to be true, he shall be punishable on conviction with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

[a] Substituted for "31st day of October" by the Bombay Explosion (Compensation) Amendment Ordinance, 1944 (51 [LI] of 1944), S. 2. [25-10-1944].

[b] Proviso to sub-section (1) was added, ibid.

Procedure and powers of Claims Committee.

6. (1) Applications for compensation payable under section 14 shall be determined by the Claims Committee after summary enquiry by panels nominated from among members of the Claims Committee by the Chairman in such manner as the Chairman may think fit.

(2) In carrying out their functions under this Ordinance the Claims Committee and panels thereof shall, subject to the provisions of any rules made by the Central Government in this behalf, follow such procedure as the Chairman may by general or special order direct ; and in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power of the Chairman, such orders may determine the number of members to form a panel for the purposes of sub-section (1) and the quorum of the Claims Committee.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law, the Claims Committee or any panel thereof shall not be bound to hear any applicant under this Ordinance or to receive any evidence which he may wish to adduce, nor shall it be bound to divulge to any applicant any reasons for any determination or recommendation, as the case may be, made by it.

Procedure and powers of Claims Commissioners.

7. (1) In enquiring into and determining applications for compensation payable under section 11 or section 16, Claims Commissioners shall, subject to the provisions of any rules made by the Central Government in this behalf follow such summary procedure as they may think fit.

(2) Claims Commissioners shall have all the powers of Civil Courts for the purposes of receiving evidence, administering oaths, enforcing the attendance of witnesses, and compelling the discovery and production of documents, and shall be deemed to be Civil Courts within the meaning of sections 480 and 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

(3) In order to ascertain in any case whether—

(a) any person in respect of whom an application for compensation payable under section 11 has been made was at the time of the explosion insured against personal injury, or the Claims Commissioner, may by order in writing require any insurer to disclose to him particulars of any such insurance as aforesaid within such time as may be specified in the order : and if any person fails to comply with such order or in complying therewith gives any false information, he shall be punishable on conviction with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine or with both.

(b) any property in respect of which an application for compensation payable under section 16 has been made was at the time of the explosion covered whether wholly or partially by any policy of fire, marine or miscellaneous insurance —

Decisions.

8 (1) Subject to the provisions of section 10, every decision of the Claims Committee shall be final and shall not be called in question in any Court.

(2) Subject to the provisions of section 10, every decision of a Claims Commissioner—

(a) as to whether compensation is payable under section 11 or section 16, and if so, as to its amount,

(b) as to the apportionment of compensation payable under section 11 in respect of death resulting from the explosion or an explosion injury,

(c) where the title to receive compensation under section 16 is in dispute, and the amount of compensation determined does not exceed 5,000 rupees as to whom the compensation shall be paid,— shall be final and shall not be called in question in any Court.

(3) Where the title to receive compensation under section 16 is in dispute and the amount of compensation determined exceeds five thousand rupees, the Claims Commissioner shall record the amount of compensation determined and shall refer the disputing parties to the Civil Court : and no interest shall be payable by the Central Government on any amount the title to which is in dispute as aforesaid.

Payment of Compensation.

9. (1) Upon determining an application for compensation under this Ordinance the Claims Committee or the Claims Commissioner, as the case may be, shall, except where the Claims Commissioner refers disputing parties to the Civil Court under sub-section (3) of section 8, issue a payment order in the prescribed form :

Provided that where in the opinion of the Claims Commissioner any other compensation in respect of a schedule explosion injury or in respect of death resulting from the explosion or an explosion injury is recoverable from any source such as is referred to in the first proviso to sub-section (1) of section 11, and where at the time of making his determination under this Ordinance, the amount of such other compensation has not been determined and cannot be predicted by the Claims Commissioner, he may, if he thinks fit, issue a provisional payment order for an amount not exceeding the amount which he estimates to be payable under section 11 after the reduction referred to in the said proviso has been made.

(2) No person shall be entitled to receive any compensation under this Ordinance until he has duly completed and signed a document in the form set out in the Third Schedule.

(3) Where any compensation has been paid under this Ordinance for any death resulting from the explosion or an explosion injury or for any schedule explosion injury or for any explosion damage to property, no other application for compensation shall except as provided in the second proviso to sub-section (1) of section 11, be entertained under this Ordinance in respect of the death, injury or damage for which compensation has been so paid :

Provided that nothing in this Ordinance shall affect the rights of any person against the person to whom the payment as aforesaid has been made.

Appeal and review.

10. (1) The Claims Committee may refer for the decision of the Central Government any application for compensation payable under section 14 which involves any point of special difficulty.

(2) Any person aggrieved by any decision of the Claims Committee or of a Claims Commissioner, other than a decision referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 8 or referring disputing parties to the Civil Court under sub section (3) of that section, may within ninety days from the date of the decision (or within such further period as the Central Government may in any case think fit to allow) appeal to the Central Government against such decision.

(3) The Central Government may of its own motion at any time within six months after the date of any decision of the Claims Committee or a Claims Commissioner call for the record relating to any application for compensation under this Ordinance, and may upon an appeal under sub-section (2) or on calling for the record under this sub-section modify any such decision, other than a decision excepted in sub-section (2), in such manner as it thinks fit :

Provided that no such modification prejudicial to the applicant shall be made unless he has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(4) Every decision of the Central Government under this section shall be final and shall not be called in question in any Court, nor shall the Central Government be bound to record any reasons for any such decision.

Amount of compensation for death or injury.

11. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, there shall be paid by the Central Government compensation for any schedule explosion injury or for death resulting from the explosion or an explosion injury at the rates set out in the First Schedule :

Provided that where any compensation (by whatever name called) for such injury or death is otherwise recoverable under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, or under any policy against personal accident or under any other contract or scheme providing for the payment of compensation for death or accident, the amount of compensation determined in accordance with the said rates shall be reduced by the amount of compensation otherwise recoverable as aforesaid or where such other compensation is payable wholly or in part by instalments over an unspecified period, by the value of such other compensation commuted in such manner as may be prescribed :

Provided further that where there has been paid as compensation for a schedule explosion injury under this section an amount which is less than the amount which would have been payable as compensation for the injured person's death due to the explosion or an explosion injury and that person subsequently dies as a result of his explosion injuries, there shall be payable by the Central Government upon application being made under section 5 in this behalf and in accordance with the provisions of sub section (1) of section 12 as further compensation in respect of such person an amount equal to the difference between the amount payable under this section as compensation for his death and the amount already paid in respect of a schedule explosion injury sustained by him.

(2) Nothing in this section shall apply to any servant of the Crown or of the Trustees of the Port of Bombay or of the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay.

Compensation for death or injury to whom payable.

12. (1) Payment of compensation under this Ordinance for death resulting from the explosion or an explosion injury shall be apportioned in such manner among the dependants of the deceased or any one or more of them as the Claims Commissioner thinks fit, or if there are no dependants of the deceased among such of his relatives and in such proportions as the Claims Commissioner thinks fit.

(2) Save that payment of compensation for a scheduled explosion injury sustained by a minor shall be paid to the guardian of the minor, payment of compensation for a scheduled explosion injury shall be paid to the person by whom it is sustained.

Bases of determination of proved loss.

13. (1) In determining the amount of proved loss of any property for the purposes of an application for compensation payable under section 14, the practice and principles normally prevailing in the insurance business shall, so far as may be, be followed, and in particular the proved loss shall in no case be taken to exceed the value of the damaged property declared for the purposes of the policy of insurance.

(2) In determining the amount of the proved loss of uninsured property for the purposes of this Ordinance, the Claims Commissioner shall assess the value immediately before and immediately after the explosion —

(a) of immovable property, on the basis of prices prevailing on the 31st day of March, 1939;

(b) of motor vehicles, on the basis of the prices and principles set out in the Used Motor Vehicles Control Order, 1944;

(c) of other movable property, on the basis of prices prevailing on the 14th day of April 1944.

Compensation for explosion damage to insured property.

14. Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, there shall be paid by the Central Government compensation for explosion damage to property, being—

(a) damage caused by fire to property insured whether wholly or partially at the time of the explosion against fire under a policy (other than a policy of marine insurance) covering fire risk, or damage caused by blast without fire intervening to property insured whether wholly or partially at the time of the explosion under a policy (other than a policy of marine insurance) covering fire and explosion risks, of an amount equal to the proved loss, or

(b) damage caused by blast without fire intervening to property insured whether wholly or partially at the time of the explosion against fire under a policy (other than a policy of marine insurance) covering fire risk but not explosion risk, of an amount equal to 87½ per centum of the proved loss, to the holder of the policy of insurance covering the damaged property, or if he is deceased, to his legal representatives.

Contribution by insurers.

15. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Companies Act, 1913, or in the memorandum of association or articles of association of any company or in any other instrument, the insurer of any property, for explosion damage to which compensation is paid under S. 14, may pay from his assets in such manner and at such times as may be prescribed to and for the purposes of the Central Government a contribution of such an amount as may be agreed.

Compensation for explosion damage to uninsured property.

16. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance there shall be paid by the Central Government compensation for explosion damage to uninsured property at the following rates, namely —

(a) In the case of immovable property, an amount equal to 75 per centum of the proved loss.

(b) In the case of motor vehicles, an amount equal to 75 per centum of the proved loss.

(c) In the case of household and personal effects, an amount (subject to a maximum of five thousand rupees in all for the effects of one household and the personal effects of all persons of that household) payable to the householder, equal to:—

(i) the proved loss where the proved loss in respect of all the effects of the household and the personal effects of all persons of the household does not exceed two thousand rupees, or

(ii) two thousand rupees plus 75 per centum of the amount by which such proved loss exceeds two thousand rupees, in other cases.

(d) In the case of stock-in-trade and merchandise, an amount (subject to a maximum of fifteen thousand rupees in all for the stock-in-trade and merchandise of any one business) equal to —

(i) the proved loss, where the proved loss in respect of the business does not exceed five thousand rupees, or

(ii) five thousand rupees plus 75 per centum of the amount by which such proved loss exceeds five thousand rupees, in other cases.

(2) Save as provided in clause (c) of sub-section (1), compensation under this section shall be paid to the owner of the damaged property, or if the said owner (or the householder in respect of damage to household and personal effects) is deceased, to his legel representatives.

No compensation payable in certain cases.

17. Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Ordinance, no compensation shall be payable on explosion damage to any property being—

(a) Property—

(i) the possession of which required to be declared, or

(ii) in respect of stocks of which returns are required to be made, or

(iii) for the possession, use or sale of which any licence is required to be obtained,

(ORDINANCE NO. V OF 1945)[a]

[30th January 1945.]

An Ordinance to provide for the exemption of certain goods from payment of taxes imposed by local authorities.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the exemption of the goods hereinafter referred to from payment of taxes imposed by local authorities ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 30th January 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This ordinance may be called the Canteen Stores (Exemption from Local Taxation) Ordinance, 1945.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Exemption of certain goods from local taxation.

2. Notwithstanding anything contained in any enactment for the time being in force no tax, duty, cess, toll, due or other impost, however, named imposed by a Municipal Committee, Cantonment Board, or any other local authority whatever shall be payable in respect of any goods, including alcoholic liquors for human consumption and tobacco, which—

(a) are the property of, or consigned or under transport for ultimate delivery to, the Canteen Stores Department, the Indian Red Cross Society or the St. John Ambulance Association, or

(b) have been issued from the Canteen Stores Department for sale to members of the Armed Forces, to contractors authorised to purchase stores from that Department for such sale.

[THE] CIVILIAN PERSONNEL (WAR DEPARTMENT) TRANSFER ORDINANCE, 1944.

(ORDINANCE No. XXXVII OF 1944.)[a]

[19th August, 1944.]

An Ordinance to provide for the transfer from one corps, department, establishment, formation or appointment to another of civilian personnel employed under the War Department of the Central Government.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the transfer from one corps, department, establishment, formation or appointment to another of civil personnel employed under the War Department of the Central Government ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 19th August 1944.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This ordinance may be called the Civilian Personnel (War Department) Transfer Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and applies also to British subjects and servants of the Crown in any part of India wherever they may be.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance,—

(a) "competent authority" means any person designated by the Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Forces in India in this behalf ;

(b) "contract of service" includes, in relation to any person, any other conditions of service applicable to him ;

(c) "the period of the present emergency" means the period beginning with the date of the promulgation of this Ordinance and ending with such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare to be the date on which the emergency which was the occasion of the making of this Ordinance came to an end.

Transfers of civilian personnel.

3. (1) During the period of the present emergency, any person, whether or not for the time being subject to naval, military or air force law, who is employed in a civilian capacity under the War Department of the Central Government, other than a person engaged outside India for such employment, may, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in his contract of service, be transferred without his consent from one corps, department, establishment, formation or appointment to another under the War Department by order of the competent authority :

Provided that no transfer shall be ordered in pursuance of this section—

(a) if it would operate to the financial disadvantage of the person concerned, or

(b) if it would involve service overseas or in an operational or field service area where liability for such service is not included in the contract of service of the person concerned :

Provided further that the restriction contained in clause (a) of the first proviso shall not apply to any reduction or reversion to a lower appointment which may for any reason be ordered under the contract of service of the person concerned.

(2) If any question arises as to whether a proposed transfer is one which cannot be ordered by reason of the provisions of the first proviso to sub-section (1), the decision of the Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Forces in India thereon shall be final.

Retransfer on request at end of emergency period.

4. At the end of the period of the present emergency any person transferred under the provisions of section 3 shall, if he continues to be employed as aforesaid and so desires, be retransferred by the competent authority as soon as may be convenient to the corps, department, establishment, formation, or appointment, as the case may be, in which he was employed at the time when he was first so transferred.

[THE] COLLECTIVE FINES ORDINANCE, 1942.

(ORDINANCE No. XX OF 1942).[a]

[13th May, 1942.]

An Ordinance to provide for the imposition of collective fines.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the imposition of collective fines in connection with offences prejudicially affecting the defence of [b][India] [c][the public safety, the maintenance of public order, the efficient prosecution of war, or the maintenance of supplies or services necessary to the life of the community];

Now, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 13th May 1942.

The Ordinance was applied to British Baluchistan, see Notification No. 47-W, dated 27-5-1942, Gazette of India, 1942, Part I, page 918; and to the excluded and partially excluded areas in the Madras Presidency, see Notification No. 37, dated 20-7-1942,

The Ordinance has been subsequently amended by Ordinance No. 43 of 1942, Ordinance No. 49 of 1942, Ordinance No. 63 of 1942 and Ordinance No. 5 of 1943.

[b] Substituted for 'British India" by the Indian Independence (Adaptation of Central Acts and Ordinances) Order, 1948 [23-3 1948]. [c] These words were substituted for the words "or the efficient prosecution of war" by the Collective Fines (Amendment) Ordinance, 1942 (XLIII [43] of 1942), S. 2. [19-8 1942].

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Collective Fines Ordinance, 1942.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance,—

(a) "District Magistrate" means in a Presidency-town, and within the limits of the tract defined by notification under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866[a], as the limits to which the operation of that Act is confined, the Commissioner of Police;

(b) "Provincial Government" means in relation to a Chief Commissioner's Province the Chief Commissioner.

[a] Beng. Act II of 1866.

Imposition of collective fines on inhabitants of area.

3. (1) If it appears to the Provincial Government that the inhabitants of any area are concerned in or abetting the commission of offences prejudicially affecting the defence of [aa][India], [a][the public safety, the maintenance of public order, the efficient prosecution of war, or the maintenance of supplies or services necessary to the life of the community], or are harbouring persons concerned in the commission of such offences, or are failing to render all the assistance in their power to discover or apprehend the offender or offenders or are suppressing material evidence of the commission of such offences, the Provincial Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, impose a collective fine on the inhabitants of that area.

[b][(1A) An officer empowered in this behalf by the Provincial Government by general or special order may exercise the power conferred by sub-section (1) on the Provincial Government:

Provided that an imposition of a collective fine by any such officer may be made by publication of the order imposing the fine either in the official Gazette or in any such other manner as such officer considers best calculated to bring the order to the notice of the inhabitants of the area concerned.]

(2) The Provincial Government [b][or any officer empowered in this behalf by the Provincial Government by general or special order], may exempt any person or class or section of such inhabitants from liability to pay any portion of such fine.

(3) The District Magistrate, after such inquiry as he may deem necessary, shall apportion such fine among the inhabitants who are liable collectively to pay it, and such apportionment shall be made according to the District Magistrate's judgment of the respective means of such inhabitants.

[b][(3A) In any such apportionment the District Magistrate may assign a portion of such fine to a Hindu undivided family to be payable by it.]

[c][(4) The portion of such fine payable by any person (including a Hindu undivided family) may be recovered—

(a) in the manner provided by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the recovery of fines imposed by a Court, as if such portion were a fine imposed by the District Magistrate acting as a Court: Provided that the Provincial Government may, in lieu of the rules referred to in sub-section (2) of section 386 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, make rules under this Ordinance regulating the manner in which warrants under clause (a) of sub-section (1) of the said section of the said Code are to be executed, and for the summary determination of any claims made by any person other than the person liable to pay the fine in respect of any property attached in execution of the warrant: or

(b) as arrears of land-revenue.]

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section the expression "inhabitants of an area" includes persons who themselves or by their agents or servants occupy or hold land or other immovable property within such area, and landlords who themselves or by their agents or servants collect rents from holders or occupiers of land in such area, notwithstanding that they do not actually reside therein.

[aa] Substituted for "British India" by the Indian Independence (Adaptation of Central Acts and Ordinances) Order, 1948 [23-3-1948].

[THE] COTTON CLOTH AND YARN (CONTRACTS) ORDINANCE, 1944

(ORDINANCE NO. II OF 1944)[a]

[13th January, 1944].

An Ordinance to regulate the prices which may be charged in sales of cotton cloth and yarn under contracts.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to regulate the prices which may be charged in sales of cotton cloth and yarn under contracts;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 13th January 1944.

PREAMBLE—NOTE 1.

[1] The Ordinance has a retrospective effect and applies to all contracts made before or after the commencement of the Ordinance and to sales made on or after August 15, 1943, in pursuance of a contract made before or after the Ordinance. ('45) I L R (1945) Mad 848 (854) (DB).

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Cotton Cloth and Yarn (Contracts) Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Sales in pursuance of contracts.

2. (1) Where after the making of any contract for the sale of cotton cloth or cotton yarn by one wholesale dealer to another or by a wholesale dealer to a retail dealer the maximum prices ex-factory and retail at which such cloth or yarn may be sold have been fixed by an order made under the Cotton Cloth and Yarn (Control) Order, 1943, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in such contract, when any delivery takes place in pursuance of that contract on or after the date of the said order, the maximum price which may be charged for such cloth or yarn shall not in any case exceed the maximum retail price fixed by the said order, nor shall it in the case of a first or any subsequent sale after delivery from the manufacturer exceed by more than a percentage to be fixed in this behalf by the Textile Commissioner the price paid on the occasion of the last preceding transfer, or, if the said order has fixed a maximum price in respect of such sale, that maximum price ; and where, in pursuance of any such contract, the buyer has paid a price exceeding that laid down in this section, whether voluntarily or in execution of a decree passed by a Court or otherwise, he shall be entitled to receive from the seller any sum so paid in excess.

(2) The provisions of this section apply to contracts made whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, and to sales made in pursuance of any such contract on or after the 15th day of August, 1943.

[THE] COTTON TEXTILES FUND ORDINANCE, 1944.
(ORDINANCE NO. XXXIV OF 1944,)[a]

[8th July, 1944.]

An Ordinance to establish the Cotton Textiles Fund and to levy a duty of customs on exported cotton cloth and yarn.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to establish a fund for supervising the exports of cotton cloth and yarn, and for the development of technical education, research and other matters in relation to the cotton textiles industry and for those purposes to levy a duty of customs on exports of cotton cloth and yarn ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 8th July 1944.

The Ordinance has been amended by Ordinance No. 43 of 1944 ; Ordinance No. 56 of 1944 ; and Act 42 of 1947.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Cotton Textiles Fund Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Collector" means a Customs collector as defined in clause (c) of section 3 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or a Collector of Land Customs as defined in clause (c) of section 2 of the Land Customs Act, 1924, as the case may be ;

(b) 'the Committee" means the Cotton Textiles Fund Committee constituted under section 5 ;

(c) "cloth" and "yarn" mean respectively cloth and yarn of any description manufactured either wholly from cotton or partly from cotton and partly from any other substance and containing not less than ten per centum of cotton by weight ;

(d) "the fund" means the Cotton Textiles Fund established under section 3 ;

(e) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Ordinance.

The Cotton Textiles Fund.

3. The Central Government shall establish for the purposes of this Ordinance a fund to be called the Cotton Textiles Fund.

Government's contribution to the Fund.

[a][4. The Central Government may from time to time make such contributions to the Fund as it thinks fit.]

[a.] This section was substituted by the Indian Finance (Supplementary) Act, 1947 (42 [XLII of 1947), S. 3 [18-12-1947].

SECTION 2 — NOTE 1.

[1] In pursuance of a contract made on 15th April, 1943, for sale of some bales of cotton yarn deliveries were made on the 29th September, 1943. The buyer was forced to pay before delivery the price at the contract rate. Meantime, a maximum price was fixed for the yarn by a notification under the Cotton Cloth and Yarn Control Order, 1943. A suit was filed by the buyer against the seller for the recovery of the difference in price between the contract price paid by him and the selling price fixed by the notification. Subsequently the Cotton Cloth and Yarn (Contracts) Ordinance (1944) of 13th January, 1944, was published on 20th January, 1944. It was held that the Ordinance had retrospective effect and therefore, the buyer was entitled to recover the excess price paid by him. ('45) I L R 1945 Mad 848 (852, 854) (DB).

[2] 'Sales' in sub-sec. (2) mean concluded sales in which property has passed from seller to the buyer irrespective of whether delivery has taken place or not. The Ordinance, therefore, does not apply to a concluded sale made before 15th August, 1943 though delivery may be contemplated to take place after that date. (Vol 35) 1948 Mad 122 (128) (DB) ⁂ (Vol 34) 1947 Mad 455 (457) (D B). (Sale completed before date of fixing of maximum prices under Cotton Cloth and Yarn Control Order, 1943 — Ordinance of 1944 confers no benefit on buyer.)

The Cotton Textiles Fund Committee.

5. (1) The Central Government shall constitute a body to be called the Cotton Textiles Fund Committee to administer the Fund in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

(2) The Committee shall consist of such number of members appointed by the Central Government as the Central Government may from time to time consider expedient.

(3) The chairman of the Committee shall be appointed by the Central Government from among the members thereof.

(4) The Committee may, subject to the general control of the Central Government, employ such staff as it thinks necessary for the efficient discharge of its functions under this Ordinance, and may, with the previous sanction of the Central Government, make bye-laws consistent with this Ordinance and the rules made thereunder to provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the procedure to be followed at meetings of the Committee ;

(b) the powers exercisable and the duties to be discharged by the chairman of the Committee and the members of the staff of the Committee ;

(c) the travelling and other allowances which may be drawn by members of the Committee ;

(d) the appointment, promotion and dismissal of members of the staff of the Committee and their terms of service.

Application of Fund.

6. (1) Moneys at the credit of the Fund shall be applied by the Committee towards meeting —

(a) firstly, the cost of discharging its functions under this Ordinance;

(b) secondly, the cost of such measures as may be necessary for supervising the export of cloth and yarn;

(c) thirdly, the cost of such measures, including measures involving capital costs, as the Committee may consider necessary or desirable to take for promoting and increasing the sale of Indian cloth and yarn abroad, and generally for the development of technical education and research relating to the cotton textiles industry.

(2) In exercising its functions under sub-section (1) the Committee shall follow such general or special directions as the Central Government may from time to time think fit to give and if any question arises whether or not any particular expenditure is debitable to the Fund, the decision of the Central Government thereon shall be final.

Accounts.

7. (1) The Committee shall maintain the accounts of the Fund in such manner as may be prescribed.

(2) Such accounts shall be examined and audited annually by auditors appointed by the Central Government in this behalf, and an abstract of such accounts with the report of the auditors thereon shall be published in such form, at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed.

Dissolution of Committee.

8. When the Committee is dissolved by reason of this Ordinance having ceased to be in force, the unexpended balance at the credit of the Fund shall be applied in such manner as the Central Government may direct, towards meeting the cost of measures such as are described in clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 6.

Power to make rules.

9. (1) The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Ordinance.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power rules may be made providing for all or any of the following matters, namely : —

(a) the term of office of members of the Committee, the circumstances in which members may be removed and the filling of causal vacancies in the Committee;

(b) the conduct of business by the Committee and the number of members which shall form a quorum at a meeting;

(c) the maintenance by the Committee of records of business transacted by the Committee and the submission of copies thereof to the Central Government;

(d) the preparation by the Committee of estimates of annual receipts and expenditure;

(e) the conditions subject to which the Committee may incur expenditure from the Fund outside India for the promotion of the interests of the cotton textiles industry;

(f) any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed under this Ordinance.

Section 3—Note 1

[1] The subject-matter of the Ordinance is within Governor-General's ordinance-making powers. (Vol 31) 1944 Pat 378 (385): 23 Pat 457: 46 Cr L Jour 438(DB).

Section 5—Note 1

[1] The words "as may be preferred" cannot be read as meaning that it was the decision of someone else than the Governor-General which gave effective jurisdiction to the Special Tribunal to try the cases mentioned in the First Schedule. The words mean that though the cases mentioned in the First Schedule have not yet the jurisdiction of a Special Tribunal or make such modifications in the description of a case (whether in the names of the accused or in the charges preferred or in any other manner) as may be considered necessary].

a The Special Tribunal shall have jurisdiction to try the cases [b][for the time being] respectively allotted to them [c][under sub-section (1)] in respect of such of the charges for offences specified in the [d][* *] Schedule as may be preferred against the several accused and any such case which is at the commencement of this Ordinance [e][or at the time of such allotment pending before any Court or another Special Tribunal shall be deemed to be transferred to the Special Tribunal to which it is so allotted.]

a When trying any such case as aforesaid, a Special Tribunal may also try any offence [f][whether or not specified] in the [d][* *] Schedule which is an offence with which the accused may, under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 be charged at the same trial.

[a] Original sub-sections (1) and (2) were re-numbered as sub-sections (2) and (3) respectively and before sub-section (2) as so re-numbered new sub-section (1) was inserted by the Criminal Law (1943 Amendment) Amending Ordinance, 1945 (12 [XII] of 1945), S. 3. [12-5-1945]. [b] Inserted by the Criminal Law Amendment (Second Amending) Ordinance, 1944 (16 [XVI] of 1944), S. 3. [26-8-1944].

Procedure and powers of Special Tribunals.

6. (1) A Special Tribunal may take cognizance of offences without the accused being committed to it for trial and in trying accused persons shall follow the procedure prescribed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 for the trial of warrant cases by magistrates :

Provided that a Special Tribunal may refuse to summon any witness if satisfied after examination of the accused that the evidence of such witness will not be material, and shall not be bound to adjourn any trial for any purpose, unless such adjournment is in its opinion necessary in the interests of justice :

Provided further that for the purposes of sub-section (1) of section 356 of the said Code [a][English shall be deemed to be the language of the Court and] the Tribunal may decide by which one, if any, of its members the evidence of any or all of the witnesses shall be taken down in writing and where under the provisions of that sub-section the evidence of witnesses is taken down under the direction and superintendence of the Tribunal but not by a member thereof, the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 356 shall not apply.

[b][1A) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 4, any two members of a Special Tribunal may proceed with the trial of a case during the temporary and unavoidable absence of the third member :

Provided that all three members shall be present when after the evidence has been concluded the prosecutor, or the accused or his pleader is addressing the Special Tribunal and when the judgment in the case is delivered.]

(2) Save as provided in sub-section (1) the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 except the provisions of section 196A and of Chapter XXXIII, shall, so far as they are not inconsistent with this Ordinance, apply to proceedings of a Special Tribunal; and for the purposes of the said provisions the Special Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Court of Session, trying cases without a jury, and a person conducting a prosecution before a Special Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Public Prosecutor.

(3) A Special Tribunal shall not, merely by reason of a change in its members, be bound to recall and rehear any witness who has given evidence, and it may act on the evidence already recorded by or produced before it.

(4) In the event of any difference of opinion among the members of a Special Tribunal the opinion of the majority shall prevail.

(5) A Special Tribunal may pass any sentence authorised by law.

[b] Sub section (1A) was inserted by the Criminal Law Amendment (Fifth Amending) Ordinance, 1944 (40 [XL] of 1944), S. 3. [26-8-1944].

Appeal and revision.

[a][7. The High Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the offence charged in a case before a Special Tribunal is alleged to have taken place may, in relation to that case and subject to the provisions of section 8 regarding the transfer of cases, exercise so far as they may be applicable all the powers conferred by Chapters XXXI and XXXII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 on a High Court, as if the Special Tribunal were a Court of Session trying cases without a jury within the local limits of that High Court's jurisdiction.]

[a] This section was substituted for the original S. 7 by the Criminal Law (1943 Amendment) Second Amending Ordinance, 1945 (22 [XXII] of 1945), S. 4, [4-7 1945].

Bar of certain jurisdiction.

(Section 197 is inconsistent with Ordinance.)

Section 8 — Note 1

[1] The Ordinance is intra vires the ordinance-making authority of the Governor-General and S. 8 of of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 or save as provided in section 7, have any jurisdiction of any kind in respect of any proceedings of a Special Tribunal.]

[a] This section was substituted for the original S. 8 by the Criminal Law (1943 Amendment) Second Amending Ordinance, 1945 (22 [XXII] of 1945), S. 4. [4-7-1945].

Special rules of evidence.

9. (1) When any person is charged beford a Special Tribunal with an offence [a][specified in the Schedule] the fact that such person is in possession, for which he cannot satisfactorily account, of pecuniary resources or property disproportionate to his known sources of income, or that such person has, at or about the time of the offence with which he is charged, obtained an accretion to his pecuniary resources or property for which he cannot satisfactorily account, may be proved and may be taken into consideration by the Special Tribunal as a relevant fact in deciding whether he is or is not guilty of the particular offence with which he is charged.

(2) Where in any trial before a Special Tribunal of an offence punishable under section 161 or section 165 of the Indian Penal Code, it is proved that an accused person has accepted or obtained, or has agreed to accept or attempted to obtain for himself or for any other person, any gratification (other than legal remuneration) or any valuable thing from [b][any person] it shall be presumed unless the contrary is proved that he accepted or obtained, or agreed to accept or attempted to obtain, that gratification or that valuable thing as the case may be, as a motive or reward such as is mentioned in section 161, or, as the case may be, without consideration or for a consideration which he knows to be inadequate.

[a] Substituted for the words "punishable under section 161 or section 165 of the Indian Penal Code, (XLV of 1860)" by the Criminal Law (1943 Amendment) Amending Ordinance, 1945 (12 [XII] of 1945), S. 4. [12-5-1945].

[b] Substituted for the original words by the Criminal Law (1943 Amendment) Second Amending Ordinance, 1945 (22 [XXII] of 1945), S. 5. [4-7-1945].

Special provisions regarding punishment.

[a][10. (1) When any person charged before a Special Tribunal with an offence specified in the Schedule is found guilty of that offence, the Special Tribunal shall, notwithstanding anything contained in Indian Penal Code, whether or not it imposes a sentence of imprisonment, impose, in addition to such sentence of fine, if any, as it would otherwise have imposed, a further sentence of fine which shall be equivalent to the amount of money or value of other property found to have been procured by the offender by means of the offence.

(2) Except where the offence of which the person is found guilty is an offence specified in item 1 or item 5 of the Schedule, when it appears that the offence has caused loss to more than one Government referred to in the Schedule or local authority, the Special Tribunal shall in its order of conviction record a finding indicating the amount of loss sustained by each such Government or local authority.

(3) When a person is found guilty at the same trial of one or more offences specified in item 1 or item 5 of the Schedule and of one or more offences specified in any of the other items of the Schedule, the Special Tribunal shall in its order of conviction record a finding indicating separately the amounts procured by means of the two classes of offences.

(4) Where an additional fine is imposed under sub-section (1) for an offence, it shall, after deduction of the costs of recovery as determined by the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town, by the Chief Presidency Magistrate, be credited to the Government (being a Government referred to in the Schedule) or local authority to which the offence has caused loss, or where there is more than one such Government or local authority, be distributed among them in proportion to the loss sustained by each :

Provided that the provisions of this sub-section shall not apply in respect of any additional fine imposed for an offence specified in item 1 or item 5 of the Schedule, or in a case of the nature referred to in sub section (3), in respect of such portion of the additional fee as is equivalent to the amount found under that sub-section to have been procured by means of offences specified in those items.

(5) Where in any appeal or revisional proceedings against an order of acquittal passed by a Special Tribunal the appellate Court convicts the accused, the appellate Court shall in passing sentence impose an additional fine as provided in sub-section (1), and shall where necessary record a finding referred to in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3).

(6) Nothing in this section shall apply to any case to which the provisions of section 12 of the Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance, 1944 apply.]

[a] This section was substituted for the original S. 10 by the Criminal Law (1943 Amendment) Amending Ordinance, 1946 (VII [7] of 1946), S. 2. [17-1-1946.]

Power to make rules.

11. The Central Government may make rules providing for —

(a) the times at which Special Tribunals may sit ;

(b) the procedure to be adopted in the event of any member of a Special Tribunal being prevented from attending throughout the trial of any accused person.

THE SCHEDULE.

[THE] CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT ORDINANCE, 1944.
(ORDINANCE NO. XXXVIII OF 1944.)[a]

[23rd August, 1944.]

An Ordinance to prevent the disposal or concealment of property procured by means of certain offences.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for preventing the disposal or concealment of money or other property procured by means of certain offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 23rd August 1944.

The Ordinance has been amended by Ordinance No. 14 of 1945 and Act VI of 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and applies also to British subjects and servants of the Crown in any part of India and to British subjects who are domiciled in any part of India wherever they may be.

[a][(3) It shall come into force at once.]

[a] Sub-section (3) was inserted by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1945 (6 [VI] of 1945), S. 3 and Sch. II. [16-4-1945.]

The sub-section shall be deemed always to have been inserted.

Interpretation.

2. (1) In this Ordinance, "scheduled offence" means an offence specified in the Schedule to this Ordinance.

(2) For the purposes of this Ordinance, the date of the termination of criminal proceedings shall be deemed to be —

(a) where such proceedings are taken to the High Court, whether in appeal or on revision, the date on which the High Court passes its final orders in such appeal or revision, or

(b) where such proceedings are not taken to the High Court, the day immediately following the expiry of sixty days from the date of the last judgment or order of a criminal Court in the proceedings.

(3) The functions of a District Judge under this Ordinance shall in a Presidency town be exercised by the Chief Judge of the Small Cause Court.

Application for attachment of property.

3. (1) Where the Provincial Government has reason to believe that any person has committed (whether after the commencement of this Ordinance or not) any scheduled offence, the Provincial Government may, whether or not any Court has taken cognisance of the offence, authorise the making of an application to the District Judge within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the said person ordinarily resides or carries on business, for the attachment under this Ordinance of the money or other property which the Provincial Government believes the said person to have procured by means of the offence, or if such money or property cannot for any reason be attached, of other property of the said person of value as nearly as may be equivalent to that of the aforesaid money or other property.

(2) The provisions of Order XXVII of the First Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall apply to proceedings for an order of attachment under this Ordinance as they apply to suits by the Crown.

(3) An application under sub-section (1) shall be accompanied by one or more affidavits, stating the grounds on which the belief that the said person has committed any scheduled offence is founded, and the amount of money or value of other property believed to have been procured by means of the offence the application shall also furnish —

(a) any information available as to the location for the time being of any such money or other property, and shall, if necessary, give particulars including the estimated value, of other property of the said person;

(b) the names and addresses of any other persons believed to have or to be likely to claim, any interest or title in the property of the said person.

Ad interim attachment.

4. (1) Upon receipt of an application under section 3 the District Judge shall, unless for reasons to be recorded in writing he is of the opinion that there exist no prima facie grounds for believing that the person in respect of whom the application is made has committed any scheduled offence or that he has procured thereby any money or other property, pass without delay an ad interim order attaching the money or other property alleged to have been so procured, or if it transpires that such money or other property is not available for attachment, such other property of the said person of equivalent value as the District Judge may think fit

Provided that the District Judge may if he thinks fit before passing such order, and shall before refusing to pass such order, examine the person or persons making the affidavits accompanying the application.

(2) At the same time as he passes an order under sub-section (1), the District Judge shall issue to the person whose money or other property is being attached a notice, accompanied by copies of the order, the application and affidavits and of the evidence, if any, recorded, calling upon him to show cause on a date to be specified in the notice why the order of attachment should not be made absolute.

(3) The District Judge shall also issue notices, accompanied by copies of the documents accompanying the notice under sub-section (2), to all persons represented to him as having or being likely to claim, any interest or title in the property of the person to whom notice is issued under the said sub-section, calling upon each such person to appear on the same date as that specified in the notice under the said sub-section and make objection if he so desires to the attachment of the property or any portion thereof on the ground that he has an interest in such property or portion thereof.

(4) Any person claiming an interest in the attached property or any portion thereof may, notwithstanding that no notice has been served upon him under this section, make an objection as aforesaid to the District Judge at any time before an order is passed under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) as the case may be, of section 5.

Investigation of objections to attachment.

5. (1) If no cause is shown and no objections are made under section 4 on or before the specified date, the District Judge shall forthwith pass an order making the ad interim order of attachment absolute.

(2) If cause is shown or any objections are made as aforesaid, the District Judge shall proceed to investigate the same, and in so doing, as regards the examination of the parties and in all other respects he shall, subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, follow the procedure and exercise all the powers of a Court in hearing a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

[1] Expression 'District Judge' is synonymous with expression 'District Court' as used in Code of Civil Procedure—It includes Judge of Chief Court exercising ordinary original civil jurisdiction. (Vol 34) 1947 Sind 34 (35) : I L R (1946) Kar 129.

[2] Money procured by means of offence described in Schedule deposited in Bank — It can be attached even if such money is mixed up with other money of Bank. (Vol 33) 1946 Lah 406 (412): 48 Cri L Jour 136 (DB).

[3] Attachment by District Judge — High Court in revision cannot go into question whether he was right or wrong in issuing attachment even if the order is wrong on facts. (Vol 33) 1946 Lah 406 (413): 48 Cri L Jour 136 (DB).

Section 4 —Note 1

[1] The District Judge is not required by this section to give any grounds or reasons if he decides to issue ad interim attachment but is only bound to do so where there are no prima facie grounds to believe that the non-applicant has committed any scheduled offence or has, thereby, procured any money or other property. (Vol 33) 1946 Lah 406 (413): 48 Cri L Jour 136 (D B).

and any person making an objection under section 4 shall be required to adduce evidence to show that at the date of the attachment he had some interest in the property attached.

(3) After investigation under sub-section (2), the District Judge shall pass an order either making the ad interim order of attachment absolute or varying it by releasing a portion of the property from attachment or withdrawing the order:

Provided that the District Judge shall not—

(a) release from attachment any interest which he is satisfied that the person believed to have committed a scheduled offence has in the property, unless he is also satisfied that there will remain under attachment an amount of the said person's property of value not less than that of the property believed to have been procured by the said person by means of the offence, or

(b) withdraw the order of attachment unless he is satisfied that the said person has not by means of the said offence procured any money or other property.

Attachment of property of mala fide transferees.

6. (1) Where the assets available for attachment of a person believed to have committed a scheduled offence are found to be less than the amount or value which he is believed to have procured by means of such offence, and where the District Judge is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise, that there is reasonable cause for believing that the said person has, after the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed, transferred (whether after the commencement of this Ordinance or not) any of his property otherwise than in good faith and for consideration, the District Judge may by notice require any transferee of such property (whether or not he received the property directly from the said person) to appear on a date to be specified in the notice and show cause why so much of the transferee's property as is equivalent to the proper value of the property transferred should not be attached.

(2) Where the said transferee does not appear and show cause on the specified date, or where after investigation in the manner provided in sub-section (2) of section 5, the District Judge is satisfied that the transfer of the property to the said transferee was not in good faith and for consideration, the District Judge shall order the attachment of so much of the said transferee's property as is in the opinion of the District Judge equivalent to the proper value of the property transferred.

Execution of orders of attachment.

7. An order of attachment of property under this Ordinance shall be carried into effect so far as may be practicable in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 for the attachment of property in execution of a decree.

Security in lieu of attachment.

8. Any person whose property has been or is about to be attached under this Ordinance may at any time apply to the District Judge to be permitted to give security in lieu of such attachment, and where the security offered and given is in the opinion of the District Judge satisfactory and sufficient, he may withdraw or, as the case may be, refrain from passing, the order of attachment.

Administration of attached property.

9. (1) The District Judge may, on the application of any person interested in any property attached under this Ordinance and after giving the agent of the Provincial Government an opportunity of being heard, make such orders as the District Judge considers just and reasonable for

(a) providing from such of the attached property as the applicant claims an interest in, such sums as may be reasonably necessary for the maintenance of the applicant and of his family, and for the expenses connected with the defence of the applicant where criminal proceedings have been instituted against him in any Court for a scheduled offence;

(b) safeguarding so far as may be practicable the interests of any business affected by the attachment, and in particular, the interests of any partners in such business.

(2) Where it appears to the District Judge to be just and convenient, he may by order appoint a receiver to manage any property attached under this Ordinance in accordance with such instructions as the District Judge may from time to time think fit to give ; and where a receiver is so appointed, the provisions of rules 2, 3, 4 and 5 of Order XL of the First Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 shall be applicable.

Duration of attachment.

10. An order of attachment of property under this Ordinance shall, unless it is withdrawn earlier in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, continue in force—

(a) where no Court has taken cognizance of the alleged scheduled offence at the time when the order is applied for, for three months from the date of the order under sub-section (1) of section 4 or sub section (2) of section 6, as the case may be, unless cognizance of such offence is in the meantime so taken, or unless the District Judge on application by the agent of the Provincial Government thinks it proper and just that the period should be extended and passes an order accordingly; or

(b) where a Court has taken cognizance of the alleged scheduled offence whether before or after the time when the order was applied for until orders are passed by the District Judge in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance after the termination of the criminal proceedings.

Appeals.

11. (1) The Provincial Government or any person who has shown cause under section 4 or section 6 or has made an objection under section 4 or has made an application under section 8 or section 9 if aggrieved by any order of the District Judge under any of the foregoing provisions of this Ordinance, may appeal to the High Court within thirty days from the date on which the order complained against was passed.

(2) Upon any appeal under this section the High Court may, after giving such parties as it thinks proper an opportunity of being heard, pass such orders as it thinks fit.

(3) Until an appeal under this section is finally disposed of by the High Court, no Court shall, otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of section 8 or section 13, order the withdrawal or suspension of any order of attachment to which the appeal relates.

Criminal Courts to evaluate property procured by scheduled offences.

12. (1) Where before judgment is pronounced in any criminal trial for a scheduled offence it is represented to the Court that an order of attachment of property has been passed under this Ordinance in connection with such offence, the Court shall, if it is

Section 11—Note 1

[1] Every interlocutory order passed by District udge disposing of some objections cannot be regarded to be in the nature of 'order' contemplated by this section and would not give right of appeal. (Vol 33) 1946 Lah 406 (409): 48 Cri L Jour 136 (D B).

convicting the accused, record a finding as to the amount of money or value of other property procured by the accused by means of the offence.

(2) In any appeal or revisional proceedings against such conviction, the appellate or revisional Court shall unless it sets aside the conviction, either confirm such finding or modify it in such manner as it thinks proper.

(3) In any appeal or revisional proceedings against an order of acquittal passed in a trial such as is referred to in sub-section (1), the appellate or revisional Court, if it convicts the accused, shall record a finding such as is referred to in that sub-section.

[a][(4) Where the accused is convicted of a scheduled offence other than one specified in item I of the schedule to this Ordinance and where it appears that the offence has caused loss to more than one Government referred to in the said schedule or local authority the finding referred to in this section shall indicate the amount of loss sustained by each such Government or local authority.

(5) Where the accused is convicted at the same trial of one or more offences specified in item I of the Schedule to this Ordinance and of one or more offences specified in any of the other items of the said Schedule, the finding referred to in this section shall indicate separately the amounts procured by means of the two classes of offences.]

[a] Sub-sections (4) and (5) were added by the Criminal Law (1944 Amendment) Amending Ordinance, 1945 (14 [XIV] of 1945), S. 2. [16-5-1945].

Disposal of attached property upon termination of criminal proceedings.

13. (1) Upon the termination of any criminal proceedings for any scheduled offence in respect of which any order of attachment of property has been made under this Ordinance or security given in lieu thereof, the agent of the Provincial Government shall without delay inform the District Judge, and shall where criminal proceedings have been taken in any Court, furnish the District Judge with a copy of the judgment or order of the trying Court and with copies of the judgments or orders, if any, of the appellate or revisional Courts thereon.

(2) Where it is reported to the District Judge under sub-section (1) that cognizance of the alleged scheduled offence has not been taken or where the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts is one of acquittal, the District Judge shall forthwith withdraw any orders of attachment of property made in connection with the offence, or where security has been given in lieu of such attachment, order such security to be returned.

(3) Where the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts is one of conviction, the District Judge shall order that from the property of the convicted person attached under this Ordinance or out of the security given in lieu of such attachment, there shall be forfeited to His Majesty such amount or value as is found in the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts in pursuance of section 12 to have been procured by the convicted person by means of the offence, together with the costs of attachment as determined by the District Judge and where the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts has imposed or upheld a sentence of fine on the said person (whether alone or in conjunction with any other punishment), the District Judge may order, without prejudice to any other mode of recovery, that the said fine shall be recovered from the residue of the said attached property or of the security given in lieu of attachment.

(4) Where the amounts ordered to be forfeited or recovered under sub-section (3) exceed the value of the property of the convicted person attached, and where the property of any transferee of the convicted person has been attached under section 6, the District Judge shall order that the balance of the amount ordered to be forfeited under sub-section (3) together with the costs of attachment of the transferee's property as determined by the District Judge shall be forfeited to His Majesty from the attached property of the transferee or out of the security given in lieu of such attachment ; and the District Judge may order, without prejudice to any other mode of recovery, that any fine referred to in sub-section (3) or any portion thereof not recovered under that sub-section shall be recovered from the attached property of the transferee or out of security given in lieu of such attachment.

(5) If any property remains under attachment in respect of any scheduled offence or any security given in lieu of such attachment remains with the District Judge after his orders under sub-sections (3) and (4) have been carried into effect, the order of attachment in respect of such property remaining shall be forthwith withdrawn or as the case may be, the remainder of the security returned, under the orders of the District Judge.

[a][(6) Every sum ordered to be forfeited under this section in connection with any scheduled offence other than one specified in item I of the Schedule to this Ordinance shall, after deduction of the costs of attachment as determined by the District Judge, be credited to the Government (being a Government referred to in the said Schedule) or local authority to which the offence has caused loss, or where there is more than one such Government or local authority, the sum shall, after such deduction as aforesaid, be distributed among them in proportion to the loss sustained by each.]

[a] Sub-section (6) was added by the Criminal Law (1944 Amendment) Amending Ordinance, 1945 (14 [XIV] of 1945), S. 3. [16-5-1945].

Bar to other proceedings.

14. Save as provided in section 11 and notwithstanding anything contained in any other law,—

(a) no suit or other legal proceeding shall be maintainable in any Court—

(i) in respect of any property ordered to be forfeited under section 13 or which has been taken in recovery of fine in pursuance of an order under that section, or

(ii) while any other property is attached under this Ordinance, in respect of such other property,— by any person upon whom a notice has been served under section 4 or section 6 or who has made an objection under sub-section (4) of section 4 ; and

(b) no Court shall, in any legal proceedings or otherwise, pass any decree or order, other than a final decree in a suit by a person not being a person referred to in clause (a), which shall have the effect of nullifying or affecting in any way any subsisting order of attachment of property under this Ordinance, or the right of the District Judge to hold security in lieu of any such order of attachment.

Protection of action taken.

15. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceedings shall lie against any person for anything in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Ordinance.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance, 1946.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and applies also to British subjects and servants of the Crown in any part of India and to British subjects who are domiciled in any part of India wherever they may be

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Special rules of evidence.

2. (1) In any trial of or inquiry by a Court into an offence specified in the Schedule, the fact that an accused person is in possession, for which he cannot satisfactorily account, of pecuniary resources or property disproportionate to his known sources of income, or that he has, at or about the time of the alleged offence, obtained an accretion to his pecuniary resources or property for which he cannot satisfactorily account, may be proved and may be taken into consideration by the Court as if it were a relevant fact within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

(2) Where in any trial of or inquiry by a Court into an offence punishable under section 161 or section 165 of the Indian Penal Code it is proved that an accused person has accepted or obtained, or has agreed to accept or attempted to obtain, for himself or for any other person, any gratification (other than legal remuneration or any valuable thing from a person or the agent of a person seeking to obtain facilities for transport or holding or seeking to obtain a contract from His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom or in any part of His Majesty's dominions, or the Central or a Provincial Government or a department of any such Government or a local authority, or from any person acting on behalf of any such Government or department or authority, it shall be presumed unless the contrary is proved that he accepted or obtained, or agreed to accept or attempted to obtain, that gratification or that valuable thing as the case may be, as a motive or reward such as is mentioned in the said section 161 or, as the case may be without consideration or for a consideration which he knows to be inadequate.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this sub-section "transport" includes the carriage whether of persons or property of any description by rail, road, air, sea or inland waters.

Special provisions regarding punishment.

3. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Indian Penal Code or the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898, relating to sentences and the powers of Courts to impose sentences, where any person is found guilty of an offence specified in the Schedule the Court convicting him, whether or not it imposes a sentence of imprisonment, shall impose, in addition to such sentence of fine, if any as it would otherwise have imposed, a further sentence of fine which shall be equivalent to the amount of money or value of other property found by the Court to have been procured by the convicted person by means of the offence.

(2) Except where the offence of which the person is found guilty is an offence specified in item 1 or item 5 of the Schedule, when it appears that the offence has caused loss to more than one Government referred to in the Schedule or local authority, the Court shall in its order of conviction record a finding indicating the amount of loss sustained by each such Government or local authority.

(3) When a person is found guilty at the same trial or in the same proceedings of one or more offences specified in item 1 or item 5 of the Schedule and of one or more offences specified in any of the other items of the Schedule, the Court shall in its order of conviction record a finding indicating separately the amounts procured by means of the two classes of offences.

(4) Where an additional fine is imposed under sub-section (1) for an offence, it shall, after deduction of the costs of recovery as determined by the Court, be credited to the Government (being a Government referred to in the Schedule) or local authority to which the offence has caused loss, or where there is more than one such Government or local authority, be distributed among them in proportion to the loss sustained by each :

Provided that the provisions of this sub-section shall not apply in respect of any additional fine imposed for an offence specified in item 1 or item 5 of the Schedule, or in a case of the nature referred to in sub-section (3), in respect of such portion of the additional fine as is equivalent to the amount found under that sub-section to have been procured by means of offences specified in those items.

(5) Nothing in this section shall apply to any case to which the provisions of section 12 of the Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance, 1944 apply.

The Schedule

[See sections 2 (1) and 3]

1. An offence punishable under section 161 or section 165 of the Indian Penal Code or any conspiracy to commit or any attempt to commit or any abetment of such offence.

2. An offence punishable under section 406 or section 408 or section 409 of the Indian Penal Code, where the property in respect of which the offence is committed is property entrusted by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom or in any part of His Majesty's dominions or the Central or a Provincial Government or a department of any such Government or a local authority or a person acting on behalf of any such Government or department or authority.

3. An offence punishable under section 411 or section 414 of the Indian Penal Code, where the stolen property in respect of which the offence is committed is property such as is described in the preceding item and in respect of which an offence punishable under any of the sections mentioned in that item has been committed.

4. An offence punishable under section 417 or section 420 of the Indian Penal Code, where the person deceived is His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom or in any part of His Majesty's dominions or the Central or a Provincial Government or a department of any such Government or a local authority or a person acting on behalf of any such Government or department or authority.

5. An offence punishable under the Hoarding and Profiteering Prevention Ordinance, 1943 or under any rule made or deemed to have been made under the Defence of the India Act, 1939 or any conspiracy to commit or any attempt to commit or any abetment of such offence.

[THE] ESSENTIAL SERVICES (MAINTENANCE) ORDINANCE, 1941. (ORDINANCE NO. XI OF 1941)[a]

[20th December, 1941.]

An Ordinance to make provision for the maintenance of certain essential services.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make provision for the maintenance of certain essential services ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 20th December 1941.

The Ordinance was applied to British Baluchistan, see Notification No. I-W, dated 8-1-1942, Gazette of India, 1942, Part 1, page 80 ; and to certain Baluch Tribal Areas, see Notification No. 7-W, dated 22-1-1942, Gazette of India, 1942, Part I, page 173.

The Ordinance has been amended by Ordinance No. 26 of 1942, Ordinance No. 38 of 1942 and Ordinance No. 2 of 1943.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Essential Services (Maintenance) Ordinance, 1941

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, "employment" includes employment of any nature and whether paid or unpaid.

Employment to which this Ordinance applies.

3. This Ordinance shall apply to all employment under the Crown and to any employment or class of employment which the Central Government or a Provincial Government, being of opinion that such employment or class of employment is essential for securing the defence of [a][India], the public safety, the maintenance of public order or the efficient prosecution of war, or for maintaining supplies or services necessary to the life of the community, may by notification in the official Gazette, declare to be an employment or class of employment to which this Ordinance applies.

[a] Substituted for "British India" by the India Independence (Adaptation of Central Acts and Ordinances) Order, 1948 [23-4-1948].

Power to order persons engaged in certain employments to remain in specified areas.

4. (1) [a][In respect of any employment under the Crown, the Government under which the person or persons concerned are employed or an officer authorized in this behalf by that Government, and] in respect of any employment or class of employment under section 3 to be an employment or class of employment to which this Ordinance applies, the Government making the declaration, or an officer authorised in this behalf by that Government, may, be general or special order, direct that any person or persons engaged in such employment shall not depart out of such area or areas as may be specified in such order.

(2) An order made under sub-section (1) shall be published in such manner as the Government or officer making the order considers best calculated to bring it to the notice of the persons affected by the order.

[a] Inserted by the Essential Services (Maintenance) Amendment Ordinance, 1942 (26 [XXVI] of 1942), S. 2. [28-5-1942].

Offences.

5. Any person engaged in any employment or class of employment to which this Ordinance applies who—

(a) disobeys any lawful order given to him in the course of such employment, or

(b) without reasonable excuse abandons such employment or absents himself from work, or

(c) departs from any area specified in an order under sub-section (1) of section 4 without the consent of the authority making that order, and any employer of a person engaged in an employment or class of employment declared under section 3 to be an employment or class of employment to which this Ordinance applies, who without reasonable cause—

(i) discontinues the employment of such person, or

(ii) by closing an establishment in which such person is engaged, causes the discontinuance of his employment, is guilty of an offence under this Ordinance.

[a][Explanation 1. — The fact that a person apprehends that by continuing in his employment he will be exposed to increased physical danger is not a reasonable excuse within the meaning of clause (b).

Explanation 2.—A person abandons his employment within the meaning of clause (b) who, notwithstanding that it is an express or implied term of his contract of employment that he may terminate his employment on giving notice to his employer of his intention to do so, so terminates his employment without the previous consent of his employer.]

[a] Explanations 1 and 2 were added to S. 5 by the Essential Services (Maintenance) Amendment Ordinance, 1942 (26 [XXVI] of 1942), S. 3. [28-5-1942].

Section 3 — Note 1

[2] Where a member of the A. R. P. service submitted his resignation to his immediate superior, who asked him to surrender his uniform and equipment and assigned no duties to him after that date on the ground that the letter of resignation was pending before the authorities, it could not be said that the member was guilty of the offence of abandoning his employment without reasonable cause or absenting himself from work. ('47) 48 Cr. L J 476 (477) (Cal).

[3] Accused, a first aider in A. R. P.—Fever resulting from anti-cholera injection followed by swelling in legs held not reasonable excuse for abandoning employment though might be justification for applying for leave. (Vol 31) 1944 Mad 20 (21) : 45 Cri L Jour 272.

[4] The accused, an Assistant Public Prosecutor, sent in his resignation partly as a protest against the repressive policy of the Government and partly with a view to take active part in the civil disobedience movement. He did not discharge any duties connected with his office after that date and he left the station before his resignation was accepted. It was held, that it was a clear case of abandonment by the accused of his employment and he was therefore guilty of an offence punishable under S. 5 (b) read with S. 7 (1). 6. (1) The Central Government or, [a][* * * * * *] a Provincial Government may make rules regulating or empowering a specified authority to regulate the wages and other conditions of service of persons or of any class of persons engaged in any employment or class of employment declared under section 3 to be an employment or class of employment to which this Ordinance applies.

Regulation of wages and conditions of service.

(2) When any such rules have been made or when any directions regulating wages or conditions of service have been given by an authority empowered by such rules to give them, any person failing to comply therewith is guilty of an offence under this Ordinance.

7. (1) Any person found guilty of an offence under this Ordinance shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year and shall also be liable to fine.

Penalties and procedure.

(2) Where the person accused of an offence under this Ordinance is a company or other body corporate, every director, manager, secretary or other officer thereof shall, unless he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised due diligence to prevent the commission of the offence, be liable to the punishment provided for the offence.

(3) No Court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Ordinance except upon complaint in writing made by a [a][servant of the Crown] authorised in this behalf by the Central or a Provincial Government.

[b][(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, an offence under this Ordinance shall be cognizable.]

THE EXCESS PROFITS TAX ORDINANCE, 1943. (ORDINANCE NO. XVI OF 1943.)[a]

[17th May 1943.]

An Ordinance to make certain provisions in connection with the tax on excess profits.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make certain provisions in connection with the tax on excess profits :

NOW THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 17th May 1943.

The Ordinance was applied to British Baluchistan, see Notification No. 32-W, dated 27-5-1943, Gazette of India, 1943, Part I, page 560; to the Darjeeling Districts and the partially excluded areas of the Mymensingh District with effect from 17-5-1943, see Bengal Government Notification No. 821 A. R. dated 15-6-1943; and to the partially excluded areas of the Orissa Province with modification, see Orissa Government Notification No. 16449 f (c) dated 4-8-1943.

The Ordinance has been amended by the Indian Finance Act, 1944 and Ordinance No. 20 of 1945; and it has been partially repealed by Ordinance No. 1 of 1946.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Excess Profits Tax Ordinance, 1943.

Short title, extent and commencement.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. (1) When excess profits tax charged under the provisions of the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, in respect of any chargeable accounting period ending after the 31st day of December 1942, becomes payable under that Act after Deposits in connection with payments of excess profits tax.

Section 7 — Note 1

[1] On 12-9-1942, the Government of Bombay declared employment in connection with the Ahmedabad Municipality to be employment coming under the Ordinance and authorised its Administrator to make orders and complaints in respect of offences under the Ordinance by any employee of the Municipality. On 7-9-1942, W took charge as the Administrator of the Municipality from the Collector and on 15-9-1942 passed an order calling on all employees of the municipality to work properly and carefully and to dispose expeditiously of all tasks which had been or might be lawfully assigned to them in the course of their employment. The accused was not willing to perform any work and accordingly a complaint was filed against him by W on 16-9-1942. By a notification dated 5-10-1942, the Government of Bombay directed that the powers and duties which were assigned to the Collector were to be exercised and performed by W with effect from 7-9-1942 i. e, from the date on which he took charge from the Collector: Held, that W was not properly appointed and was not the Administrator when he issued the orders or filed the complaint which were therefore incompetent; and that the part of the notification of 5-10-1942, seeking to give retrospective effect to the appointment of W could have no effect to validate the complaint. (Vol 30) 1943 Bom 314 (316, 317) : 45 Cri L Jour 361 (DB).

[2] Where the Commissioner of Police is authorised under S. 7 (3) to file complaints, the Court has no jurisdiction to take cognizance of an offence under the Ordinance on a charge-sheet filed by a Sub-Inspector of Police. (Vol 31) 1944 Mad 20 (21, 22) : 45 Cri L Jour 272.

assessment made under section 14 of that Act, the person liable to pay such excess profits tax shall deposit with the Central Government, before such date as may be specified in a notice in this behalf in such form as may be prescribed by rules made under sub-section (5) issued to him by the Excess Profits Tax Officer, a further sum equal to one fifth of the amount of the said excess profits tax; and the provisions of section 10 of the Indian Finance Act, 1942, shall, save in so far as they are inconsistent with this section, apply in respect of such deposits as they apply in respect of the voluntary deposits for which provision is made in the said section 10.

[a][Provided that, in respect of any chargeable accounting period ending after the 31st day of December 1943, the provisions of this sub section shall have effect as if, in relation to any person who is a company, for the words 'one fifth' the words 'nineteen-sixtyfourths' were substituted and as if, in relation to any other person, for the words 'one-fifth' the words 'seventeen-sixtyfourths' were substituted :]

[b][Provided further that, in respect of any chargeable accounting period ending after the 31st day of December 1944, the provisions of this sub-section as modified by the first proviso shall have effect as if for the words'nineteen sixty fourths' the figures '37/128ths' were substituted :]

[a][Provided further that, if in respect of any chargeable accounting period ending after the 31st day of December 1943 a person who has deposited a further sum equal to seventeen-sixtyfourths of the excess profits tax payable shows that the amount of the income tax and super-tax payable in respect of the excess profits arising in such period exceeds fifteen-sixtyfourths of the amount of the excess profits tax payable, so much of the deposit shall be refunded as will secure that the total of the deposit made and the income-tax and super-tax payable in respect of the excess profits arising in such period does not exceed one-half of the excess profits tax payable;]

[c][(1A) In respect of any chargeable accounting period ending after the 31st day of December 1943, in respect of which a provisional assessment of excess profits tax is made under section 14A of the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, the person liable to pay such excess profits tax shall deposit in the manner laid down in sub-section (1) a further sum equal to nineteen-sixty fourths of the amount of the said excess profits tax if such person is a company and seventeen-sixtyfourths of the said amount if such person is not a company; and the provisions of sub-sections (6) and (7) of the said section 14A shall apply to any payment made under this sub-section as they apply to a payment of excess profits tax :]

[d][Provided that, in respect of any chargeable accounting period ending after the 31st day of December 1944, the provisions of this sub-section shall have effect as if for the words 'nineteen sixtyfourths' the figures '37/128ths' were substituted]

(2) The provisions of sub section (1) of section 10 of the Indian Finance Act, 1942, in so far as they enable the making of voluntary deposits, shall cease to have effect except in relation to excess profits tax charged in respect of a chargeable accounting period ending on the 31st day of December 1942, or earlier.

(3) Any further sum such as is referred to in sub-section (1) deposited in accordance with that sub-section shall be repaid by the Central Government within twelve months of the date of termination of the present hostilities or within twenty-four months of the date on which the deposit was made, whichever is later

(4) The provisions of law applicable to the payment and recovery of excess profits tax contained in sections 45 and 46 [except sub-sections (1) and (1A) thereof] of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, as applied by section 21 of the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, shall apply to the payment and recovery of the deposits required by [e][sub section (1) or (1A) of this section] as if the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of this section were a notice of demand under section 29 of the Indian Income tax Act, 1922, and as if a default in making payment of such deposit were a default in making payment of excess profits tax.

(5) The power to make rules for carrying out the purposes of section 10 of the Indian Finance Act, 1942, conferred by sub-section (3) of that section shall include a power to make rules for carrying out the purposes of this section.

[a] The first and third provisos were added by the Indian Finance Act, 1944, S. 8(3). [31-3-1944]. [b] The second proviso was inserted by the Excess Profits Tax (Amendment) Ordinance, 1945 (XX [20] of 1945), S. 2 [30-6 1945]. [c] Sub section (1A) was inserted by the Indian Finance Act, 1944, S. 8 (3). [d] This proviso was added to sub-section (1A) by Ordinance No. 20 of 1945. [e] These words were substituted for the words "sub-section (1) of this section" by the Indian Finance Act, 1944, S. 8 (3).

THE SCHEDULE.

[THE] HIGH DENOMINATION BANK NOTES (DEMONETISATION) ORDINANCE, 1946. (ORDINANCE No. III OF 1946).[a]

[12th January, 1946]

An Ordinance to provide for the demonetisation of certain high denomination bank notes.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the demonetisation of certain high denomination bank notes ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 12th January 1946.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the High Denomination Bank Notes (Demonetisation) Ordinance, 1946.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2 In this Ordinance,—

(a) "bank" means a banking company as defined in section 277F of the Indian Companies Act 1913 and includes any branch of a bank ;

(b) "bank note" includes all currency notes of the Government of India issued either by the Central Government or by the Reserve Bank ;

(c) "high denomination bank note" means a bank note of the denominational value of five hundred rupees, one thousand rupees or ten thousand rupees,

(d) "Reserve Bank" means the Reserve Bank of India ;

(e) "scheduled bank" means a bank included in the Second Schedule to the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934.

High denomination bank notes to cease to be legal tender.

3. On the expiry of the 12th day of January 1946 all high denomination bank notes shall, notwithstanding anything contained in section 26 of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 cease to be legal tender in payment or on account at any place in British India.

Prohibition of transfer and receipt of high denomination bank notes.

4. Save as provided by or under this Ordinance, no person shall after the 12th day of January 1946 transfer to the possession of another person or receive into his possession from another person any high denomination bank note.

Exchange of high denomination bank notes held by banks and Government treasuries.

5. (1) A bank, other than a scheduled bank, may obtain from the Reserve Bank or a scheduled bank an equivalent amount in bank notes of the denominational value of one hundred rupees in exchange for the high denomination bank notes declared by it in the returns under the Bank Notes (Declaration of Holdings) Ordinance, 1946, and tendered for such exchange, or if it so desires, a credit of that amount with the Reserve Bank or a scheduled bank.

(2) A scheduled bank or a Government treasury may obtain from the Reserve Bank an equivalent amount in bank notes of the denominational value of one hundred rupees in exchange for any high denomination bank notes tendered for such exchange which have been declared by it in the returns under the aforesaid Ordinance or which have been received by it in exchange under this Ordinance, or if a scheduled bank so desires, a credit of that amount with the Reserve Bank.

(3) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing provisions of this section, where the first return referred to in section 4 of the Bank Notes (Declaration of Holdings) Ordinance, 1946 is presented in the manner provided in the proviso to sub section (2) of that section, the exchange referred to in this section may be effected only with the Reserve Bank at Bombay.

(4) The copies of the returns given back under sub-section of (4) section 4 of the aforsaid Ordinance shall accompany the first application for the exchange of high denomination bank notes under this section.

Exchange of high denomination bank notes held by other persons.

6. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 any high denomination bank note held by a person other than a bank or Government treasury shall after the 12th day of January 1946 be exchanged only on tender of the note for exchange by the owner thereof in the manner provided in this section.

(2) Every such owner of a high denomination bank note desiring to tender it for exchange shall prepare in the form set out in the Schedule or in a form as near thereto as may be, three copies of a declaration signed by him giving in full the particulars required by that form, and shall, within ten days after the commencement of this Ordinance, deliver such copies in person together with the high denomination bank notes he desires to exchange to a branch of the Reserve Bank or to a scheduled bank or to a Government treasury:

Provided that if such owner resides in a place not within convenient reach of any such branch, bank or treasury or if by reason of age, infirmity or illness he is unable to attend thereat, or if the provisions of sub-section are (9) applicable to him he may forward the high denomination bank notes he desires to exchange with the three copies of his declaration by insured post to the Reserve Bank at Bombay, Calcutta or Madras at any time within fourteen days after the commencement of this Ordinance.

(3) Every declaration under this section shall, for the purpose of identifying the person making it, be attested either by his banker or by a salaried magistrate or a Justice of the Peace or a police officer not below the rank of Inspector of Police.

(4) Where a person applies under this section for the exchange of high denomination bank notes in more than one instalment or at more than one branch of the Reserve Bank, scheduled bank or Government treasury or on more than one day, he shall give in the declaration which shall accompany every such application full particulars of other applications made by him.

(5) The person who signs any declaration under this section shall be deemed for all purposes to be the owner of the high denomination bank notes to which it relates, and if it is proved that he is not in fact the owner of such bank notes, he and the owner thereof, unless in the case of the latter he can prove that the declaration was made without his knowledge, shall be deemed to have contravened the provisions of section 4.

(6) Unless it appears that the declaration has not been completed in all material particulars, the Reserve Bank, scheduled bank or Government treasury, as the case may be, to which an application for exchange of high denomination bank notes is made under this section shall exchange the said notes for an equivalent value of Bank notes of the denominational value of one hundred rupees, or if the applicant so desires, for the credit of an equivalent amount to his account with a bank.

(7) Where it appears that the declaration has not been completed in all material particulars, the Reserve Bank, scheduled bank or Government treasury, as the case may be, to which such application as aforesaid is made, shall, unless the applicant is able to supply the omission without delay, refuse to accept and exchange the bank notes to which the declaration relates, and if it does so refuse, shall return one copy of the declaration to the applicant after entering thereon the date on which it is presented, and shall refer the applicant to the Central Government to which it shall forward a copy of the declaration with a brief statement of the reasons for refusing to exchange the bank notes.

(8) The Central Government may require any applicant referred to it under sub-section (7) to amplify his declaration to such extent and in respect of such particulars as it thinks fit, and may unless the applicant is able fully to comply with such requirement, refuse to sanction the exchange of the high denomination bank notes to which the declaration relates.

(9) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing provisions of this section, no high denomination bank notes exceeding in value ten lakhs of rupees held by any person shall be exchangeable under this section except with the Reserve Bank at Bombay, Calcutta or Madras.

(10) The Central Government or any person or authority authorised by it in this behalf may for sufficient reason extend[a] in any particular case the period during which high denomination notes may be tendered for exchange under this section.

[a] By Finance Department notification No. F. 3 (1)-F I/46 dated 19-1-1946, the Central Government authorised the Reserve Bank, every Scheduled Bank and every Government Treasury to extend the period to 26th January 1946, see Gazette of India, Extraordinary 1946, page 77.

Penalties.

7. (1) Whoever knowingly makes in any declaration under section 6 any statement which is false or only partially true or which he does not believe to be true, or contravenes any provision of this Ordinance or the rules made thereunder, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

(2) Where the person committing an offence punishable under sub-section (1) is a company or other body corporate, every director, manager, secretary or other officer or agent thereof shall, unless he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent such commission, be deemed to be guilty of the offence.

(3) No prosecution for an offence punishable under this section shall be instituted except with the previous sanction of the Central Government.

(4) Notwithstanding anything in section 32 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class trying an offence punishable under this section may impose a fine exceeding one thousand rupees.

Closing of banks and Government treasuries.

8. All banks and Government treasuries shall be closed for the transaction of all business on the 14th day of January, 1946, and that day shall for the purposes of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 be deemed to be a public holiday notified under that Act.

Bar of legal proceedings.

9. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything done or in good faith intended to be done under this Ordinance.

Condonation of certain offences under Ordinance II of 1946, not involving high denomination bank notes.

10. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 6 of the Bank Notes (Declaration of Holdings) Ordinance, 1946, where a bank which at the close of business on the 11th day of January, 1946, held no high denomination bank notes (as defined in this Ordinance) fails to present the first return referred to in section 4 of that Ordinance, it shall be deemed not to have committed an offence under that Ordinance.

Power to make rules.

11. The Central Government may make rules to provide for any matter for which it deems provision necessary or expedient in order to give effect to the purposes and provisions of this Ordinance, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for the manner in which and the conditions subject to which high denomination bank notes brought or sent into British India after the commencement of this Ordinance or which are held outside British India may be exchanged.

[THE] INCOME-TAX AND EXCESS PROFITS-TAX (EMERGENCY) ORDINANCE, 1942 (ORDINANCE NO. LX OF 1942)[a]

[14th November, 1942.]

An Ordinance to remove certain difficulties caused by the destruction of documents and records pertaining to the collection of Income-tax and Excess Profits Tax.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to remove certain difficulties caused by the destruction of documents and records pertaining to the collection of Income-tax and Excess Profits Tax;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935 the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 14th November 1942.

This Ordinance was applied to all the partially excluded areas of the Orissa Province: See Orissa Government Notification No. 986-F (c) dated 20-1-1943.

So much of the Ordinance as pertains to the collection of income-tax shall apply to the Chhittagong Hill-tracts with effect from 14-1-1943, subject to certain exceptions, see Bengal Government Notification No. 3—P. R. I. dated 11-1-1943.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Income-tax and Excess Profits Tax (Emergency) Ordinance, 1942.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Power to issue notices and to secure returns.

2. (1) Where documents or records pertaining to the assessment, collection or payment of income-tax or excess profits tax have been damaged, lost or destroyed as a result of riot or civil commotion the authority authorised under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 or the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940 as the case may be, to issue any notice for any of the purposes of either Act may, notwithstanding anything contained in either of the said Acts, and notwithstanding that such notice has already been issued, or has already been issued and has been or is alleged to have been complied with, or where such notice has already been issued, that the time within which the notice is to be issued has already expired, reissue such notice, and any notice so reissued shall in all respects have the same effect as if it were the original notice, and any proceedings that could have been taken in pursuance of or subsequent to the original notice may be taken in like manner in pursuance of or subsequent to the notice so re-issued :

Provided that in respect of assessments or reassessments made in the course of any proceedings taken under the powers conferred by this sub-section the periods of eight and four years mentioned in sub-section (2) of section 34 of the Indian Income-tax Act 1922, shall be deemed to commence on and to run from the date on which the notice under sub-section (2) of section 22 or sub-section (1) of section 34 of that Act is reissued under the powers conferred by this sub-section :

Provided further that where a person proves to the satisfaction of the Income-tax Officer or the Excess Profits-Tax Officer, as the case may be, that he has already been assessed in respect of the income or the excess profits in respect of which notices under section 22 or section 34 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, or under section 13 or section 15 of the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, have been reissued, and that he has paid the tax, he shall not be subject to fresh assessment.

(2) Any return or information required or which could be required under the provisions of either of the said Acts to be furnished by any person shall, if the Income-tax Officer or the Excess Profits Tax Officer so requires at any time be again furnished by such person notwithstanding that it may have been or is alleged to have been already furnished, and any failure to comply with any such requirement by an Income-tax Officer or Excess Profits Tax Officer shall involve the same consequences as if the return or information had been altogether withheld.

Settlement of doubts.

3. If any question arises whether a document or record has been damaged, lost or destroyed as a result of riot or civil commotion the matter shall be referred to the Commissioner of Income-tax or to the Commissioner of Excess Profits Tax, as the case may be, and his decision shall be final.

Preamble—Note 1

1. This Ordinance as amended by Ordinance No. 16 [XXI] of 1945 is intra vires. (Vol 34) 1947 Bom 380 (381) (DB).

Section 2—Note 1

1. 'Deeming' a past event or thing to be something other than what it was or is, may be an interference with the course of nature, since it creates an artificial data in place of existing fact, but it is not a retrospective changing of the statute law. (Vol 34) 1947 Bom 380 (381) (DB).

Power to make rules. 4. The Central Government may make rules providing for any matter necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this Ordinance.

[THE] INCOME-TAX PROCEEDINGS VALIDITY ORDINANCE, 1943. (ORDINANCE No. IV of 1943.)[a]

[16th January, 1945.]

An Ordinance to establish the validity of certain appointments as Income-tax Officer of, and certain proceedings under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, taken by persons designated as Assistant Income-tax Officers.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to establish the validity of certain appointments as Income-tax Officer of, and certain proceedings under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, taken by, persons designated as Assistant Income-tax Officers;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :-

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 16th January 1943.

The Ordinance was applied to the Darjeeling District and the partially excluded areas of Mymensingh District with certain modification with effect from 15-4-1943, see Bengal Government Notification No. 533-A. R. dated 8-4-1943.

Short title and commencement. 1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Income-tax Proceedings Validity Ordinance, 1943.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Validity of appointments as Income-tax Officer of Assistant Income-tax Officers and of proceedings taken by them. 2. Where, whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, any person designated as an Assistant Income-tax Officer has been appointed to be or to discharge the functions of an Income-tax Officer for any of the purposes of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, and where, whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, a person designated as an Assistant Incom-tax Officer, appointed to be or to discharge the functions of an Income-tax Officer, has given or served any notice or taken any action whatsoever under the said Act for the purpose of or in connection with the making of an assessment under the said Act, such person shall be deemed to be and always to have been validly appointed as an Income-tax officer for the purposes of the said Act, and no act purporting to have been done by such person as an Income-tax Officer, and no notice purporting to have been given or served by such person as an Income-tax Officer shall be called in question merely on the ground of any irregularity or defect in the manner of his appointment as an Income-tax Officer.

[THE] INCOME-TAX AND EXCESS PROFITS TAX (VALIDITY OF NOTICES) ORDINANCE, 1944 (ORDINANCE No. XLV of 1944).[a]

[3rd October, 1944.]

An Ordinance to remove doubts as to the validity of certain notices under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 and the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940.

WHEREAS, an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to remove doubts as to the validity of certain notices under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 and the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940 ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 3rd October 1944.

The Ordinance has been amended by Ordinance No. 16 of 1945.

Short title extent and commencement. 1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Income-tax and Excess Profits Tax (Validity of Notices) Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and applies also, within the Indian States and the tribie areas, in relation to the persons specified in sub-section (2) of section 1 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

(3) It shall come into force at once

Validity of certain notices. 2. For the removal of doubts it is hereby enacted that every notice published or issued, whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance [a][but not later than the 19th day of May, 1945],—

(a) under sub-section (1) of section 22 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, requiring a return to be furnished within sixty days from the date of the notice, or

(b) under sub-section (2) of the said section or under sub section (1) of section 34 of the said Act, requiring a return to be furnished within thirty days of the receipt of the notice, or

(c) under sub-section (1) of section 13 of the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940 requiring a return to be furnished within sixty days from the date of the service of the notice, or

(d) under section 15 of the last-mentioned Act, requiring a return to be furnished within sixty days of the receipt of the notice—shall, notwithstanding any judgment or order of any Court, Appellate Tribunal or Income-tax authority to the contrary, and whether or not any specified date on or before which the return is to be furnished is or has been given in the notice as an alternative, be deemed to give or have given a period of notice in full compliance with law, and no such notice shall be called in question or be deemed to be, or at any time to have been, invalid for any purpose whatsoever (including any proceedings, criminal or otherwise, instituted whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, under, or for a contravention of, any of the provisions of either of the above-mentioned Acts) on the ground merely that a period insufficient in law within which to carry out the requirements of the notice has been specified therein.

[a] Inserted by the Income-tax and Excess Profits Tax (Validity of Notices) Amendment Ordinance, 1945 (XVI [16] of 1945), S. 2. [19-5 1945].

[30th August, 1940]

An Ordinance to provide for the transfer from one corps or department to another of persons enrolled under the Indian Army Act, 1911.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the transfer from one corps or department to another of persons enrolled under the Indian Army Act, 1911 ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 30th August 1940.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Indian Forces (Transfer) Ordinance, 1940.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance,—

(a) "Competent military authority" means the Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Forces in India, or any officer designated by him in this behalf ;

(b) "the period of the present emergency" means the period beginning with the date of the promulgation of this Ordinance and ending with such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare to be the date on which the emergency which was the occasion of the passing of this Ordinance came to an end.

Transfer from one corps or department to another.

3. During the period of the present emergency, any person enrolled under the Indian Army Act, 1911, may, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the conditions of the service for which he is enrolled, be transferred without his consent to any corps or department by order of the competent military authority.

Re-transfer to original corps or department.

4. At the end of the period of the present emergency any person transferred under the provisions of section 3 shall, if he continues in military service and so desires, be retransferred by the competent military authority, as soon as may be convenient, to the corps or department in which he was serving at the time when he was first so transferred.

THE SCHEDULE.

[THE] INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND AND BANK ORDINANCE, 1945. (ORDINANCE NO. XLVII of 1945.)[a]

[24th December, 1945.]

An Ordinance to implement the International Monetary Fund and Bank Agreements.

WHEREAS, at the United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference held at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, in July 1944, Articles of the following agreements were drawn up, and set out in the Final Act of the said Conference, that is to say,—

(a) an agreement (hereinafter referred to as the Fund Agreement) for the establishment and operation of an international body to be called the International Monetary Fund (hereinafter referred to as the International Fund), and

(b) an agreement (hereinafter referred to as the Bank agreement) for the establishment and operation of an international body to be called the International Bank for Re-construction and Development (hereinafter referred to as the International Bank) ;

AND WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make certain provisions for the purpose of implementing the aforesaid Agreements ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 24th December 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the International Monetary Fund and Bank Ordinance, 1945.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Payments to International Fund and Bank.

2. (1) There shall be paid out of the revenues of the Central Government all such sums as may from time to time be required for the purpose of paying—

(a) the subscriptions payable by the Central Government, to the International Fund under paragraph (a) of section 3, and paragraph (a) of section 4, of Article III of the Fund Agreement, and to the International Bank under paragraph (a) of section 3 of Article II of the Bank Agreement;

(b) any sums payable by the Central Government to the International Fund under paragraph (b) of section 8 of Article IV of the Fund Agreement, and to the International Bank under section 9 of Article II of the Bank Agreement;

(c) any charges payable by the Central Government to the International Fund under section 8 of Article V of the Fund Agreement ;

(d) any sums required for implementing the guarantee of the Central Government referred to in section 3 of Article XIII of the Fund Agreement.

(e) any compensation required to be paid by the Central Government to the International Fund or to any member thereof under Sch. D or Sch. E to the Fund Agreement.

(2) The Central Government may, if it thinks fit so to do, create and issue to the International Fund or International Bank, in such form as it thinks fit, any such non-interest bearing and non-negotiable notes or other obligations as are provided for by section 5 of Article III of the Fund Agreement and section 12 of Article V of the Bank Agreement.

Reserve Bank to be depository for International Fund and Bank.

3. The Reserve Bank of India (hereinafter referred to as the Reserve Bank) shall be the depository of the British Indian currency holdings of the International Fund and International Bank.

Power to call for information.

4. (1) Where under section 5 of Article VIII of the Fund Agreement, the International Fund requires the Central Government to furnish it with any information, the Central Government, or if generally or specially authorised by the Central Government in this behalf, the Reserve Bank, may by order in writing require any person to furnish to such officer or other person as may be specified in the order such detailed information as the Central Government or the Reserve Bank, as the case may be, may determine to be essential for the purpose of complying with the request of the International Fund; and any person so required shall be bound to furnish such information.

(2) Every officer or person to whom any information is required to be furnished under this section shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code.

(3) No information obtained under this section shall be furnished to the International Fund in such detail as to disclose the affairs of any person, and the provisions of sub-sections (1), (2) and (3) of section 54 of the Indian Income-Tax Act, 1922 shall apply in relation to information obtained under this section as they apply to the particulars referred to in that section.

(4) A determination of the Central Government or the Reserve Bank under sub-section (1) as to the extent of detail in which information is to be furnished shall be final, and in any prosecution under section 176 or section 177 of the Indian Penal Code in respect of any information required to be furnished under this section, it shall not be a defence to assert that the information was required to be furnished in greater detail than was essential for the purpose of complying with the request of the International Fund.

(5) No prosecution for an offence in respect of any information required to be furnished under this section shall be instituted except with the previous sanction of the Central Government.

Certain provisions of agreements to have force of law.

5. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any other law, the provisions of the Fund and Bank Agreements set out in the Schedule shall have the force of law in British India :

Provided that nothing in section 9 of Article IX of the Fund Agreement or in section 9 of Article VII of the Bank Agreement shall be construed as —

(a) entitling the International Fund or International Bank to import into British India goods free of any duty of customs without any restriction on their subsequent sale therein, or

(b) conferring on the International Fund or International Bank any exemption from duties or taxes which form part of the price of goods sold or which are in fact no more than charges for services rendered.

Amendment of section 17, Act II of 1934.

6. [Omitted.—NOTE: This section adds clause (15A) to section 17 of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 (II of 1934).]

Power to make rules.

7. The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for giving effect to the provisions set out in the Schedule, and generally for carrying out the purposes of this Ordinance.

THE SCHEDULE.

(b) No tax shall be levied on or in respect of salaries and emoluments paid by the Fund to executive directors, alternates, officers or employees of the Fund who are not local citizens, local subjects, or other local nationals.

(c) No taxation of any kind shall be levied on any obligation or security issued by the Fund, including any dividend or interest thereon, by whomsoever held.

(i) which discriminates against such obligation or security solely because of its origin ; or

(ii) if the sole jurisdictional basis for such taxation is the place or currency in which it is issued, made payable or paid, or the location of any office or place of business maintained by the Fund.

PART II.

BANK AGREEMENT.

Article VII.

STATUS, IMMUNITIES AND PRIVILEGES.

Purpose of Article.

1. To enable the Bank to fulfil the functions with which it is entrusted, the status, immunities and privileges set forth in this Article shall be accorded to the Bank in the territories of each member.

Status of the Bank.

2. The Bank shall possess full juridical personality, and, in particular, the capacity

(i) to contract ;

(ii) to acquire and dispose of immovable and movable property ;

(iii) to institute legal proceedings.

Position of the Bank with regard to judicial process.

3. Actions may be brought against the Bank only in a Court of competent jurisdiction in the territories of a member in which the Bank has an office, has appointed an agent for the purpose of accepting service or notice of process, or has issued or guaranteed securities. No actions shall, however, be brought by members or persons acting for or deriving claims from members. The property and assets of the Bank shall, wheresoever located and by whomsoever held, be immune from all forms of seizure, attachment or execution before the delivery of final judgment against the Bank.

Immunity of assets from seizure.

4. Property and assets of the Bank, wherever located and by whomsoever held, shall be immune from search, confiscation, expropriation or any other form of seizure by executive or legislative action.

Immunity of archives.

5. The archives of the Bank shall be inviolable.

Freedom of assets from restrictions.

6. To the extent necessary to carry out the operations provided for in this agreement and subject to the provisions of this Agreement, all property and assets of the Bank shall be free from any restrictions, regulations, controls and moratoria of any nature.

Privilege for communications.

7. The official communications of the Bank shall be accorded by each member the same treatment that it accords to the official communications of other members.

Immunities and privileges of officers and employees.

8. All governors, executive directors, alternates, officers and employees of the Bank—

(i) shall be immune from legal process with respect to acts performed by them in their official capacity except when the Bank waives this immunity;

(ii) not being local nationals, shall be accorded the same immunities from immigration restrictions, alien registration requirements and national service obligations and the same facilities as regards exchange restrictions as are accorded by members to the representatives, officials, and employees of comparable rank of other members;

(iii) shall be granted the same treatment in respect of travelling facilities as is accorded by members to representatives, officials and employees of comparable rank of other members.

Immunities from taxation.

9. (a) The Bank, its assets, property, income and its operations and transactions authorized by this Agreement, shall be immune from all taxation and from all customs duties. The Bank shall also be immune from liability for the collection or payment of any tax or duty.

(b) No tax shall be levied on or in respect of salaries and emoluments paid by the Bank to executive directors, alternates, officials or employees of the Bank who are not local citizens, local subjects, or other local nationals.

(c) No taxation of any kind shall be levied on any obligation or security issued by the Bank (including any dividend or interest thereon) by whomsoever held.

(i) which discriminates against such obligation or security solely because it is issued by the Bank; or

(ii) if the sole jurisdictional basis for such taxation is the place or currency in which it is issued, made payable or paid, or the location of any office or place of business maintained by the Bank.

(d) No taxation of any kind shall be levied on any obligation or security guaranteed by the Bank (including any dividend or interest thereon) by whomsoever held.

(i) which discriminates against such obligation or security solely because it is guaranted by the Bank; or.

(ii) if the sole jurisdictional basis for such taxation is the location of any office or place of business maintained by the Bank.

[THE] LEGAL TENDER (INSCRIBED NOTES) ORDINANCE, 1942. (ORDINANCE NO. LIX OF 1942.)[a]

An Ordinance to restrict the negotiability of currency and other notes inscribed with messages of a political character.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to restrict the negotiability of currency and other notes inscribed with messages of a political character;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:

[a]. Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 31st October 1942.

The Ordinance was applied to all the partially excluded areas of the Orissa Province, see Orissa Government Notification No. 7-f. (c), dated 2-1-1943.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Legal Tender (Inscribed Notes) Ordinance, 1942.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Notes bearing messages of a political character not to be legal tender.

2. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, or in the Currency Ordinance, 1940, or in any other enactment or rule of law, a currency note of the Government of India, a bank note issued by the Reserve Bank of India, or a Government of India one-rupee note issued under the Currency Ordinance, 1940, which bears written upon it any extrinsic words or visible representations intended to convey or capable of conveying a message of a political character, shall not be legal tender in British India : and the Reserve Bank of India shall not be under any legal obligation to receive any such note, or to issue rupee coin or other coin or currency notes or bank notes in exchange for any such note, or to refund the value of any such note:

Provided that the Reserve Bank of India may in its discretion refund as of grace the whole or part of the value of any such note.

(ORDINANCE NO. XXXIII OF 1945.)[a]

[8th September, 1945.]

An Ordinance to exclude periods spent in enemy territory in computing limitation.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide that the period of limitation prescribed by law for suits shall not run in the period during which persons instituting suits have been detained in enemy territory by circumstances attributable to war;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:

[a.] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 8th September 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Limitation (War Conditions) Ordinance, 1945.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "enemy subject" means any individual who possesses the nationality of a State which is, or at any time since the 3rd day of September 1939, has been, at war with His Majesty, or who, having possessed such nationality at any time has lost it without acquiring another nationality, or any body of persons constituted or incorporated in or under the laws of such State;

(b) "enemy territory" means any area under the sovereignty of, or administered by, or for the time being in the occupation of, a State which is, or at any time since the 3rd day of September 1939, has been, at war with His Majesty, not being an area in the occupation of His Majesty or of a State allied with His Majesty, and includes any area which the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare either generally or in respect of any particular period to be enemy territory for the purposes of this Ordinance.

Suspension of limitation for suits in certain circumstances.

3. If at any time before the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed for any suit by the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, or by any other law for the time being in force, any person who could have instituted the suit has been detained in enemy territory by circumstances attributable to war, the said period of limitation, as regards the institution of the suit by such person, shall be deemed not to have run in the period during which it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court that such person was so detained, and shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the said Act or in any other law, in no case expire before the end of six months from the date, as determined by the Court, when such person ceased to be so detained or from the date of the commencement of this Ordinance, whichever is later :

Provided that where two or more periods have occurred in which a person was so detained those periods shall be treated for the purposes of this section as one continuous period beginning with the beginning of the first period and ending with the end of the last period :

Provided further that this section shall not apply to suits instituted to enforce rights of pre-emption, or to suits of any description, which may be instituted by enemy subjects.

[THE] MARTIAL LAW (INDEMNITY) ORDINANCE, 1943. (ORDINANCE NO. XVIII OF 1943.)[a]

[31st May, 1943.]

An Ordinance to indemnify servants of the Crown and other persons in respect of acts done under martial law, and to provide for certain other matters in connection with the administration of martial law.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to indemnify servants of the Crown and other persons in respect of acts done under martial law, and to provide for certain other matters in connection with the administration of martial law;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 31st May 1943.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Martial Law (Indemnity) Ordinance, 1943.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance—

(1) "martial law area" means—

(a) with reference to the martial law period beginning on the 1st day of June 1942, and ending on the 31st day of May 1943, the area bounded—

(i) on the east by the eastern boundary of the Provinces of Sind and of the Khaipur State from the river Indus at Kashmor to the Jodhpur Bikaner Railway and including that Railway;

(ii) on the south by the Jodhpur-Bikaner Railway and the North-Western Railway, and including those Railways, from the eastern boundary of the Province of Sind to the river Indus at Kotri;

(iii) on the West by the river Indus from Kotri to Kashmor, including that river; and

(b) with reference to the martial law period beginning on the 29th day of July 1942, and ending on the 31st day of May 1943 the aforesaid area together with the area bounded—

(i) on the east by the river Indus from Rohri to Kotri;

(ii) on the south by a line running due west from the Indus at Kotri so as to include the municipal area of Kotri, to a point five miles therefrom;

(iii) on the west by a line running from the westernmost point of the aforesaid southern boundary parallel to and five miles distant from the North-Western Railway line passing from Kotri through Larkhana and Sukkur to Habibkhot;

(iv) on the north by a line running from Habibkhot to Rohri.

(2) "martial law period" means with reference to the area described in sub-clause (a) of the foregoing definition the period beginning on the 1st day of June 1942, and ending on the 31st day of May 1943, and with reference to the area described in sub clause (b) of the foregoing definition the period beginning on the 29th day of July 1942, and ending on the 31st day of May, 1943.

Indemnity of servants of the Crown and other persons for certain acts.

3. (1) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie in any Court against any servant of the Crown for or on account of or in respect of any act ordered or done by him or purporting to have been ordered or done by him in the martial law area during the martial law period for the purpose of maintaining or restoring order or of carrying into effect any regulation, order or direction issued by any authority responsible for the administration of martial law in the said area to which he was subordinate; and no suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie in any Court against any other person for or on account of or in respect of any act done or purporting to have been done by him under any order of a servant of the Crown given for any such purpose as aforesaid :

Provided that the act was done in good faith and in a reasonable belief that it was necessary for the purpose intended to be served thereby.

(2) For the purposes of this section it shall be conclusive proof that an act was done under an order of a servant of the Crown given for one of the aforesaid purposes if the Central Government, in the case of an officer employed in connection with the affairs of the Central Government, or the Provincial Government, in the case of an officer employed in connection with the affairs of a Provincial Government, so certifies; and an act shall be deemed to have been done in good faith and in a reasonable belief that it was necessary for the purpose intended to be served thereby unless the contrary is proved.

Sanction necessary for institution of certain legal proceedings.

4. Without prejudice to the operation of any other provision of law for the time being in force requiring any sanction for the institution of legal proceedings, no suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding such as is referred to in section 3 shall be instituted in any Court on an allegation that the act complained of was not done in good faith or was not done in a reasonable belief that it was necessary for the purpose intended to be served thereby except with the previous sanction—

(a) where the act complained of was ordered or done by a servant of the Crown employed in connection with the affairs of the Central Government, of the Central Government, and

(b) where the act complained of was ordered or done by a servant of the Crown employed in connection with the affairs of the Provincial Government, of the Provincial Government.

Confirmation of orders for seizure or destruction of property.

5. Where in the course of operations conducted in the martial law area during the martial law period property whether movable or immovable has been seized, confiscated, destroyed or damaged by or under the directions of a servant of the Crown acting under martial law, such seizure, confiscation, destruction or damage shall be deemed to have been lawfully ordered and authorised, and no claim shall be maintainable in any Court in respect of any such property for the restoration thereof or for compensation for any loss sustained in consequence of the seizure, confiscation, destruction or damage thereof.

Validity of sentences passed by martial law Courts.

6. All sentences passed during the martial law period by a Court or other authority constituted or appointed under martial law and acting in a judicial capacity shall be deemed to have been lawfully passed, and all sentences executed according to the tenor thereof shall be deemed to have been lawfully executed.

Confirmation and continuance of martial law sentences of confinement.

7. (1) Every person confined under and by virtue of a sentence passed by a Court or other authority constituted or appointed under martial law and acting in a judicial capacity shall continue liable to confinement until the sentence, reduced by remissions, if any, earned under the rules applicable to the serving of such sentence, is served, or until he is released by order of the Central Government.

(2) The provisions of Chapter XXIX of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall not apply to any sentence or confinement referred to in this section.

Application of sections 6 and 7 to certain trials under martial law.

8. The provisions of sections 6 and 7 apply to sentences passed during the martial law period by a Court or other authority constituted or appointed under martial law notwithstanding that such Court or authority held the whole or a part of its sittings outside the martial law area, or notwithstanding that the offence or a part of the offences for which the accused person was tried and convicted was committed before the beginning of the martial law period.

Saving.

9. Nothing in this Ordinance shall prevent the institution of proceedings by or on behalf of Government against any person in respect of any matter whatsoever.

[THE] PENSIONS APPEAL TRIBUNALS (POWERS) ORDINANCE, 1945. (ORDINANCE NO. XLVI OF 1945)[a]

[22nd December, 1945.]

An Ordinance to vest Pensions Appeal Tribunals with certain powers.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to vest Pensions Appeal Tribunals with certain powers;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 22nd December 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Pensions Appeal Tribunals (Powers) Ordinance, 1945.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Powers of Pensions Appeal Tribunals.

2. Every Pensions Appeal Tribunal constituted under the Pensions Appeal Tribunals Rules, 1945, appended to the Resolution of the Government of India in the War Department, No. 1770, dated the 19th November, 1945,[a] shall have all the powers of a Civil Court for the purposes of receiving evidence, administering oaths, enforcing the attendance of witnesses, and compelling the discovery and production of documents, and shall be deemed to be a Civil Court within the meaning of sections 480 and 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

[9th September, 1944.]

An Ordinance to make certain provision in respect of Post-Office Twelve-Year National Savings Certificates and other classes of Savings Certificates.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make certain provision in respect of Post-Office Twelve-Year National Savings Certificates and other classes of Savings Certificates:

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 9th September 1944.

Short title, application and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Post-Office National Savings Certificates Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It applies to—

(a) Post-Office Twelve-Year National Savings Certificates issued in pursuance of the Notification of the Government of India in the Finance Department, No. F. 17 (100)-F/43, dated the 4th September, 1943[a], and

(b) any other classes of savings certificates to which the Central Government may from time to time by notification in the official Gazette direct that the provisions of this Ordinance shall apply.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

[a] See Gazette of India, 1943, Part I, page 975.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance—

(a) "minor" means a person who is not deemed to have attained his majority under the Indian Majority Act, 1875;

(b) "savings certificate" includes a Post-Office Twelve-Year National Savings Certificate referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 1 and a savings certificate of any other class to which the provisions of this Ordinance have been applied by a direction in pursuance of clause (b) of that sub-section;

(c) "transfer" means a transfer inter vivos and does not include a transfer by operation of law.

Restriction of transfer.

3. Notwithstanding any provision in any enactment or any rule of law for the time being in force to the contrary, no transfer, whether made before or after the commencement of this Ordinance or, as the case may be, before or after the making of a direction in pursuance of clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 1, of a savings certificate shall be valid without the previous consent in writing of an officer of the Post Office authorised by general or special order of the Central Government in that behalf.

Payment on death of holder of savings certificate.

4. (1) If a person dies and is at the time of his death the holder of a savings certificate, payment of the sum for the time being

Section 8 — Note 1

[1] The purpose and effect of S. 8 of this Ordinance is not to confer upon First Class Magistrates the power to pass sentences of death. The effect of the section read with S. 30, Cr. P. C., is to remove the bar of jurisdiction which would otherwise limit the power of a Court by reason of the fact that an offence is punishable with death. (Vol 30) 1943 Sind 87 (89) : I L R (1942) Kar 597 : 44 Cri. L Jour 461.

due thereon may be made in the manner provided in the Government Savings Banks Act, 1873, for the payment of deposits belonging to the estates of deceased persons, and the provisions of Ss. 4 to 9 of the said Act shall apply accordingly as if the holder of the savings certificate were a depositor in a Government Savings Bank and the sum for the time being due on the certificate were a deposit in such a Bank ;

Provided that in such application section 8 of the said Act shall be construed as if the reference therein to three thousand rupees were a reference to the amount of the maximum holding of savings certificates prescribed in the rules made or deemed to have been made under this Ordinance applicable to the particular savings certificate :

Provided further that —

(a) the powers conferred by the said provisions on the Secretary of a Government Savings Bank shall be exercisable by the Postmaster-General for the area within which the post office of issue of such savings certificate is situate [a][or if that area is in Pakistan, by the Postmaster-General for such area in India as the Central Government may by general or special order specify in this behalf ;]

(b) where in any one case payment is to be made of savings certificates issued from more post offices than one, the said powers shall be exercisable by the Postmaster-General for the area in which any of the said post offices is situate.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to require any person to accept payment of the amount due on a savings certificate before it has reached maturity.

[a] Added by the Indian Independence (Adaptation of Central Acts and Ordinances) Order, 1948. [23-3-1948.]

Holdings by or on behalf of minors.

5. Notwithstanding any provision in any enactment or any rule of law for the time being in force to the contrary,—

(1) a minor may apply for and hold savings certificates and any person may apply for and hold savings certificates on behalf of a minor ;

(2) where any certificate is held by or on behalf of a minor, the minor shall, whether the certificate was applied for and issued before or after the commencement of this Ordinance or, as the case may be, before or after the making of a direction in respect of such certificate in pursuance of clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 1, be bound by the provisions of this Ordinance and of any rules made or deemed to have been made thereunder applicable to such savings certificate and by the terms of any declaration made by the applicant for the certificate in pursuance of the said rules ;

(3) payment of the sum for the time being due on a savings certificate held by or on behalf of a minor may be made —

(a) to him personally, if he himself applied for the certificate, or

(b) for the use of the minor, if the application for the certificate was made by any person other than the minor,—

(i) to any such person, being a parent of the minor or guardian of his property, as may be nominated in that behalf in the form of application, or

(ii) if no such nomination has been made, to any guardian of the property of the minor appointed by a competent Court, or where no such guardian has been so appointed, to either parent of the minor, or where neither parent is alive, to any other guardian of the minor,— and the receipt of the minor or, as the case may be, of his parent or guardian for any sum paid under this clause shall be a sufficient discharge therefor.

Rules.

6. (1) The Central Government may by notification in the official Gazette make rules relating to any class of savings certificate.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for the application for, the issue, maximum limits of holding and discharge of, and conditions as to interest or discount relating to, any class of savings certificate, and may also provide —

(a) that where any such maximum limits of holdings are exceeded, no interest shall be payable on the amount of such excess ;

(b) that if any interest has been paid on any amount of such excess, it shall be recoverable as an arrear of land revenue or in such other manner as the rules may prescribe.

(3) All rules relating to —

(a) the Post Office Twelve-Year National Savings Certificates in force at the commencement of this Ordinance,

(b) any other class of savings certificate in force at the time when a direction in pursuance of clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 1 is made in respect thereof—shall, so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance, continue in force until they are duly rescinded or amended, and shall be deemed to have been made under this Ordinance.

[THE] PRESENT WAR (DEFINITION) ORDINANCE, 1945. (ORDINANCE NO. XXIII OF 1945.)[a]

[14th July, 1945.]

An Ordinance to define "present war" and like expressions occurring in certain contexts.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to define the meaning of the expression "present war" and like expressions when used in certain contexts prior to the outbreak of war between His Majesty and Japan ;

Now, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 14th July 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Present War (Definition) Ordinance, 1945.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Meaning of "present war" and like expressions in certain contexts.

2. For the removal of doubts it is hereby declared that any reference, express or implied and in whatever form of words, in any provisions made during the period commencing on the 3rd day of September, 1939 and ending on the 8th day of December, 1941 in any enactment or in any notification, rule or order under any enactment or in any contract, deed or other instrument, to the present war or the present hostilities shall, unless in the case of such a reference in any contract, deed or other instrument as aforesaid the subject or context otherwise requires, be deemed to include and always to have included a reference to the present war with Japan, notwithstanding that war had not, when the said provision was made, broken out between His Majesty and Japan :

Provided that nothing in this section shall prejudice the exercise of any power conferred in whatever form of words in any such provision as aforesaid on any Government, authority or person to declare for the purposes of such provision on what specified date the present war or the present hositilities shall be deemed to terminate.

[THE] PRISONERS OF WAR (FORFEITURE OF EMOLUMENTS) ORDINANCE, 1943. (ORDINANCE NO. XXXVI OF 1943.)[a]

[16th October, 1943.]

An Ordinance to provide for the forfeiture in certain cases not provided for by the Indian Army Act, 1911, of pay and allowances of certain persons subject to that Act.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the forfeiture in certain cases not provided for by the Indian Army Act, 1911, of pay and allowances of certain persons subject to that Act ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 16th October 1943.

Applied to the Chittagong Hill-tracts with effect from 18-11-1943, see Beng. Govt. Notfn. No 210 S, dated 15-11-1943.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Prisoners of War (Forfeiture of Emoluments) Ordinance, 1943.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance, "Indian commissioned officer" means an Indian commissioned officer as defined in clause (2) of section 7 of the Indian Army Act, 1911.

Forfeiture of pay and allowances of prisoner of war.

3. (1) The whole or any part of the pay and allowances of an Indian commissioned officer may be forfeited by order of the Central Government if the officer is found by a military Court of Enquiry constituted under this Ordinance —

(a) to have deserted to the enemy, or

(b) while in enemy hands, to have served with, or under the orders of, the enemy, or in any manner to have aided the enemy, or

(c) to have allowed himself to be taken prisoner by the enemy through want of due precaution, or through disobedience of orders or wilful neglect of duty, or

(d) having been taken prisoner by the enemy, to have failed to rejoin His Majesty's service when it was possible to do so.

(2) The Central Government may at any time cancel in whole or in part any order made under sub-section (1), and any such cancellation may be with retrospective effect.

Courts of Enquiry.

4. The Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in India or any officer authorised by him in this behalf may constitute a military Court of such composition as the constituting authority thinks fit to enquire into and report to the Central Government on any case of the nature referred to in sub section (1) of section 3.

[THE] PUBLIC HEALTH (EMERGENCY PROVISIONS) ORDINANCE, 1944. (ORDINANCE No. XXI OF 1944.)[a]

[20th May, 1944.]

An Ordinance to make special provisions in regard to public health.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make special provision for preventing the spread of human disease, safeguarding the public health and providing and maintaining adequate medical services and other services essential to the health of the community :—

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 20th May 1944.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Public Health (Emergency Provisions) Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) "appropriate Government" means in relation to cantonment authorities and to port authorities in major ports, the Central Government, and in relation to all other local authorities, the Provincial Government ;

(b) 'local area" means the area within which a local authority exercises its functions ;

(c) "local authority" in this section and in sections 7 to 10 and 14 includes any body, whether incorporated or not, engaged in providing a supply of water ;

(d) "medical establishment" means establishment employed in connection with the provision of medical services ;

(e) "public health services" and "public health establishment" include respectively sanitary, water supply, vaccination, sewage disposal, drainage and conservancy services and establishment maintained for the purposes of such services, and any other service or establisment of a local authority which the appropriate Government may by notification in the official Gazette declare to be a public health service or public health establishment for any purpose of this Ordinance ;

(f) "purpose of this Ordinance" includes the purposes of ensuring the provision of adequate medical services, of preventing the spread of human disease, of safe-guarding the public health and of providing or maintaining services essential to the health of the community.

Power to require local authorities to take health measures.

3. (1) The appropriate Government may by order in writing require any local authority to take within such period as may be specified in the order such measures as may be so specified, being measures which are in the opinion of that Government necessary for any purpose of this Ordinance ; and thereupon it shall be the duty of the local authority to comply with the order within the specified period.

(2) If in the opinion of the appropriate Government a local authority which has been ordered under sub-section (1), to take any measures has failed to take, or is unlikely to complete, such measures within the period specified in the order, the appropriate Government may, without prejudice to any other action which may be taken under this Ordinance, authorise any person to take or complete, as the case may be, the said measures ; and the person so authorised may for the purpose exercise all or any of the powers of the local authority or of any committee or officer of the local authority conferred by or under any law for the time being in force, issue such directions as he thinks fit to the officers or servants of the local authority, and if he finds it necessary or expedient so to do, employ any outside agency.

(3) All charges and expenses incurred by a local authority in complying with an order under sub-section (1) or by a person authorised under sub-section (2) shall, except to such extent, if any, as the appropriate Government may direct to be paid out of its revenues, be paid out of the funds of the local authority.

Power to appoint additional health staff.

4. (1) The appropriate Government may, if it considers it necessary for any purpose of this Ordinance, appoint in any local area additional medical or public health establishment to perform such duties and exercise such functions as the appropriate Government may direct.

(2) Such additional establishment shall, unless and to such extent as the appropriate Government otherwise directs, be under the control of the appropriate Government, but its salaries and allowances or any specified portion thereof shall, if the appropriate Government so orders, be paid out of the funds of the local authority.

Powers of superintendence.

5. (1) The appropriate Government may, if it considers it necessary for any purpose of this Ordinance, by order in writing assume the superintendence of all or any of the medical and public health services of any local authority.

(2) Upon the assumption of superintendence under sub-section (1),—

(a) the appropriate Government may by order in writing specify the scale of the medical or public health establishment concerned to be maintained by the local authority, the qualifications to be required for appointment to posts in such establishment, and the pay and other conditions of service of such establishment;

(b) the powers of appointment, dismissal and punishment of, and grant of leave to, members of such establisment shall vest in such authority as the appropriate Government may appoint in this behalf ;

(c) the appropriate Government may by order in writing specify the powers to be exercised by Health Officers employed under the local authority ;

(d) the appropriate Government shall have power to inspect, superintend and control the operations of the local authority in regard to any purpose of this Ordinance, and may by order in writing authorise persons to carry out such inspection, superintendence and control and define their powers and duties when so acting ;

(e) the costs of and incidental to the services and establishments concerned shall continue to be paid out of the funds of the local authority.

Power to take over administration of services.

6. The appropriate Government may, if it considers it necessary for any purpose of this Ordinance, authorise by order in writing any person to take over from any local authority the administration of all or any of its medical and public health services or of any medical institution maintained by the local authority; and the person so authorised may for the purposes of such administration exercise all the powers specified in sub-section (2) of section 3 of a person authorised under that sub-section; and all charges and expenses incurred by the person authorised under this section shall, except to such extent, if any, as the appropriate Government may direct to be paid out of its revenues, be paid out of the funds of the local authority.

Water-supply.

7. (1) A local authority may, with the previous sanction of the appropriate Government, supply water to any other local authority or to any other authority or person within or without its local area upon such terms as may be agreed, notwithstanding any provision prohibiting or restricting such supply contained in any other law.

(2) The appropriate Government may by order in writing direct any local authority to supply water to any area or to any authority or person within or without its local area at such places and in such quantities as may be specified in the order, subject to such payment being made therefor and to such other conditions as the appropriate Government may consider reasonable.

Power to give directions.

8. For the purpose of carrying into effect any of the foregoing provisions of this Ordinance or any order made thereunder, the appropriate Government may in writing give to any local authority such directions as it thinks fit, and it shall be the duty of the local authority to comply therewith.

Power to supersede local authorities.

9. (1) If the appropriate Government is of opinion that any local authority has failed to comply, or has delayed in complying, with any order or rule made or direction given under this Ordinance or has failed to act in accordance with or give effect to any notification issued under section 10, the appropriate Government may by order in writing supersede the local authority for such period as may be specified in the order.

(2) When an order of supersession has been made under sub section (1)—

(a) all the members of the local authority shall, as from the date of supersession, vacate their offices as such members;

(b) all the powers and duties which may by or under any law for the time being in force be exercised or performed by or on behalf of the local authority shall, during the period of supersession, be exercised and performed by such person as the appropriate Government may authorise in this behalf;

(c) all property vested in the local authority shall during the period of supersession, vest in the appropriate Government.

(3) On the expiration of the period of supersession specified in the order under sub-section (1), the appropriate Government may by order in writing—

(a) extend the period for such further term as it may consider necessary; or

(b) direct that the local authority shall be reconstituted in the manner provided for its constitution by or under the law relating thereto, and in such case any persons who vacated their offices under clause (a) of sub-section (2) shall not be deemed to be disqualified thereby for election, appointment or nomination; or

(c) direct that the local authority shall be reconstituted by the persons who vacated their offices under clause (a) of sub-section (2) and shall recommence functioning as if it had not been superseded :

Provided that the appropriate Government may at any time before the expiration of the period of supersession whether as originally specified under sub-section (1) or as extended under this sub section, make an order under clause (b) or clause (c) of this sub-section.

Power to modify rules, byelaws, etc.

10. In relation to any local area the appropriate Government may by notification in the official Gazette make any rules, byelaws, regulations or orders connected with any purpose of this Ordinance which the local authority would under any law for the time being in force be competent to make, and may in like manner amend or suspend the operation of any such rule, byelaw, regulation or order made by the local authority :

Provided that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other law, it shall not be necessary when issuing any such notification to comply with the provisions of section 23 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, or the similar provisions of any local law or with any law providing for any procedure preliminary to the making of any such rule, byelaw, regulation or order :

Provided further that it shall be sufficient for the purpose of—

(a) cancelling any rule, byelaw, regulation or order made by the appropriate Government by notification under this section, or

(b) restoring to its form immediately prior to its amendment by notification under this section any rule, byelaw, regulation or order so amended—to rescind the notification.

Power to make rules.

11. (1) The appropriate Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Ordinance, and in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) prescribe any disease against the spread of which special precautions are considered by the appropriate Government to be necessary;

(b) prohibit any act which in the opinion of the appropriate Government is likely to lead to or facilitate the spread of any disease prescribed under clause (a).

(c) provide for the restraint, segregation and restriction of movement of persons suffering or suspected to be suffering from any such disease;

(d) provide for the temporary transfer of members of the medical and public health establishments of any local authority to service in another local area under the appropriate Government or another local authority.

(2) In making rules under this section, the appropriate Government may provide that a breach of any of the rules shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to three months or with fine or with both.

Certain persons deemed to be public servants.

12. All persons authorised under sub-section (2) of section 3, clause (d) of sub-section (2) of section 5, section 6 or clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 9 shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

Protection of action taken under this Ordinance.

13. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything in good faith done or intended to be done under this Ordinance.

Effect of other laws.

14. The provisions of this Ordinance and of any rules and orders made thereunder shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained in any law defining the powers, duties or obligations of a local authority.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Registration of Transferred Companies Ordinance, 1942.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Registration in British India of companies incorporated elsewhere in His Majesty's dominions

2. (1) If the Central Government is satisfied as respects any company incorporated by or under the law in force in any Dominion within the meaning of the Statute of Westminster, 1931 (22 Geo. 5, c. 4), or [a][in Pakistan or in Ceylon], or in any Colony, or in any British Protectorate, or in any territory, in respect of which a mandate on behalf of the League of Nations has been accepted by His Majesty and is being exercised by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, that it is expedient for any of the purposes specified in sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Defence of India Act, 1939, to exercise the powers conferred on the Central Government by this Ordinance, the Central Government may by order direct that the company shall be registered under and in accordance with this Ordinance by a Registrar of Companies in [b][a Province of India] and subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, where such a company is so registered, it shall, except so far as the order of the Central Government otherwise provides, be treated for all purposes as if it were a company incorporated under the India Companies Act, 1913, and registered under that Act in [b][a Province of India] and not elsewhere.

(2) Any such order may, in respect of the company to which it relates,—

(a) modify, adapt or exclude any of the provisions of the Indian Companies Act, 1913.

(b) modify, adapt or exclude any provisions of the memorandum and articles of association of the company as in force immediately before the making of the order, or of any other instrument as then in force regulating the constitution or functions of the company;

(c) contain such transitional provisions as appear to the Central Government to be necessary or expedient for enabling the company to carry on or recommence business outside the territory under the law of which it was incorporated immediately before the making of the order; and

(d) contain such incidental, supplemental and consequential provisions as appear to the Cenral Government to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of the order.

(3) The Central Government may make rules—

(a) regulating the manner in which companies are to be registered under this Ordinance and the matters which are to be registered under this Ordinance in relation to any company, and

(b) imposing upon Registrars of Companies under the Indian Companies Act, 1913, such duties in respect of the keeping of registers, books and other documents relating to the companies so registered as may be specified in the rules.

(4) The registration of a company under this Ordinance shall not affect any liability of the company or any other person to income-tax or excess profits tax and for the purposes of either such tax a company shall not be deemed to be resident in [c][a Province] by reason only of the fact that the control and management of the affairs of the company is temporarily situated wholly in [c][a Province] in consequence of the company having been registered in [c][a Province] under this Ordinance.

[THE] RESTRICTION AND DETENTION ORDINANCE, 1944.
(ORDINANCE NO. III OF 1944).[a]

[15th January, 1944.]

An Ordinance to empower the Central Government and the Provincial Government and any officer or authority to whom the Central Government or the Provincial Government may delegate its powers in this behalf to restrict the movements and actions of and to place in detention and detain certain persons, to regulate the exercise of these powers and the duration of orders made in such exercise, and to confirm the validity of the past exercise of such powers under rule 26 of the Defence of India Rules.

WHEREAS, an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to empower the Central Government and the Provincial Government and any officer or authority to whom the Central Government or the Provincial Government may delegate its powers in this behalf to restrict the movements and actions of and to place in detention and detain certain persons, to regulate the exercise of these powers and the duration of orders made in such exercise, and to confirm the validity of the past exercise of such powers under rule 26 of the Defence of India Rules.

NOW, THERFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary, dated 15th January 1944.

This Ordinance is amended by Ordinance No. 22 of 1944.

Short title, extent, application and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Restriction and Detention Ordinance, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and it applies also—

(a) to British subjects and servants of the Crown in any part of India,

(b) to British subjects who are domiciled in any part of India wherever they may be,

(c) in respect of the regulation and discipline of any naval, military or air force raised in British India, to members of and persons attached to, employed with, or following, that force wherever they may be, and

(d) to, and to persons on, ships and aircraft registered in British India wherever they may be.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, "Provincial Government" means, in relation to a Chief Commissioner's Province, the Chief Commissioner.

Power to make orders restricting the movements or actions of or detaining certain persons.

3. (1) The Central Government or the Provincial Government, if satisfied with respect to any particular person that with a view to preventing him from acting in any manner prejudicial to the defence of British India, the public safety, the maintenance of public order, His Majesty's relations with foreign powers or Indian States, the maintenance of peaceful conditions in Tribal Areas or the efficient prosecution of the war it is necessary so to do, may make an order —

(a) directing such person to remove himself from British India in such manner, by such time and by

Preamble — Note 1

[1] This Ordinance is not ultra vires of the powers of the Governor-General because it deals with exclusively a provincial subject (List II, entry I). As the Indian Legislature is by reason of a proclamation of emergency under S. 102 competent to legislate both upon central subjects and upon provincial subjects, there is no justification for limiting the ordinance-making power to Lists I and III subjects. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 (89) : I L R (1944) Kar F C 172 : 23 Pat 678 : (1944) 6 F C R 295 (FC).

[2] The reference to "the efficient prosecution of the war" in the Ordinance must be understood in the light of the circumstances in which the Ordinance came to be passed. And since efficient prosecution of war was necessary for Defence of India this Ordinance is not ultra vires the Governor-General. (Vol 32) 1945 F C 18 (19): I L R (1945) Kar F C 13 : 1945 F C R 81 : 24 Pat 187 : 46 Cri L Jour 559 (FC) ✠ (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (53) : 23 Pat 968 (FB) ✠ (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 59 (61) : 23 Pat 475 : 46 Cri L Jour 460 (DB).

SECTION 3 — SYNOPSIS

1. Object of the section.
2. Authority to be satisfied.
3. 'If satisfied.'
4. 'From acting.'
5. Orders directing detention—General.
6. Burden of proof.
7. Clause (1) (c).

1. Object of the section. — [1] The powers conferred on the Executive under Ordinance 3 of 1944 are for the purpose of preventive detention and are not punitive in their nature. The Executive should not detain a subject in order to punish him for what he has already done but in order to prevent him from doing something which in the opinion of the Executive is likely to affect the safety of the State or the efficient prosecution of the war. (Vol 33) 1946 Bom 32(33)(DB).

2. Authority to be satisfied. — [1] The Governor who has to be satisfied before the exercise of powers under S. 3, is as a part of the Provincial Executive and not in any way in contrast with or in contradiction to the Provincial Executive. (Vol 33)1946 Bom 32(34)(DB).

3. 'If satisfied.' — [1] The detaining authority must consider the case with extreme care and caution; the liberty of a subject is not to be lightly taken away. The satisfaction, which the law requires on the part of the detaining authority is a reasonable satisfaction, not vitiated by any consideration which is foreign to the scope and object of Ordinance. (Vol 33) 1946 Bom 32 (35) (DB). (Where an order of detention is made with the object of considering whether the Criminal Tribes Act can be used against the detenue and pending consideration of the use of that Act, the order of detention under this Ordinance is illegal.)

[2] The Court is not entitled to examine the sufficiency of the Governor's reasons, but only the fact of his satisfaction. All that the Court is entitled to consider is whether the Governor was in fact satisfied that the detention was necessary when he made the order and whether his order was bona fide. A mere allegation of want of good faith cannot entitle the Courts to examine the materials on which the Governor was satisfied of the necessity for detaining. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (51) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

[3] Evidence for conviction and evidence for detention is different—Evidence though insufficient to secure conviction may be sufficient to order detention of the accused. (Vol 32) 1945 Bom 533 (536) : 47 Cri L Jour 297 (DB).

4. 'From acting.' — [1] The words "from acting" in S. 3 (1) do not indicate persons considered to be such route as may be specified in the order, and prohibiting his return to British India;

(b) directing that he be detained;

(c) directing that except in so far as he may be permitted by the provisions of the order, or by such authority or person as may be specified therein, he shall not be in any such area or place in British India as may be specified in the order;

(d) requiring him to reside or remain in such place or within such area in British India as may be specified in the order and if he is not already there to proceed to that place or area within such time as may be specified in the order;

(e) requiring him to notify his moyements or to report himself or both to notify his movements and report himself in such manner at such times and to such authority or person as may be specified in the order;

(f) imposing upon him such restrictions as may be specified in the order in respect of his employment or business in respect of his association or communication with other persons, and in respect of his activities in relation to the dissemination of news or propagation of opinions;

(g) prohibiting or restricting the possession or use by him of any such article or articles as may be specified in the order;

(h) otherwise regulating his conduct in any such particular as may be specified in the order :

Provided that no order shall be made under clause (a) of this sub-section in respect of any British Indian subject of His Majesty;

Provided further that no order shall be made by the Provincial Government under clause (c) of this sub-section directing that any person ordinarily resident in the Province shall not be in the Province.

(2) An order made under sub-section (1) may require the person in respect of whom it is made to enter into a bond; with or without sureties, for the due performance of, or as an alternative to the enforcement of, such restrictions or conditions made in the order as may be specified in the order.

(3) If any person is in any area or place in contravention of an order made under the provisions of this section or fails to leave any area or place in accordance with the requirements of such an order, then, without prejudice to the provisions of sub-section (8), he may be removed from such area or place by any police officer or by any person acting on behalf of Government.

(4) So long as there is in force in respect of any person such an order as aforesaid directing that he be detained, he shall be liable to be removed to and detained in such place and under such conditions, including conditions as to maintenance, discipline and the punishment of offences and breaches of discipline, as the Central Government, or the Provincial actually acting in a prejudicial manner at the time of the making of the order. Persons who may act in future in a prejudicial manner can also be detained. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (53) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

5. Orders directing detention—General. — [1] Order directing detention of a person is the same thing as order for his detention. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (49) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

[2] The Ordinance is applicable even to persons already in detention who can be placed in detention under S. 3 (1) (b) of the Ordinance. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (53) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

[3] An order of detention is not invalid because it does not bear the seal of the Government of the Province. There is no rule requiring such an order to be so sealed. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (49) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

[4] Previous order of detention under R. 26, Defence of India Rules — Governor can cancel order and pass fresh order under S. 3 (1) (b) — Fresh order need not be based on fresh materials — That fresh order was passed while detenu was in detention does not justify inference that there was no fresh material. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (52, 54) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

[5] Where an original order of detention passed under S. 3 is bad and illegal, a subsequent order directing it to continue cannot validate it. Both orders must be held to be invalid. (Vol 33) 1946 Bom 32 (36) (DB).

[6] Detenu detained under order No. 963C made under R. 26, Defence of India Rules — Federal Court deciding that validity of order under R. 26, Defence of India Rules, could be investigated under S. 491, Criminal P. C.—Governor cancelling order No 963C and passing fresh order of detention under S. 3 (1) (b)—Subsequent order held was made bona fide and not to circumvent decision of Federal Court. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (49, 50) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

6. Burden of proof. — [1] Detention order—Bad faith on part of authority making order cannot be presumed—Presumption is of good faith. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (51) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

[2] Bona fide of detention order challenged—Crown is not bound in every case to file affidavit that Governor had applied his mind to case and was in fact satisfied of necessity of order before he made it—Production of detention order is sufficient (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (56) : 23 Pat 968 (FB). (Per Meredith J.)

[2] Detention order challenged by detenu—Mode in which Crown should present its case indicated. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (57) : 23 Pat 968 (FB). (Per Sinha J.)

[4] Though it is open to the detenu detained under Ordinance to show that the order of detention was not in fact made by the authority empowered to make it or that it was a fraudulent exercise of the power, the burden of substantiating these pleas lies on the detenu. The mere fact that the detenu challenges the factum or the bona fides of the order or the fact that the officers of the Government must naturally be in possession of information on the subject cannot be said to be "proof to the contrary" so as to make it incumbent on the Government to adduce evidence in support of the order. (Vol 32) 1945 F C 18 (19, 20) : I L R (1945) Kar F C 13 : 24 Pat 187 : 1945 F C R 81 (FC).

[5] Detention order supported by affidavit—Onus on the person detained is practically impossible of discharge, the only method of escape being to show that the alleged order is no order at all—High Court cannot question motive of authority concerned unless fraud or mistake is proved. (Vol 32) 1945 Bom 533 (534, 536) : 47 Cri L Jour 297 (DB).

[6] Detenu detained under R. 26, Defence of India Rules, by order No. 963C—Application by detenu under S. 491, Criminal P. C., rejected on ground that High Court's jurisdiction was barred by S. 10 of Ordinance —Federal Court setting aside High Court's orders and remitting application for disposal to High Court—Thereafter Governor cancelling Order No. 963C and passing fresh order No. 3929C for detention under S. 3 (1) (b) of Ordinance — Detenu held not entitled to release merely by showing that order No. 963C was illegal—He must show that order No. 3929C was also illegal. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (48, 49) : 23 Pat 968 (FB).

7. Clause (1) (c).—[1] Section 3 (1) (c) falls within Sch. 7 List II, Item 1 and List III, Item 2, Government of India Act, and therefore is not ultra vires of powers of Governor-General. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 444 (445, 446) : 24 Pat 418 : 47 Cri L Jour 463 (DB).

Government, as the case may be, may from time to time by general or special order specify.

(5) Where the power to specify the place of detention is exercisable by the Provincial Government the power of the Provincial Government shall include power to specify a place of detention outside the Province:

Provided that—

(a) no such place shall be specified save with previous consent of the Provincial Government of the Province in which the place is situated and where the place is situate in a Chief Commissioner's Province, of the Central Government.

(b) the power to specify the conditions of detention shall be exercised by the Provincial Government of the Province in which the place is situate, or where the place is situate in a Chief Commissioner's Province, by the Central Government.

(6) If the Central Government or the Provincial Government, as the case may be, has reason to believe that a person in respect of whom such an order as aforesaid has been made directing that he be detained has absconded or is concealing himself so that the order cannot be exercised that Government may—

(a) make a report in writing of the fact to a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction in the place where the said person ordinarily resides; and thereupon the provisions of sections 87, 88 and 89 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898) shall apply in respect of the said person and his property as if the order directing that he be detained were a warrant issued by the Magistrate;

(b) by order notified in the official Gazette directing the said person to appear before such officer, at such place and within such period as may be specified in the order, and if the said person fails to comply with such direction he shall, unless he proves that it was not possible for him to comply therewith and that he had, within the period specified in the order, informed the officer of the reasons which rendered compliance therewith impossible and of his whereabouts, be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, or with fine, or with both.

(7) The Central Government or the Provincial Government may, by general or special order made with the consent of the Crown Representative, provide for the removal of any person detained by it under sub-section (1) to, and for the detention of such person in, any area administered by the Crown Representative.

(8) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, other than an order of the nature referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (6), he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years, or with fine, or with both, and if such person has entered into a bond in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (2), his bond shall be forfeited, and any person bound thereby shall pay the penalty thereof, or show cause to the satisfaction of the convicting Court why such penalty should not be paid.

(9) Any order made under the powers given by this section shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any Act, Ordinance or Regulation other than this Ordinance, or in any instrument having effect by virtue of any such Act, Ordinance or Regulation.

Powers of photographing, etc., persons.

4. (1) The Central Government or the Provincial Government may, by order, direct that any person, in respect of whom an order has been made under sub-section (1) of section 3, shall—

(a) allow himself to be photographed,

(b) allow his finger and thumb impressions to be taken,

(c) furnish specimens of his handwriting and signature, and

(d) attend at such time and place before such authority or person as may be specified in the order for all or any of the purposes mentioned in this sub-section.

(2) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine, or with both.

Delegation of powers and duties of Central and Provincial Governments to other authorities and to officers.

5. (1) The Central Government may by order direct that any power or duty which under section 3 or section 4 is conferred or imposed upon the Central Government shall, in such circumstances and under such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the direction, be exercised or discharged—

(a) by any officer or authority subordinate to the Central Government, or

(b) by any Provincial Government or by any officer or authority subordinate to such Government.

(2) A Provincial Government may by order direct that any power or duty which by or under section 3 or by section 4 is conferred or imposed on the Provincial Government shall, in such circumstances and under such conditions, if any, as may be specified in that direction, be exercised or discharged by any officer or authority, not being (except in the case of a Chief Commissioner's Province) an officer or authority subordinate to the Central Government.

Validation of orders made under rule 26, Defence of India Rules.

6. (1) No order made before the commencement of this Ordinance under rule 26 of the Defence of India Rules shall after such commencement be deemed to be invalid or be called in question on the ground merely that the said rule purported to confer powers in excess of the powers that might at the time the said order was made be legally conferred by a rule made under section 2 of the Defence of India Ordinance, 1939, or under section 2 of the Defence of India Act, 1939.

(2) Every such order shall on the commencement of this Ordinance be deemed to have been, and shall have effect as if it had been made under this Ordinance,

Section 6— Note 1

[1] By reason of Ss. 6 and 10 the High Court no longer has jurisdiction to hear applications under S. 491, Cr. P. Code by persons detained under R. 26, Defence of India Rules, pending before it. All such proceedings under S. 491 as were pending when the Ordinance came into force are discharged. (Vol 31) 1944 Lah 142 (145) : 45 Cri L Jour 711: I L R (1946) Lah 147 (FB).

[2] Section 6 (1) is not retrospective in such a way as to be invalid. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 59 (61) : 23 Pat 475 : 46 Cri L Jour 460 (DB).

[3] The word "such" in the expression "every such order" in cl. (2) of S. 6 can only attract the qualification to be found in the opening words of cl. (1), namely, 'order made before the commencement of this Ordinance under Rule 26 of the Defence of India Rules". The further qualification to be extracted from the reference there contained to the ground of invalidity arising out of the ultra vires character of R. 26 could not be imported into cl. (2). (Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 (92, 93) : I L R (1944) Kar (F C) 172 : 23 Pat 678 : 1944 F C R 295 (F C).

[4] Clause 6 (2) together with the proviso makes it clear that the detention of persons originally detained and as if this Ordinance had been in force at the time the order was made :

Provided that section 7 and section 9 of this Ordinance shall apply in relation to any order made under clause (b) of sub-rule (1) of rule 26 of the Defence of India Rules as if that order had been made on the date of the commencement of this Ordinance, and section 8 of this Ordinance shall not apply to any such order.

(3) Nothing in the foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to any such order which has already been cancelled by or in consequence of an order of a competent Court :

Provided that any such cancellation shall not prevent the making under this Ordinance of a fresh order to the same effect as the order cancelled.

Grounds of order to be disclosed to person affected by the order.

7. Where an order is made in respect of any person under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 3, as soon as may be after the order is made, and where before the commencement of this Ordinance an order has been made in respect of any person under clause (b) of sub-rule (1) of rule 26 of the Defence of India Rules, as soon as may be after the commencement of this Ordinance the authority making or which made the order shall communicate to the person affected thereby so far as such communication can be made without disclosing facts which the said authority considers it would be against the public interest to disclose, the grounds on which the order has been made against him and such other particulars as are in the opinion of such authority sufficient to enable him to make if he wishes a representation against the order, and such person may at any time thereafter make a representation in writing to such authority against the order, and it shall be the duty of such authority to inform such person of his right of making such representation and to afford him the earliest practical opportunity of doing so.

Order of detention made in pursuance of delegation under section 5 to be reported to Government for confirmation.

8. When any order is made in respect of any person under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 3 by an officer or authority empowered in pursuance of section 5, that officer or authority shall forthwith report the fact to the Government to which he or it is subordinate, and that Government shall, after considering all the circumstances of the case including any representation made by the person affected by the order, make an order confirming or cancelling the order.

Duration of orders of detention made under section 3.

9. No order made or deemed under the provisions of section 6 to have been made under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 3 shall be in force for more than six months from the date on which it is made :

Provided that the Government which made the order, or where the order was made by an officer or authority empowered in pursuance of section 5 of this Ordinance or sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) of section 2 of the Defence of India Ordinance 1939, or the Defence of India Act, 1939, the Government to which such officer or authority is subordinate, may after a further consideration of all the circumstances of the case [a][and at any time within thirty days before the expiry of the said six months, direct by an endorsement on the original order or otherwise that the order shall continue in force,] and the order as so extended shall continue in force for a further period of six months [b][from the date on which but for such direction it would have ceased to be in force] and thereafter if and so often as it is again extended by a further similar direction made in the same manner.

[a] Substituted for the words "direct that the order shall continue in force notwithstanding that the said period of six months has expired" by the Restriction and Detention (Amendment) Ordinance, 1944 (No. 22 of 1944), S. 2 [27-5-1944].

Saving as to orders.

10. (1) No order made under this Ordinance, and no order having effect by virtue of section 6 as if it had been made under this Ordinance, shall be called in question in any Court, and no Court shall have power to make any order under section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in respect of any order made under or having effect under this Ordinance, or in respect of any person the subject of such an order.

under Defence of India Rules, R. 26, is now to be treated as the detention of those persons under the Restriction and Detention Ordinance as if an order had been made under that Ordinance on 15th January 1944. It cannot be said that the proviso to Cl. 6 (2) is repugnant to the provisions of Cl. 6(2) itself. Clause 6 (2) relates to all orders under the Ordinance whereas the proviso relates to those made under R. 26 (1) (b), Defence of India Rules, namely, detention. (Vol 31) 1944 Cal 284 (285) : 45 Cri L Jour 745 (D B).

[5] Section 6 (2) does not validate a document which is not an order at all, even though it bears the signature of a duly authorised officer, if it can be shown that the officer never applied his mind when he affixed his signature to it ; and it is only orders made valid by S. 6 (1) to which S. 6 (2) applies and is limited. (Vol 32) 1945 Bom 212 (216) : I L R (1945) Bom 317 : 46 Cri L Jour 608 (FB). (Effect of S. 6 (1), explained.)

Section 7—Note 1

[1] Great vigilance is necessary in enforcing the privilege under the section. Inordinate delay in sending notice—In appropriate circumstances High Court may find that detention though not illegal in origin had become improper within meaning of S. 491, Criminal P. C. (Vol 33) 1946 Oudh 183 (187): 20 Luck 535 (DB).

Section 9 — Note 1

[1] Detention under an order made under S. 9 continuing in force an order previously made, which is ineffective and inoperative as the order was not served as required by R. 119 of the Defence of India Rules, is not legal. (Vol 32) 1945 Nag 159 (163) : I L R (1945) Nag 382 (DB)

Section 10 — Note 1

[1] The recital in preamble of the Ordinance as to the necessity "to confirm the validity of the past exercise of such powers under R. 26, Defence of India Rules" has relation to both S. 10 and S. 6. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 (90) : I L R (1944) Kar. F C 172 : 23 Pat. 678 : (1944) F C R 295 (FC).

[2] Provision in Ss. 10 and 6 that the order of detention shall not be called in question in any Court is valid. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 (90) : I L R (1944) Kar F C 172 : 23 Pat. 678 : (1944) F C R 295 (FC). ((Vol 30) 1943 F C 75 : I L R (1943) Kar F C 103 : (1944) F C R 1 (FC), Rel. on.)

[3] This section does not purport to repeal S. 491, Criminal P. C. All it does is to interdict the High Court from exercising the power or jurisdiction conferred by S. 491 in certain class of cases, which is permissible for the ordinance-making authority to do. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 (90, 94, 95) : I L R (1944) Kar F C 172 : 23 Pat 678 : (1944) F C R 295 (FC). (Nature and extent of curtailment of High Court's power indicated.)

[4] Jurisdiction of the Court to question the grounds or motives for making the orders or for calling them in

(2) If at the commencement of this Ordinance there is pending in any Court any proceeding by which the validity of an order having effect by virtue of section 6 as if it had been made under this Ordinance is called in question, that proceeding is hereby discharged.

(3) Where an order purports to have been made by any authority in exercise of any power conferred by or under this Ordinance, the Court shall, within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, presume that such order was so made by that authority.

Disclosure of grounds of detention, etc, communicated or of contents of written representation made under section 7.

11. (1) [a][No Court shall, except for the purposes of a prosecution for an offence punishable under sub-section (2), allow] any statement to be made or any evidence to be given before it of the substance of any communication made under section 7 of the grounds on which [b][any order referred to in that section] has been made against any person, or of any particulars disclosed in connection [c][therewith under that section,] or of any representation made under that section against any order, and, notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, no Court shall be entitled to require any public officer to produce before it, or to disclose the substance of, any such communication of grounds, particulars disclosed, or representation made.

(2) It shall be an offence punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both, for any person to disclose or publish without the previous authorization of the Central Government or the Provincial Government any contents d[or matter purporting to be contents] of any question is taken away by S. 10. The Court cannot call such an order in question unless it could be affirmatively proved that the order had been brought about by some fraud or that by some mistake the order did not apply to the person who was purported to be detained under it. (Vol 32) 1945 Bom 533 (534) : 47 Cri L Jour 297 (DB).

[5] The jurisdiction of the Court is taken away only when the order on which the Government is relying is an order "made under the Ordinance." It must be made by the detaining authority in the proper exercise of its powers and not merely in colourable exercise. Authority should also not exceed the powers given to it under the Ordinance. (Vol 33) 1946 Bom 32 (36) (DB). (Detention to consider whether Criminal Tribes Act should be applied—Detention is bad.)

[6] This section does not purport to repeal S. 491, Criminal P. C. The High Court is still at liberty to investigate whether an order purporting to have been made under R. 26, Defence of India Rules and deemed to be made under the Ordinance or a new order purporting to be made under the Ordinance was in fact validly made, and if it was not validly made, it has power to pass orders under S. 491, Criminal P. C. (Vol 32) 1945 Nag 159 (163): ILR (1945) Nag 382(DB).

[7] Section 10 does not preclude the High Court from considering applications for a writ of habeas corpus under S. 491, Criminal P. C., based on the allegation that the order of detention of the petitioner was passed mala fide. (Vol 32) 1945 Oudh 222 (225) : 20 Luck 504 (DB). ((Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 : I L R (1944) Kar F C 172 : 23 Pat 678 : (1944) F C R 295 (F C) and (Vol 32) 1945 F C 18 : I L R (1945) Kar F C 13 : 24 Pat 187 : 1945 F C R 81 (FC), Foll.)

[8] The first part of S. 10 (1) does not take away the jurisdiction of the Court to call in question orders under R. 26, Defence of India Rules on the ground that they are ultra vires. The second part of S. 10 (1) which suspends the operation of S. 491, Criminal P. C., applies to two classes of orders, that is to say, orders made under S. 3 of the Ordinance itself and orders "having effect under this Ordinance or in respect of any person the subject of such an order". (Vol 32) 1945 Bom 212 (216) : I L R (1945) Bom 317 : 46 Cri L Jour 608 (FB).

[9] The direction in S. 10 (2) that such a proceeding is discharged is clearly a judicial act and not a legislative enactment and hence, S. 10 (2) is void to the extent to which it goes further than S 10 (1). (Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 (90, 91) : I L R (1944) Kar F C L72 : 23 Pat 678 : (1944) F C R 295 (F C).

[See however (Vol 31) 1944 Lah 142 (148) : I L R (1946) Lah 147 : 45 Cri L Jour 711 (FB). (The words "that proceeding is hereby discharged" simply mean that the High Court has no longer any jurisdiction to continue hearing the matter or to adjudicate upon it. The Governor-General cannot be said to exercise judicial and not legislative power in enacting the sub-section. The sub-section accordingly is intra vires.)]

[But see (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 59 (61) : 23 Pat 475 : 46 Cri L Jour 460 (DB). (Provision in S. 10 (2) for discharging certain proceedings is not a usurpation of judicial functions in the guise of legislation and there is nothing invalid in such legislation—Case decided before the decision in (Vol 31) 1944 F C 86 : I L R (1944) Kar F C 172 : 23 Pat 678 : (1944) F C R 295 (FC).)]

[10] Section 10 (2) is a valid piece of legislation. Assuming that cutting down the powers of the High Court is cutting down the powers of the Crown in relation to the administration of justice it cannot be said that the sovereignty, or dominion or suzerainty of the Crown is affected within S. 110, Government of India Act. (Vol 31) 1944 Cal 284[s] (287): 45 Cr L J 745 (DB).

[11] Section 10 (3) raises a presumption that an order purporting to be made by any authority in exercise of any power conferred by or under the Ordinance was made by that authority. The onus therefore lies on the person alleging it to show that the order is not an order made by the Governor. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (49): 23 Pat 968 (FB).

Section 11 — Note 1

[1] Section 11 does not repeal any part of the Evidence Act and is not, on that ground, ultra vires. At most, what it does is that, for the period of its own currency, it suspends any provision of the Evidence Act which would enable the detenu to place before the Court the matters referred to in S. 11. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 44 (51):23 Pat 968 (FB). (The detenue is, of course, entitled to show lack of good faith on the part of the authority making the order of detention under the Ordinance by referring to materials, other than those referred to in S. 11.)

[2] The amendment effected in S. 11 (1) and (2) by Ordinance XXII of 1944, is retrospective in operation being an alteration of the procedural and not of the substantive law. (Vol 33) 1946 Nag 99 (103, 104) : I L R (1945) Nag 809 (DB) (Prosecution under sub-s. (2) — Evidence of substance of communication made under S. 7 wrongly shut out in trial Court—Power of Appellate Court to direct further evidence to be taken under S. 428, Criminal P. C.)

[3] The true meaning of sub-s. (1) is that a public officer authorised to do so may produce before the Court, or disclose the substance of, such grounds or particulars, though the Court cannot require him to do so, and the first part of sub-s. (1) refers to statements made or evidence given by persons other than such public officer. (Vol 33) 1946 Nag 99 (104):I L R (1945) Nag 809 (DB).

such communication of grounds, particulars disclosed, or representation made :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to a disclosure made by a person the subject of an order under this Ordinance to his legal adviser.

Protection of action taken under this Ordinance.

12. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Ordinance.

[THE] SECUNDERABAD MARRIAGE VALIDATING ORDINANCE, 1945. (ORDINANCE NO. XXX OF 1945.)[a]

[1st September, 1945.]

An Ordinance to validate a certain marriage solemnised in Secunderabad.

WHEREAS the Reverend Harold William Sibree Page, a Minister of the Methodist Church having been granted by the Resident in Hyderabad a licence under section 9 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, (XV of 1872) to grant certificates of marriage between Indian Christian subjects of His Majesty in the Hyderabad State, did on the 20th day of April 1944 at Secunderabad solemnise a marriage between Christian, but not Indian Christian, subjects of His Majesty in the belief that he was by the aforesaid licence authorised so to do;

AND WHEREAS the parties to the said marriage believed that the said Reverend Harold William Sibree Page was duly authorised to solemnise the marriage and that the marriage was valid in law;

AND WHEREAS the said parties being Christians, but not Indian Christian subjects of His Majesty, the said Reverend Harold William Sibree Page had not the requisite authority under the licence held by him to solemnise the said marriage;

AND WHEREAS, the said marriage having been solemnised in good faith, an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to provide for the validation thereof;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance: —

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary dated 1st September 1945.

Short title.

1. This Ordinance may be called the Secunderabad, Marriage Validating Ordinance, 1945.

Validation of a certain irregular marriage and the records thereof.

2. (1) The marriage solemnised in St. Andrew's Church at Secunderabad on the 20th day of April 1944 between persons being Christian, but not Indian Christian, subjects of His Majesty by the Reverend Harold William Sibree Page, a Minister of the Methodist Church, shall be, and shall be deemed to have been with effect on and from the said date, as good and valid in law as if it had been solemnised under a license granted under section 6 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, authorising the solemnisation of marriages between persons being Christian, but not necessarily Indian Christian, subjects of His Majesty in the Hyderabad State.

(2) Certificates of the marriage declared by sub-section (1) to be good and valid in law, and register books and certified copies of true and duly authenticated extracts therefrom, deposited in compliance with the provisions of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, in so far as the register books and extracts relate to the said marriage, shall be received as evidence of the marriage as if it had been duly solemnised under Part I of the said Act.

[THE] SPECIAL CRIMINAL COURTS (REPEAL) ORDINANCE, 1943. (ORDINANCE NO. XIX OF 1943.)[a]

[5th June, 1943.]

An Ordinance to repeal the Special Criminal Courts Ordinance, 1942, and to provide for certain matters in connection with such repeal.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to repeal the Special Criminal Courts Ordinance, 1942, and to provide for certain matters in connection with such repeal;

ORDINANCE IX OF 1943

Preamble — Note 1

[1] It cannot be assumed that Ordinance XIX of 1943 was enacted on the admitted footing that Ordinance II of 1942 was void, and that the new Ordinance attempts to do something which the ordinance-making authority had no power to do. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 1 (5) : 23 Pat 159 : I L R (1944) Nag 300 : 45 Cri L Jour 413 : I L R (1944) Kar F C 8 : 1944 F C R 61 (F C).

[2] The Ordinance is a valid Ordinance, as it is one which it was competent to the Governor-General to enact. (Vol 31) 1944 Bom 121 (123) : I L R (1944) Bom 142 : 45 Cri L Jour 567 (FB).

[3] Although a legislative authority cannot validate what it could not have antecedently authorised, it cannot be held that it cannot validate by subsequent legislation what it could have legally authorised beforehand. There is no objection, therefore, to the Governor-General doing subsequently what he could have properly done previously. (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 446 (451) : 22 Pat 614 : 45 Cri L Jour 557 (DB). (Agarwala J.)

[4] The substance of the Repeal Ordinance, that is to say, the execution of the sentences passed by the Special Courts subject to such modification as may be made on the merits on appeal or in review, has been expressed with sufficient clarity to take effect and is not ultra vires. (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 346 (352) : 22 Pat 565 : 44 Cri L Jour 809 (DB).

[5] Interpretation — Ordinance as a whole should be taken and construed in the light of surrounding circumstances. (Vol 30) 1943 Cal 489 (493) : 45 Cri L Jour 37 (SB).

[6] Ordinance XIX of 1943 can be invoked for the purpose having a reference for confirmation of a death sentence even though Ordinance II of 1942 did not contain any provision for that purpose. (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 413 (415) : 45 Cri L Jour 577 (DB).

NOW THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 5th June 1943.

Applied to the Chittagong Hill-tracts, with modifications, with effect from 1st July 1943, in so far as it is not inconsistent with the Chittagong Hill-tracts Regulation 1900, or any rules for the time being in force thereunder, see Beng. Govt. Notifn. No. 181-S, dated 26-6-1943; to the Darjeeling District and the partially excluded areas of the Mymensingh District, with modifications, with effect from 1st July 1943, see Beng. Govt. Notifn. No. 7916-Def. dated 30-6-1943.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Special Criminal Courts (Repeal) Ordinance, 1943.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Repeal of Ordinance II of 1942.

2. The Special Criminal Courts Ordinance, 1942 (hereinafter referred to as the said Ordinance) is hereby repealed.

Confirmation and continuance, subject to appeal, of sentences.

3. (1) Any sentence passed by a Special Judge, a Special Magistrate or a summary Court in exercise of jurisdiction conferred or purporting to have been conferred by or under the said ordinance shall have effect, and subject to the succeeding provisions of this section, shall continue to have effect, as if the trial at which it was passed had been held in accordance with the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, by a Sessions Judge, an Assistant Sessions Judge or a Magistrate of the first class respectively, exercising competent jurisdiction under the said Code :

[a][Provided that in respect of any such sentence as aforesaid passed in a Presidency-town, the reference in this sub-section to Courts established under the said Code shall be construed as a reference to the Court in the Presidency-town competent in law to have passed the sentence.]

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law, any such sentence as is referred to in sub-section (1) shall, whether or not the proceedings in which the sentence was passed were submitted for review under section 8 and whether or not the sentence was subject of an appeal under section 13 or section 19, of the said Ordinance, be subject to such rights of appeal as would have accrued, and to such powers of revision as would have been exercisable under the said Code if the sentence had at a trial so held been passed on the date of the commencement of this Ordinance; [a][or in respect of a sentence passed in a Presidency-town, on the date of the commencement of the Special Criminal Courts (Repeal) Amendment Ordinance, 1943 :

Provided that in respect of any such sentence as aforesaid passed in a Presidency-town, which sentence would, if it had been passed in a sessions division outside the Presidency-town, have had effect as if passed by a Sessions Judge or an Assistant Sessions Judge, the convicted person shall have a right of appeal to the High Court in the same manner as if the Court competent in law to have passed the sentence had been the Court of Session in a sessions division outside the Presidency-town :]

[b][Provided further that notwithstanding anything contained in section 418 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, an appeal against any such sentence as aforesaid shall lie on a matter of fact as well as a matter of law.]

(3) Where any such sentence as aforesaid has been altered in the course of review or on appeal under the said Ordinance, the sentence as so altered shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to have been passed by the Court which passed the original sentence.

[a] Added by the Special Criminal Courts (Repeal) Amendment Ordinance, 1943 (No. 26 of 1943), S. 2 [17-7-1943]. [b] Added by the Special Criminal Courts (Repeal) Second Amendment Ordinance, 1943 (No. 32 of 1943), S. 2 [29-9-1943].

SECTION 3—SYNOPSIS.

1. Object and scope.
2. Validity of the section.
3. Retrospective effect.
4. 'Sentence.'
5. Powers of High Court.
6. Clause (3).

1. Object and scope.— [1] One plain and obvious purpose of the Ordinance is to remedy the hardship and the anomaly which would ensue if punishments which have already been dealt out are to be continued but are to be exempt from judicial examination. This is how sub-s. (2) of S. 3 came to be enacted, and it is not inconsistent with the view that the Legislature had bowed to the authority of the Federal Court in the matter of jurisdiction of the Special Courts. (Vol 30) 1943 Cal 489 (500):45 Cri L Jour 37 (SB). (Per Khundkar J.)

[2] There is no attempt to exercise judicial power. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 1 (9) : 23 Pat 159 : I L R (1944) Nag 300:45 Cri L Jour 413 : I L R (1944) Kar F C 8 : (1944) F C R 61 (F C).

[3] Section 3 (1) refers not only to the exercise of a jurisdiction conferred by or under Ordinance 2 of 1942, but also to a jurisdiction purported to be conferred on the Special Judge It covers a case where the jurisdiction exercised by the Provincial Government is doubtful because the application of the Ordinance in a particular case is doubtful. (Vol 31) 1944 Sind 1 (12) : I L R (1943) Kar 449 : 45 Cri L Jour 471 (F B).

[4] Ordinance does not validate conviction — It merely gives indemnity for acts done — Sentences are merely kept in effect till dealt with in appeal or revision. (Vol 30) 1943 Cal 489 (495) : 45 Cri L Jour 37 (S B). (Per Derbyshire C. J.)

[5] Section 3 covers all trials held under Ordinance 2 of 1942 whether they have resulted in convictions or acquittals. (Vol 32) 1945 Sind 33 (37, 38): I L R (1944) Kar 430 : 46 Cri L Jour 422 (D B). (Person acquitted by Special Magistrate holding trial under Ordinance 2 of 1942 —No fresh trial can be held for same offence.)

[6] The convictions could not be set aside merely because the Special Judge had tried what was ordinarily a summons case as a warrant case. (Vol 31) 1944 Sind 1 (13) : I L R (1943) Kar 449: 45 Cri L Jour 471 (FB).

[7] Section 3 validates also a trial held under the provisions of R. 130, Defence of India Rules. (Vol 31) 1944 Pat 232(233): 23 Pat 108: 45 Cri L Jour 725(DB).

[8] Sections 3 and 4—Special Judge issuing notice to accused to show cause why they should not be prosecuted under S. 193, Penal Code, for making false statements in his Court — Before accused could appear to show cause, Court of Special Judge abolished by Ordinance 19 of 1943—Ordinance 19 of 1943 held provided no successor to Court of Special Judge — Sessions Judge held had no jurisdiction to direct prosecution of accused for perjury. (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 64 (66) : 46 Cri L Jour 605 : 23 Pat 701 (D B).

2 Validity of the section.—[1] Section 3 (1) confers validity and full effectiveness on sentences passed by Disposal of pending cases.

4. Where the trial of any case pending before a Court constituted under the said Ordinance has not concluded before the date of the commencement of this Ordinance the proceedings of such Court in the case shall be void; and the case shall be deemed to be transferred,

Special Courts under Ordinance 2 of 1942 and this provision is not ultra vires the Governor General. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 1 (12):I L R (1944) Nag 300:23 Pat 159:I L R (1944) Kar (F C) S : 45 Cri L Jour 413 : (1944) F C R 61 (F C) ✠ (Vol 31) 1944 Bom 121 (122, 123) : I L R (1944) Bom 142 : 45 Cri L Jour 567 (F B). (S. 3 (1) does not run counter to the decision of the Federal Court in (Vol 30) 1943 F. C. 36)✠(Vol 30) 1943 All 379 (386, 387) : I L R (1944) All 42 : 45 Cri L Jour 491 (F B).

[2] The legislation which affects sentences in S. 3 (1) of Ordinance 19 of 1943 falls within Item 2 of List III of Sch. 7, Government of India Act (1935), and is, therefore, the proper subject-matter of legislation by the Governor-General acting under S. 72. (Vol 31) 1944 Sind 1 (9): ILR (1943) Kar 449:45 Cri L Jour 471 (F B).

[3] The Courts set up under Ordinance II of 1942 were not validly constituted Courts hence the Governor-General had power to pass an Act validating sentences imposed by those Courts. S. 3 (1) is not therefore invalid and it means what it says. (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 602 (607, 608) : I L R (1943) Mad 737 : 45 Cri L Jour 59 (F B).

3. Retrospective effect.—[1] Section 3 (1) has no retrospective effect. It speaks from the moment it was made and promulgated (namely from 5th June 1943). (Vol 30) 1943 All 379 (386) : I L R (1944) All 42 : 45 Cri L Jour 491 (F B). (Per Iqbal Ahmad C. J.).

4. 'Sentence.'—[1] Sections 3 (1) and 2—Word 'sentence' is used in narrower sense as meaning 'punishment imposed'. (Vol 33) 1946 P C 169 (172, 173) : 47 Cri L Jour 933 : 73 Ind App 199 : I L R (1946) Kar P C 153 (P C). (I L R (1943) Kar 449 : (Vol 31) 1944 Sind 1 : 45 Cri L Jour 471 (F B), Overruled.)

[See also (Vol 30) 1943 Cal 489 (499) : 45 Cri L Jour 37 (SB). (Per Khundkar J.—The word "sentences" in S. 3 is ill-judged and out of place. What the Legislature apparently intended to give life to and to continue was really the penalty or punishment, be it fine or imprisonment, which is now in process of being endured by persons who have been visited with such penalty or punishment under Ordinance 2 of 1942.)]

[2] As S. 3 (1) requires the sentence to be treated as one passed by a competent Court at a proper trial, no separate provision referring to 'conviction' was necessary. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 1 (7) : I L R (1944) Nag 300 : 23 Pat 159 : I L R (1944) Kar F C S : 45 Cri L Jour 413 : (1944) F C R 61 (F C).

[3] For the purpose of confirmation and continuance of a conviction and sentence under sub-s. (1) of S. 3 the material date is the date when the sentence is passed, and the conviction recorded, the date the judgment bears and not the date of the commencement of the Ordinance. This is the date from which the sentence would run if the appellate Court confirmed the conviction and sentence. (Vol 31) 1944 Sind 1 (13) : I L R (1943) Kar 449 : 45 Cri L Jour 471 (F B).

5. Powers of High Court. — [1] Right of appeal under S. 3 (2) is not illusory. (Vol 31) 1944 Bom 121 (122) : I L R (1944) Bom 142:45 Cri L Jour 567 (F B). (Per Beaumont C. J.)

[2] As regards the provision for appeal and revision so much of S. 3 (2) as is meaningless and unworkable may be disregarded. Regard may be paid to the section only so far as it provides for the exercise of revisional powers under S. 435 of the Code. (Vol 30) 1943 Cal 489 (502) : 45 Cri L Jour 37 (S B). (Per Khundkar J.)

[3] The appellate Court acting under S. 3 (2) is entitled to examine the totality of those proceedings and to pronounce such judgment as to the sentences imposed by the Special Judge as after the examination of those proceedings it thinks just. It is, therefore, the duty of the appellate Court to consider not only points of law but the sufficiency of the evidence to justify the sentence imposed. (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 446 (452) : 22 Pat 614 : 45 Cri L Jour 557 (D B).

[4] Sub-section(1) of S. 3 must be interpreted in such a way as not only to permit the High Court but to make it incumbent upon it to consider the confirmation of any death sentence passed by a Special Judge in the same way as it should consider the confirmation of a death sentence passed by a Sessions Judge under the Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court can in such a case consider all questions of law and fact that may arise. (Vol 31)1944 Sind 83(85): 45 Cri L J 598 (FB).

[5] The expression "at a trial so held" in S. 3 (2) means obviously a trial held in accordance with the Criminal Procedure Code and by a Court having competent jurisdiction under the Code. As sub-s (2) gives the right of appeal and the power of revision only on this hypothetical footing, the appellate or revisional authority cannot ignore this basic postulate and give relief on the very ground that the trial had not been held under the Code or before a Court exercising competent jurisdiction under the Code. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 1 (6) : I L R (1944) Nag 300 : 23 Pat 159 : I L R (1944) Kar F C S : 45 Cri L Jour 413 : (1944) F C R 61 (F C).

[6] 'Sentence' in S. 3 (2) means punishment imposed and hence High Court has, under this sub-section, power to revise the sentence passed by the Special Magistrate i. e., to enhance or reduce it but it has no power to set the conviction aside or to direct a retrial. (Vol 33) 1946 P C 169 (173):47 Cri L Jour 933 : 73 Ind App 199 : I L R (1946) Kar P C 153 (P C). ((Vol 30) 1943 Cal 594 (S B), Reversed; (Vol 31) 1944 Bom 121 : ILR (1944) Bom 142 : 45 Cri L Jour 567 (FB), Approved; ((Vol 31) 1944 Sind 1: I L R (1943) Kar 449: 45 Cri L Jour 471 (F B), Overruled.)]

6. Clause (3).— [1] A sentence as altered by the Review Judge is to be regarded as the sentence passed by the Original Court only if he had not exceeded his powers and made the order in the proper exercise of his powers. (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 413 (417) : 45 Cri L Jour 577 (D B).

Section 4 — Note 1

[1] Section 4 can be invoked only in cases where the trial before the Special Courts had not concluded. The High Court acting as such under the Cr. P. Code, cannot be spoken of as a "Special Court" within the meaning of this section. (Vol 31) 1944 F. C. 1 (13): I. L. R. (1944) Nag 300 : 23 Pat 159 : 45 Cri L Jour 413 : I L R (1944) Kar (F C) 8 : (1944) F C R 61 (FC).

[2] Though the word 'trial' sometimes denotes only the recording of evidence, in the context in which it occurs in this Ordinance it comprises all stages of the proceedings including imposition of sentence. (Vol 31) 1944 F C 1 (12) : I L R (1944) Nag 300: 23 Pat. 159 : I L R (1944) Kar F C S : 45 Cr L J 413 : (1944) F C R 61 (FC).

[3] "Trial" in S. 4 does not refer to the entire course of proceedings including appeal, if, any; it refers only to the proceedings of the Court of first nstance. The intention in S. 4 is to refer only to the in a Presidency-town to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, or elsewhere to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate, [a][if there is one or if there is not, to the District Magistrate], who may either—

(i) inquire into or try the case himself, or

(ii) transfer the case for inquiry or trial to any Magistrate subordinate to him,— in accordance with the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

[a] Added by the Special Criminal Courts (Repeal) Amendment Ordinance, 1943 (No. 26 of 1943). S. 3 [17-7-1943].

Indemnity. 5. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceedings shall lie in any Court against any servant of the Crown for or on account of or in respect of any sentence passed or any act ordered or done by him whether in exercise of any jurisdiction or power conferred or purporting to have been conferred on him by or under the said Ordinance, or in carrying out any sentence passed by any Court in exercise of any such jurisdiction as aforesaid.

2. The provisions of the United Provinces Special Armed Constabulary Act, 1942, shall apply to and in relation to members of the United Provinces Special Armed Constabulary constituted under that Act when serving in any Province other than the United Provinces as they apply to and in relation to members of the said Constabulary within the United Provinces.

[THE] WAR GRATUITIES (INCOME-TAX EXEMPTION) ORDINANCE, 1945.

(ORDINANCE NO. XXIV OF 1945)[a]

[14th July 1945.]

An Ordinance to exempt certain war gratuities from liability to income-tax.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for exempting certain war gratuities from liability to income-tax;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers, conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 14th July 1945.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the War Gratuities (Income-tax Exemption) Ordinance, 1945.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance "war gratuity" means any gratuity paid in respect of any person's service in His Majesty's Forces in connection with any hostilities in which His Majesty has been or may be engaged during the period commencing on the 3rd day of September 1939 and ending on such date as the Central Government may by notification in the official Gazette specify in this behalf, but does not include a gratuity (by whatever name called) payable under a contract of service.

Exemption of war gratuities from liability to income-tax.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, any war gratuity paid whether after the commencement of this Ordinance or not to any person shall not for the purposes of that Act be included in the total income or total world income of that person.

[THE] WAR INJURIES ORDINANCE, 1941.

(ORDINANCE NO. VII OF 1941)[a]

[25th July 1941.]

An Ordinance to make provision for the grant of relief in respect of certain personal injuries sustained during the continuance of the present hostilities.

WHEREAS, an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make provision for the grant of relief in respect of certain personal injuries sustained during the continuance of the present hostilities;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 25th July 1941.

Applied to British Baluchistan, see Notfn. No. 23-W, dated 1-10-1941; to the Darjeeling District and the partially excluded areas of the Mymensingh District, with effect from 11-9-1941, see Beng Govt. Notfn. No. 3824-Com, dated 9-9-1941; and to the Chittagong hill-tracts with modification, with effect from 8 10-1942, see Beng. Govt. Notfn. No. 182-S, dated 30-9-1942.

This Ordinance is amended by Ordinances No. 1 of 1942; No. 39 of 1942 and No. 10 of 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the War Injuries Ordinance, 1941.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India [a][and applies also to British subjects and servants of the Crown in any part of India.]

(3) It shall come into force at once.

[a] Added by the War Injuries (Second Amendment) Ordinance, 1942 (No. 39 of 1942), S. 2 [8-8 1942].

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "civil defence organisation" means any organisation established for civil defence purposes which is declared by a scheme to be a civil defence organisation for the purposes of this Ordinance and the scheme;

(2) "civil defence volunteer" in relation to an injury, means a person certified, by an officer of a civil defence organisation authorised by the Central Government to grant such certificates, to have been a member of that organisation at the time the injury was sustained;

(3) "continuance of the present hostilities" means the period beginning with the commencement of this Ordinance and ending with such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare to be the date on which the present hostilities terminated.

(4) "gainfully occupied person" means a person who is engaged in any trade, business, profession, office, employment or vocation and is wholly or substantially dependent thereon for a livelihood, or a person who, though temporarily unemployed is normally so engaged and dependent;

(5) "scheme" means a scheme made under this Ordinance;

(6) "war injury" means a physical injury—

(a) caused by—

(i) the discharge of any missile (including liquids and gas), or

(ii) the use of any weapon, explosive or other noxious thing, or

(iii) the doing of any other injurious act, either by the enemy or in combating the enemy or in repelling an imagined attack by the enemy; or

(b) caused by the impact on any person or property of any enemy aircraft, or any aircraft belonging to or held by any person on behalf of or for the benefit of His Majesty or any allied power, or any part of, or anything dropped from, any such aircraft; [a][or

(c) caused by any explosion or fire which involves any explosives or munitions or other dangerous things required for war purposes and which happens or is caused by, through or in connection with the manufacture, storage or transportation of any such explosives, munitions or other dangerous things;]

(7) "war service injury," in relation to a civil defence volunteer, means any physical injury shown to the satisfaction of the Central Government or other authority authorised to make payments under a scheme to have arisen out of and in the course of the performance by the volunteer of his duties as a member of the civil defence organisation to which he belonged at the time the injury was sustained, and (except in the case of a war injury) not to have arisen out of and in the course of his employment in any other capacity:

Provided that before being so satisfied the Central Government or other authority authorised to make payments under a scheme shall have received from the civil defence organisation of which the volunteer concerned was a member at the time the injury was sustained, a report, by an officer of the organisation authorised by the Central Government to make such reports, about the injury in question.

[a] The word 'or' and clause (c) were added by the War Injuries (Amendment) Ordinance, 1945 (No. 10 of 1945), S. 2. [28-4-1945.]

Power to make schemes for relief in respect of war injuries and war service injuries.

3. (1) The Central Government may make a scheme or schemes in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance providing for the grant of relief in respect of the following injuries sustained during the continuance of the present hostilities, namely:—

(a) war injuries sustained by gainfully occupied persons (with such exceptions, if any, as may be specified in the scheme) and by persons of such other classes as may be so specified; and

(b) war service injuries sustained by civil defence volunteers.

(2) A scheme may authorise the Central Government, or any authority authorised by the Central Government to make payments under the scheme, in such circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be specified in the scheme, to make to or in respect of persons injured—

(a) payments by way of temporary allowance, which shall be payable only so long as the person injured is incapacitated for work by the injury and has not received any such payment as is mentioned in clause (b);

(b) payments otherwise than by way of temporary allowance, which shall be payable only where the injury causes serious and prolonged disablement or death; and

(c) payments for the purchase of or the grant at the cost of Government of artificial limbs or surgical or other appliances [a][and payments for medical and surgical treatment.]

(3) A scheme may empower the Central Government to make regulations for giving effect to the purposes of the scheme.

(4) A scheme may provide that it shall come into operation or shall be deemed to have come into operation on such date as may be specified therein.

(5) A scheme may be amended or rescinded at any time by the Central Government.

(6) Any decision of the Central Government or other authority empowered to make payments under a scheme as to the making, refusal or amount, or as to the continuance or discontinuance, of a payment under a scheme may be varied from time to time by a subsequent decision of the Central Government or such authority as the case may be, but save in so far as it is so varied shall be final and conclusive.

[a] Added by the War Injuries (Amendment) Ordinance, 1942 (No. 1 of 1942), S. 2. [1-1-1942.]

Relief from liability to pay compensation or damages.

4. (1) In respect of a war injury sustained during the continuance of the present hostilities by any person, and in respect of a war service injury sustained during that period by a civil defence volunteer, no such compensation or damages shall be payable, whether to the person injured or to any other person, as apart from the provisions of this sub-section—

(a) would be payable under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923; or

(b) would, whether by virtue of any enactment or by virtue of any contract or at common law, be payable—

(i) in the case of a war injury, by any person, or

(ii) in the case of a war service injury sustained by a civil defence volunteer, by the employer of the volunteer, or by any person who has responsibility in connection with the volunteer's duties as such or by any other civil defence volunteer, on the ground that the injury in question was attributable to some negligence, nuisance or breach of duty for which the person by whom the compensation or damages would be payable is responsible.

(2) The failure to give a notice or make a claim or commence proceedings within the time required by any enactment shall not be a bar to the maintenance of proceedings in respect of any personal injury, if—

(a) an application for a payment under a scheme has been duly made to the Central Government or other authority empowered to make payments under the scheme in respect of the injury; and

(b) the Court or other authority before which the proceedings are brought is satisfied that the said application was made in the reasonable belief that the injury was such that a payment could be made under the scheme; and

(c) the Central Government or other authority empowered to make payments under the scheme certifies that the application was rejected, or that payments made in pursuance of the application were discontinued, on the ground that the injury was not such an injury; and

(d) the proceedings are commenced within one month from the date of the said certificate.

Information as to earnings.

5. (1) Where it is necessary in order to determine the amount of any payment to be awarded under a scheme in respect of any injury, to ascertain the earnings of the person injured in respect of any period before he sustained the injury, the Central Government or other authority authorised to make payments under the scheme may by notice in writing require—

(a) any person who was an employer of the injured person during that period, or

(b) any other person having any knowledge with respect to the financial circumstances of the injured person during that period, to furnish in accordance with the notice any information in his possession relating to those earnings or circumstances, and to produce to any person specified in the notice any wage books, records or other documents in his possession containing entries with respect to those earnings.

(2) If any person—

(a) fails to comply with the requirements of any such notice, or

(b) in purported compliance with any such notice, knowingly or recklessly makes any untrue statement or untrue representation, or produces any document which is false in a material particular or calculated to deceive, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three hundred rupees.

Medical attention in dispensaries and hospitals.

[a][5A. (1) The person managing any dispensary or hospital shall, if so required by the Central or a Provincial Government by general or special order,—

(a) provide at the dispensary or hospital medical and surgical treatment for persons who have sustained injuries of the nature specified in sub-section (1) of section 3, and

(b) keep such records and make such returns relating to the persons treated for such injuries as may be required by or under a scheme.

(2) If any person fails to comply when so required with the provisions of this section he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.]

[a] Inserted by the War Injuries (Amendment) Ordinance, 1942 (1 of 1942), S. 3 [1-1-1942].

Penalty for false statement.

6. Any person who, for the purpose of obtaining a payment or grant under a scheme either for himself or for any other person, knowingly makes any untrue statement or untrue representation, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months.

Assignment or charges to be void.

7. Any assignment of, or charge on, and any agreement to assign or charge any payment awarded or to be awarded under a scheme shall be void, and, on the insolvency of any person to whom such a payment has been awarded, the payment shall not pass to any trustee or other person acting on behalf of the creditors.

[THE] WAR RISKS (FACTORIES) INSURANCE ORDINANCE, 1942
(ORDINANCE NO. XII OF 1942)[a]

[8th April, 1942]

An Ordinance to provide for the insurance of certain property [b][* *] against war risks.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to provide for the insurance of certain property [b][* *] against war risks ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 8th April 1942. This Ordinance is amended by Ordinance No. 32 of 1942 ; No. 40 of 1942 ; No. 9 of 1943 ; No. 25 of 1943 ; No. 9 of 1944; No. 13 of 1945; No. 29 of 1945. [b] The words "in British India" were omitted by the War Risks (Factories) Insurance (Amendment) Ordinance, 1942 (No. 32 of 1942), S. 2 [1-7-1942.]

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the War Risks (Factories) Insurance Ordinance, 1942.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "buildings" includes foundations, plinths, floors, staircases, tanks, engine and boiler beds, chimneys and flues [a][and boundary walls] ;

(b) "factory" means a factory as defined in clause (j) of section 2 of the Factories Act, 1934, and includes any premises including the precincts thereof which, having at any time after the 31st day of December, 1938, been a factory as defined in clause (j) of section 2 of the said Act, have not been exempted under section 14 from the provisions of section 5 of this Ordinance ;

(c) "factory buildings" includes all buildings comprised in the factory, and such other buildings (including residential buildings for staff and workmen, hospitals and welfare centres) within a radius of two miles from the main factory building as are in the same ownership or occupation as the factory and are used for the purposes of the factory;

(d) "the Fund" means the War Risks (Factories) Insurance Fund constituted under section 7 ;

War Risks (Factories) Insurance Fund.

7. (1) The Central Government shall establish a fund for the purposes of this Ordinance to be called the War Risks (Factories) Insurance Fund into which shall be paid all sums received by the Central Government by way of insurance premiums under the Scheme or by way of payments made on composition of offences under section 12, [a][or under any provision of law corresponding thereto in force in an Indian State, or in the French Establishments in India, or in the territories (hereinafter referred to as Administered Areas) set out in the Schedule] [b][or by way of expenses or compensation awarded by a Court, under section 545 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, out of any fine imposed under this Ordinance] and out of which shall be paid all sums required for the discharge by the Central Government of any of its liabilities under the Scheme, or for payments by the Central Government under section 9, or for the payment by the Central Government of the remuneration and expenses of agents employed for the purposes of the Scheme.

(2) If at any time when a payment is to be made out of the Fund the sum standing to the credit of the Fund is less than the sum required for the making of that payment, an amount equal to the deficiency shall be paid into the Fund as an advance out of general revenues.

(3) If at any time the amount standing to the credit of the Fund exceeds the sum which, in the opinion of the Central Government, is likely to be required for the making of payments out of the Fund, the excess shall be paid into general revenues.

(4) The Central Government shall prepare in such form and manner as may be prescribed and shall publish either annually, or at such shorter intervals as may be prescribed, an account of all sums received into and paid out of the Fund.

Power of Central Government to obtain information.

8. [a][(1) Any person authorised in this behalf by the Central Government may, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the owner or occupier of any property required to be insured under this Ordinance has taken out a policy of insurance as required by this Ordinance in respect of such property, or for the purpose of investigating the insurable value of any property insured, or required to be insured, or proposed for insurance under this Ordinance, or for the purpose of estimating the damage suffered by any property insured under this Ordinance,—

(a) require the owner or occupier of the property, or any person carrying on in British India the business of fire insurance in respect of the property, to submit to him such accounts, books or other documents, or to furnish to him such information as he may reasonably think necessary, or

(b) at any reasonable time enter any premises comprising or containing the property, inspect such premises or property, and require any person found on such premises whom he believes to be in possession of information relevant to his investigation, to furnish to him such information as he may reasonably think necessary.]

(2) Whoever wilfully obstructs any person in the exercise of his powers under this section or fails without reasonable excuse to comply with any request made thereunder shall, in respect of each occasion on which any such obstruction or failure takes place, be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(3) Whoever, in purporting to comply with his obligations under this section, knowingly or recklessly makes a statement false in a material particular, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

[a] Substituted for original sub-section (1) by Ordinance No. 9 of 1943, S. 6 [27-1 1943].

Payments towards cost of removal and reconstruction of factory.

9. Where the Central Government requires the owner of a factory to remove the factory and to reconstruct it in another locality, the Central Government shall make to such owner out of the Fund such payments, in addition to any sum payable under the policy of insurance as it considers sufficient to defray the cost of the removal and, if necessary, the replacement of any part of the property in respect of which no compensation is payable.

Recovery of premiums unpaid.

[a][10. (1) Without prejudice to the provisions of sub-section (4) of section 5, where any person has failed to insure as, or to the full amount required by this Ordinance, and has thereby evaded the payment by way of premium of any money which he would have had to pay but for such failure, an officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government may determine the amount payment of which has been so evaded and the amount so determined shall be payable by such person and shall be recoverable from him as provided in sub-section (2).

(2) Any instalment of premium due on a policy of insurance issued under the Scheme, and any amount determined as payable under sub-section (1) shall be recoverable as an arrear of land-revenue and shall be a first charge on the propetty in respect of which the default was made.

(3) A person against whom a determination is made under sub-section (1) may, within the prescribed period, appeal against such determination to the Central Government whose decision shall be final.]

[a] Substituted for original Section 10 by Ordinance No. 9 of 1943, S. 7. [27-1-1943].

Limitation of prosecutions.

11. No prosecution for any offence punishable under this Ordinance shall be instituted against any person except by or with the consent of the Central Government or an authority authorized in this behalf by the Central Government.

Composition of offences.

12. Any offence punishable under sub-section (4) of section 5 may, either before or after the institution of the prosecution, be compounded by the Central Government, or by any authority authorized in this behalf by the Central Government, on payment for credit to the Fund of such sum as the Central Government or such authority, as the case may be, thinks fit.

Bar of legal proceedings.

13. [a][1] No suit, prosecution or other legal proceedings shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Ordinance.

[a][(2) On and after the 29th day of May 1942, no suit shall be maintainable in any civil Court against the Central Government, or a person acting as its agent under section 4, for the refund of any money paid or purporting to have been paid as premium on a policy of insurance taken out or purporting to have been taken out under this Ordinance.]

[a] The original section was numbered as sub section (1) of that section and sub-section (2) was added by Ordinance No. 9 of 1943, S. 8. [27-1-1943.]

14. [a][(1)] The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, exempt any factory or any description of factories or any premises including the precincts thereof which have at any time after the 31st day of December 1938, been a factory as defined in clause (j) of section 2 of the Factories Act, 1934, [b][from the provisions of this Ordinance requiring such factories or premises to be insured or to continue to be insured under this Ordinance; but such exemption shall not prejudice the infliction of any penalty or the accrual of any liability incurred before the date on which the exemption takes effect.]

Power to exempt factories.

[c][(2) In granting any exemption under this section the Central Government may direct that the exemption shall take effect or be deemed to have taken effect on a specified date after or before the date of the notification.]

[THE] WAR RISKS (GOODS) INSURANCE ORDINANCE, 1940.
(ORDINANCE No. IX OF 1940.)[a]

[26th August, 1940.]

An Ordinance to make certain provisions for the insurance of goods in British India against damage by enemy action.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to make certain provisions for the insurance of goods in British India against damage by enemy action ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :—

[a] Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, dated 26th August 1940.

This Ordinance is amended by Ordinances No. 12 of 1941 ; No 14 of 1942 ; No. 19 of 1942 ; No. 36 of 1942 ; No. 8 of 1943 ; No. 25 of 1943 ; No. 29 of 1944 ; it is partly repealed by Ordinance No. 34 of 1945.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the War Risks (Goods) Insurance Ordinance, 1940.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.[a]

[a] The Ordinance came into force on 1st October 1940, see Department of Commerce Notfn. No. 5-W-R-1/40 dated 14-9-1940.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "agricultural products" means products of agriculture, horticulture or sylviculture and includes growing crops, plants and trees ;

(b) "goods" means any materials, commodities or articles and includes materials or articles used in or for the construction of ships up to the time at which a ship after construction is launched ;

[a][(c) "War risks" means such risks arising from —

(i) action taken by an enemy or action taken in combating an enemy or in repelling an imagined attack by an enemy,

[b][(ii) any explosion or fire which involves any explosives or munitions or other dangerous things required for war purposes and which happens or is caused by, through, or in connection with the manufacture, storage or transportation of any such explosives, munitions or other dangerous things] ;

[c][(iii)] measures taken under proper authority to avoid the spreading of, or otherwise to mitigate, the consequences of damage occurring (whether accidentally or not) as the direct result of any such action as d[is described in sub-clause (i) or of any such explosion or fire as is described in sub-clause (ii)],

[c][(iv)] precautionary or preparatory measures taken under proper authority with a view to preventing or hindering the carrying out of any attack by an enemy, being measures involving a substantial degree of risk to property ;

[c][(v)] precautionary or preparatory measures involving the doing of work on land and taken under proper authority in any way in anticipation of enemy action, being measures involving a substantial degree of risk to property, as may be prescribed ;]

e[[c][(vi)] precautionary or preparatory measures taken under proper authority with a view to denying facilities to an enemy, being measures involving a substantial degree of damage to or diminution of the value of property.]

(d) "live-stock" includes animals of any description;

(e) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Ordinance ;

(f) "seller of goods" includes a seller of goods acting as an agent, and, in relation to any person carrying on the business of selling goods as an agent, any reference in this Ordinance to goods produced by him or to goods not produced by him shall be construed as including a reference to goods produced, or as the case may be, not produced by his principal ;

(g) †[* * * *].

[a] Substituted by the War Risks (Goods) Insurance (Amendment) Ordinance, 1941 (No. 12 of 1941), S. 2. [20-12-1941.] [b] Inserted by ibid, 1944 (No. 29 of 1944), S. 2. [1-7-1944.] [c] Renumbered, ibid, 1944. [d] Substituted for 'aforesaid,' ibid, 1944. [e] Added, ibid, 1942 (No. 14 of 1942), S. 2. [11-4-1942]. [f] Omitted ibid, 1941.

Goods insurable under this Ordinance.

3. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section —

(a) the following goods shall, in relation to any person carrying on business in British India as a seller of goods of any description produced by him, be deemed to be goods insurable under this Ordinance, that is to say, all goods situated in British India [a][* * *] b[or, when consigned from one place in British India to another place in British India and in transit, situated in India] being either —

(i) goods of that description, or

(ii) goods used as material from which goods of that description are produced or as ingredients or component parts of goods of that description ; and

(b) the following goods shall, in relation to any person carrying on business in British India as a seller of goods of any description not produced by him, be deemed to be goods insurable under this Ordinance, that is to say, all goods of that description being goods situated in British India [a][* * *] b[or, when consigned from one place in British India to another place in British India and in transit, situated in India].

(2) In relation to a person carrying on in British India the business of selling agricultural products produced by him, all agricultural products and live-stock for the time being situated in British India [a][* * *] shall, subject to the following provisions of this section, be deemed to be goods insurable under this Ordinance :

Provided that the Central Government may by general or special order direct that the provisions of section 7 shall not operate so as to require a person to be insured in respect of any goods which, in relation to that person would not, apart from the provisions of this sub-section, be goods insurable under this Ordinance.

(3) Things which, in relation to a person carrying on any business as a seller of goods, are at any time goods insurable under this Ordinance shall not cease to be goods so insurable by reason only that they are subsequently placed in or affixed to land under a contract of sale entered into by that person in the course of that business.

(4) The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, direct that goods of any description specified in the notification shall, notwithstanding anything contained in this section, be deemed not to be goods insurable under this Ordinance.

[a] Certain words inserted by Ordinance No. 14 of 1942, S. 5, were omitted by the War Risks (Goods) Insurance (Amendment) Ordinance, 1943 (No. 8 of 1943), S. 2. [27-1-1943]. [b] Inserted by the War Risks (Goods) Insurance (Third Amendment) Ordinance, 1942 (No. 36 of 1942), S. 2. [28-7-1942].

Ownership.

[a][4. (1) Save in so far as is otherwise expressly provided in this Ordinance, any goods shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be deemed for the purposes of this Ordinance to be owned—

(a) if the property in the goods is for the time being vested in a person in relation to whom they are insurable under this Ordinance, by that person;

(b) if the property in the goods is not so vested, by any person in relation to whom the goods are insurable under this Ordinance and who is for the time being entitled, either unconditionally or conditionally, to have the property in the goods vested in him :

Provided that where—

(i) any goods would, under the foregoing provisions of this sub-section, be deemed to be owned by a person in whom the property therein is vested otherwise than in the course of a business carried on by him in British India, or who is entitled to have the property therein vested in him otherwise than in the course of such a business, and

(ii) any person carrying on business in British India is for the time being entitled to sell the goods as agent, the goods shall be deemed to be owned by the last mentioned person.

(2) Where in the course of any business a ship is being, or has been constructed under contract, and the ship or any part thereof or any goods appropriated for the construction thereof—

(a) would, apart from the provisions of this sub-section, have been deemed for the purposes of this Ordinance to be owned at any time by the person from time to time carrying on the business; or

(b) have at any time been accepted, in pursuance of a contract made with him, by the person from time to time carrying on the business, then, notwithstanding that they would not, apart from the said provisions, be deemed for the said purposes to be owned by the person from time to time carrying on the business, the ship and any part thereof and any goods so appropriated as aforesaid shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), be deemed, in a case to which clause (a) applies, to continue to be owned by the person from time to time carrying on the business until the acceptance of the ship, in pursuance of the contract in question, by the person for whom it is being, or has been, constructed, and in a case to which clause (b) applies, to be owned by the person from time to time carrying on the business at all times between the acceptance referred to in the said clause (b) and the acceptance of the ship as aforesaid by the person for whom it is being, or has been, constructed.

(3) The provisions of sub-section (2) shall apply in relation to the construction under contract in the course of a business of part of a ship, not being part of a ship which is being, or has been, constructed by the person from time to time carrying on the business, as they apply in relation to the construction of a ship—

(a) with the substitution for references to a ship of references to part of a ship;

(b) where the contract for the part of the ship is with the person for whom the ship is being constructed, with the substitution for references to the acceptance of the ship under the contract in question of references to the acceptance of the ship under the contract for the construction thereof;

(c) where the contract for the part of the ship is with any other person, with the substitution for references to the acceptance of the ship under the contract in question of references to the acceptance of the part of the ship under the contract for the construction of the part by the person for whom it is being, or has been, constructed.

(4) Where the person from time to time carrying on a business receives any money, under a policy issued in pursuance of the War Risks (Goods) Insurance Scheme, in respect of the loss of or damage to a ship, part of a ship or goods which are deemed to be owned by him by virtue of sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), the money shall be held by him on trust for the person who apart from the provisions of those sub-sections would be deemed for the purposes of this Ordinance to be the owner of the ship, part or goods subject, however, to any lien or charge which would otherwise be enforceable against the ship, part or goods, and subject also to the right to retain out of the money the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred by the first mentioned person in making good any part of the loss or damage which he is liable to make good.]

IV.—ORDERS.

(Made by the Governor-General in 1947-1948.)

[THE] ASSAM HIGH COURT ORDER, 1948.

(S. O. 4 dated 1-3-1948.)

WHEREAS the Assam Legislative Assembly have on the ninth day of September, 1947, adopted a resolution that a High Court be established for the Province of Assam, and the said resolution has been submitted to the Governor-General;

NOW, THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 229 of the Government of India Act, 1935, as adapted by the India Provisional Constitution (Amendment) Order, 1948, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the Assam High Court Order, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on the date of its publication in the Gazette of India.

2. (1) The Interpretation Act, 1889,[a] applies for the interpretation of this Order, as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) In this Order, "the Act" means the Government of India Act, 1935, as for the time being in force in the Dominion of India.

[a] (1889) 52 & 53 Vict., c. 63.

3. (1) As from the fifth day of April, 1948 (hereinafter referred to as "the prescribed day"), there shall be a High Court for the Province of Assam which shall be a Court of record, and shall consist of a chief justice and such other judges as the Governor-General may from time to time, whether before or after the prescribed day, appoint in accordance with the provisions of section 220 of the Act :

Provided that any appointments so made before the prescribed day shall not take effect till the prescribed day.

(2) The said High Court is hereinafter referred to as the High Court of Assam.

4. The High Court of Assam shall have, in respect of the territories for the time being included in the Province of Assam, all such original, appellate and other jurisdiction as, under the law in force immediately before the prescribed day, is exercisable in respect of the said territories or any part thereof by the High Court in Calcutta, or by the Governor of Assam exercising the functions of a High Court.

5. (1) The High Court of Assam shall have the like power to approve, admit, enrol, remove and suspend advocates and attorneys, and to make rules with respect to advocates and attorneys, as are, under the law in force immediately before the prescribed day, exercisable by the High Court in Calcutta.

(2) The right of audience in the High Court of Assam shall be regulated in accordance with the like principles as immediately before the prescribed day, are in force with respect to the right of audience in the High Court in Calcutta :

Provided that, subject to any rule made or direction given by the High Court of Assam in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Article, any person who immediately before the prescribed day, is an advocate entitled to practise or an attorney entitled to act in the High Court in Calcutta, shall be recognised as an advocate or an attorney entitled to practise or to act, as the case may be, in the High Court of Assam.

6. Subject to the provisions of this Order the law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of Assam, and accordingly that High Court shall have all such powers to make rules and orders with respect to practice and procedure as are immediately before the prescribed day exercisable by the High Court in Calcutta :

Provided that any rules or orders which are in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Calcutta shall, until varied or revoked by rules or orders made by the High Court of Assam, apply with the necessary modifications in relation to practice and procedure in the High Court of Assam as if made by that Court

7. (1) The High Court of Assam shall have a Seal of such form and design as the Chief Justice may direct.

(2) The law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court of Assam.

8. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court of Assam.

9. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day relating to the powers of the Chief Justice, single Judges and division Courts of the High Court in Calcutta, and with respect to all matters ancillary to the exercise of those powers, shall, with the necessary modifications apply in relation to the High Court of Assam.

10. The High Court of Assam, and the judges and division Courts thereof, shall sit at such places in the Province of Assam as the Chief Justice may, with the approval of the Governor of Assam, appoint.

11. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day relating to appeals to His Majesty in Council or to the Federal Court from the High Court in Calcutta and the judges and division Courts thereof shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of Assam.

12. (1) Except as hereinafter provided, the High Court in Calcutta shall, on and after the prescribed day, have no jurisdiction in respect of the Province of Assam.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in paragraph (1) of this Article or in Article 4, —

(a) any proceedings which, immediately before the prescribed day, are pending in the High Court in Calcutta on its original side, including any proceedings then pending in that High Court as a Court of reference shall be heard and determined by that High Court;

(b) the High Court in Calcutta shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine any appeal from, or to review, an order of a judge of that High Court, whether on its original or appellate side, as if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of Assam shall have no jurisdiction to hear or determine any such appeal, or to review any such order; and

(c) the High Court in Calcutta shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and dispose of any application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council or the Federal Court from an order of that High Court as it would have had if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of Assam shall have no jurisdiction to hear or dispose of any such application.

(3) All proceedings pending in the High Court in Calcutta immediately before the prescribed day, other than proceedings with respect to which that High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraph (2) of this Article, shall, where the Court of origin is situated in the Province of Assam, stand transferred by virtue of this Order to the High Court of Assam.

(4) Any order made by the High Court in Calcutta

(a) in any proceedings with respect to which that High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraph (2) of this Article, or

(b) before the appointed day, in any proceedings transferred to the High Court of Assam by virtue of paragraph (3) of this Article shall for all purposes have effect, not only as an order of the High Court in Calcutta, but also as an order made by the High Court of Assam.

(5) For the purposes of this Article, proceedings shall be deemed to be pending in a Court until that Court has disposed of all issues between the parties, including any issues with respect to the taxation of the costs of the proceedings.

(6) References in this Article to a High Court shall be construed as including references to a judge or division Court thereof, and references to an order made by a Court or a judge shall be construed as including references to a sentence, judgment or decree passed or made by that Court or judge.

13. As from the prescribed day, the Governor of Assam shall cease to have the jurisdiction of a High Court in respect of any part of the Province of Assam, and all proceedings which immediately before that day are pending before the Governor exercising the functions of a High Court shall stand transferred by virtue of this Order to the High Court of Assam and shall be disposed of by that High Court according to law.

14. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the High Court of Assam of any relevant provisions of the Act, and this Order shall have effect subject to any provision that may be made on or after the prescribed day with respect to that High Court by any legislature or other authority having power to make such provision.

[THE] FEDERAL COURT ORDER, 1947.

(G. G. O. 3 dated 11-8-1947.)

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order : —

1. This Order may be cited as the Federal Court Order, 1947.

2. The Interpretation Act, 1889,[a] applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

[a] (1889) 52 & 53 Vict., c. 63.

3. In this Order,—

"the appointed day" means the fifteenth day of August 1947;

"the Federal Court", where used without qualification, means the Federal Court constituted under the Government of India Act, 1935, as in force immediately before the appointed day;

"India" means the Dominion of India;

"Pakistan" means the Dominion of Pakistan.

4. (1) The Federal Court shall, as from the appointed day, be the Federal Court of India, and shall accordingly be deemed to have been duly constituted as such in accordance with the provisions contained in that behalf in the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in relation to India on and after that day.

(2) Without prejudice to the general effect of the preceding paragraph, any person who is a judge of the Federal Court immediately before the appointed day shall, as from that day, be deemed to have been duly appointed a judge of the Federal Court of India under section two hundred, or, as the case may be, section two hundred and two, of the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in relation to India, and shall, on and after that day, be capable of acting in his office as a judge of the Federal Court of India without making a fresh oath or observing any other formality.

(3) Any rules of the Federal Court in force immediately before the appointed day shall remain in force as from that day as if duly made by the Federal Court of India, and may be varied or revoked accordingly.

5. (1) Any proceedings pending in the Federal Court immediately before the appointed day may be continued in the Federal Court of India on and after that day :

Provided that the Federal Court of India may, if it appears to them that any such proceedings as aforesaid ought to be transferred to the Federal Court of Pakistan, direct that the proceedings shall be so transferred; and where any such direction is given the Federal Court of Pakistan shall have jurisdiction with respect to those proceedings to the exclusion of the Federal Court of India.

(2) Where any proceedings pending in the Federal Court immediately before the appointed day are continued in the Federal Court of India on or after that day, any order made in those proceedings by the Federal Court of India, or by His Majesty in Council on appeal therefrom, shall, in addition to being enforceable in India, be enforceable in Pakistan as if it were an order made by the Federal Court of Pakistan, or as the case may be, an order made by His Majesty in Council on appeal from that Court.

(3) For the purposes of this Order proceedings shall be deemed to be pendidg in the Federal Court until all issues between the parties (including any issues with respect to the taxation of the costs of the proceedings) have been finally disposed of.

6. (1) Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained with respect to appeals, any order made by the Federal Court before the appointed day shall be enforceable in India as if it were an order made by the Federal Court of India, and be enforceable in Pakistan as if it were an order made by the Federal Court of Pakistan.

(2) Where any such order as is mentioned in the preceding paragraph has, whether before or after the appointed day, been confirmed, varied or reversed on appeal, the decision of His Majesty in Council on the appeal shall be enforceable in India as if the decision appealed from were a decision of the Federal Court of India, and shall be enforceable in Pakistan as if the decision appealed from were a decision of the Federal Court of Pakistan.

[THE] HIGH COURT (CALCUTTA) ORDER, 1947.

(G. G. O. 6 dated 11-8-1947.)

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. This Order may be cited as the High Court (Calcutta) Order, 1947.

2. (1) The Interpretation Act, 1889[a], applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) In this Order :—

"the appointed day" means the 15th day of August 1947 ;

"the High Court in Calcutta" means the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, constituted in accordance with Letters Patent, dated the 28th December, 1865.

[a] (1889) 52 and 53 Vict., c. 63.

3. The High Court in Calcutta shall continue to exist on and after the appointed day, and shall, save as expressly provided by the High Courts (Bengal) Order, 1947, have all such original appellate and other jurisdiction as it had immediately before that day.

4. Without prejudice to the general effect of the preceding Article, any person holding office as a Judge of the High Court in Calcutta immediately before the appointed day (including the person holding office as Chief Justice of the said Court and any person holding office as a temporary or additional judge thereof) shall, subject to the provisions of the High Courts (Bengal) Order, 1947, continue, as from that day, to hold the like office on the same terms and conditions as were applicable in his case immediately before that day.

5. Subject to any general or special orders or arrangements affecting his case, any person who immediately before the appointed day is serving as a clerk or other officer of the High Court in Calcutta shall, as from that day, remain in the service of the said Court on the like terms and conditions as were applicable to him immediately before that day :

Provided that the Chief Justice of the said Court may, on or after the appointed day, determine the appointment of any such person as aforesaid if he thinks it expedient so to do having regard to any changes effected by or under the Indian Independence Act, 1947.

6. Any rules or orders with respect to practice or procedure in force in the High Court in Calcutta immediately before the appointed day shall remain in force as from that day until altered or modified by a competent authority.

7. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the High Court in Calcutta of any relevant provisions of Part IX of the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in relation to the Dominion of India ; and the provisions of this Order shall have effect subject to any provision made on or after the appointed day with respect to the High Court in Calcutta by any legislature or other authority having power to make such provision.

(G. G. O. 7, dated 11-8-1947).

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. This Order may be cited as the High Court (Lahore) Order, 1947.

2. (1) The Interpretation Act, 1889[a], applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) In this Order :—

"the appointed day" means the 15th day of August, 1947 ;

"the High Court at Lahore" means the High Court of Judicature at Lahore, established by Letters Patent, dated the 21st March, 1919.

[a] (1889) 52 and 53 Vict., c. 63.

3. The High Court at Lahore shall continue to exist on and after the appointed day, and shall, save as expressly provided by the High Courts (Punjab) Order, 1947, have all such original appellate and other jurisdiction as it had immediately before that day.

4. Without prejudice to the general effect of the preceding Article any person holding office as a judge of the High Court at Lahore immediately before the appointed day (including the person holding office as Chief Justice of the said Court and any person holding office as a temporary or additional judge thereof) shall, subject to the provisions of the High Courts (Punjab) Order, 1947, continue, as from that day, to hold the like office on the same terms and conditions as were applicable in his case immediately before that day.

5. Subject to any general or special orders or arrangements affecting his case, any person who immediately before the appointed day is serving as a clerk or other officer of the High Court at Lahore shall, as from that day, remain in the service of the said Court on the like terms and conditions as were applicable to him immediately before that day :

Provided that the Chief Justice of the said Court may, on or after the appointed day, determine the appointment of any such person as aforesaid if he thinks it expedient so to do having regard to any changes effected by or under the Indian Independence Act, 1947.

6. Any rules or orders with respect to practice or procedure in force in the said High Court at Lahore immediately before the appointed day shall remain in force as from that day until altered or modified by a competent authority.

7. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the High Court at Lahore of any relevant provisions of Part IX of the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in relation to the Dominion of India ; and the provisions of this Order shall have effect subject to any provision made on or after the appointed day with respect to the High Court at Lahore by any legislature or other authority having power to make such provision.

[THE] HIGH COURTS (BENGAL) ORDER, 1947.

(G. G. O. 4, dated 11-8-1947)

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order:—

1. This Order may be cited as the High Courts (Bengal) Order, 1947.

2. (1) The Interpretation Act, 1889,[a] applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) References herein to an order made by any court or judge shall be construed as including references to any sentence, judgment or decree passed or made by that court or judge.

[a] (1889) 52 & 53 Vict., c. 63.

3. As from the 15th day of August, 1947 (hereinafter referred to as "the appointed day"), there shall be a High Court of Judicature for the Province of East Bengal; and the said court is hereinafter referred to as the High Court of East Bengal.

4. (1) Between the coming into force of this Order and the appointed day, His Majesty may appoint a Chief Justice of the said court and may appoint such other judges of the said court as he thinks fit, and any appointments so made shall take effect as from the appointed day:

Provided that no person shall be qualified to be appointed a judge under this paragraph unless, under the law in force at the time of the making of this Order, he would have been qualified to be appointed a judge of the High Court in Calcutta, and no person shall be qualified to be appointed Chief Justice under this paragraph unless, under the said law, he would have been qualified to be appointed Chief Justice of the High Court in Calcutta.

(2) If any judge of the High Court in Calcutta, having elected to be a judge of the High Court of East Bengal, is appointed to be a judge of that court in accordance with the preceding provisions of this Order, then, as from the appointed day, the judge so appointed shall cease to be a judge of the High Court in Calcutta.

5. The High Court of East Bengal shall be a court of record, and shall have, in respect of the territories for the time being included in the Province of East Bengal, all such original appellate and other jurisdiction as, under the law in force immediately before the appointed day, is exercisable in respect of the said territories by the High Court in Calcutta.

6. (1) The High Court of East Bengal shall have the like powers to approve, admit, enrol, remove and suspend advocates, vakils and attorneys, and to make rules with respect to advocates, vakils and attorneys, as are, under the law in force immediately before the appointed day, exercisable by the High Court in Calcutta.

(2) The right of audience in the High Court of East Bengal shall be regulated in accordance with the like principles as, immediately before the appointed day, are in force with respect to the right of audience in the High Court in Calcutta:

Provided that, subject to any rule made or direction given by the High Court of East Bengal in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Article, any person who, immediately before the appointed day, is an advocate, vakil or attorney entitled to practice in the High Court in Calcutta, shall be recognised as an advocate, vakil or attorney entitled to practice in the High Court of East Bengal.

7. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of East Bengal, and accordingly that High Court shall have all such powers to make rules and orders with respect to practice and procedure as are immediately before the appointed day exercisable by the High Court in Calcutta.

Provided that any rules or orders which are in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Calcutta shall, until varied or revoked by rules or orders made by the High Court of East Bengal, apply with any necessary modifications in relation to practice and procedure in the High Court of East Bengal as if made by that Court.

8. (1) The High Court of East Bengal shall have a Seal consisting of the Royal Arms, with an exergue or label surrounding the same with the inscription "The Seal of the High Court of Judicature in East Bengal".

(2) The law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court of East Bengal.

9. The law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court in Calcutta shall, with any necessary modifications, apply with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court of East Bengal.

10. The law in force immediately before the appointed day relating to the powers of the Chief Justice and of single judges and divisional courts of the High Court in Calcutta, and with respect to all matters ancillary to the exercise of those powers, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of East Bengal.

11. The High Court of East Bengal and the judges and divisional courts thereof shall sit at such places in the Province of East Bengal as the Chief Justice of the said court may, with the approval of the Governor of East Bengal, appoint.

12. Subject to any relevant provisions contained in Part IX of the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in Pakistan after the appointed day, the law in force immediately before the appointed day relating to appeals to His Majesty in Council from the High Court in Calcutta and the judges and divisions thereof shall, with any necessary modifications, apply in relation to appeals to His Majesty in Council from the High Court of East Bengal and the judges and divisions thereof.

13. (1) Subject as hereinafter provided, the High Court in Calcutta shall have no jurisdiction in respect of the territories for the time being included in the Province of East Bengal.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Order:—

(a) any proceedings which, immediately before the appointed day, are pending in the High Court in Calcutta on its original side, including any proceedings then pending in the said High Court as a court of reference, shall be heard and determined by that court;

(b) the High Court in Calcutta shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine any appeal from an order of a judge of the said court on its original side as if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of East Bengal shall have jurisdiction to hear or determine any such appeal; and

(c) the High Court in Calcutta shall have the like jurisdiction to review any order made by any judge of the said High Court as it would have had if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of East Bengal shall have no jurisdiction to review any such order.

(3) Subject to the preceding provisions of this Article, all proceedings pending on the appellate side of the High Court in Calcutta immediately before the appointed day, shall, where the court of origin is, as from that day, situated in the Province of East Bengal, stand transferred by virtue of this Order to the High Court of East Bengal.

(4) Subject to the following provisions of this Article with respect to appeals, any order made by the High Court in Calcutta either

(a) before the appointed day, or

(b) in any proceedings with respect to which the said High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraphs (2) and (3) of this Article:

shall for all purposes have effect not only as an order of the High Court in Calcutta but also as an order made by the High Court of East Bengal.

(5) Subject to the following provisions of this Article with respect to appeals, any order made by the High Court of East Bengal in proceedings transferred to that High Court by virtue of this Article, shall for all purposes have effect not only as an order of that court but also as an order made by the High Court in Calcutta.

(6) Where any such order as is mentioned in paragraphs (4) and (5) of this Article has, whether before or after the appointed day, been confirmed, varied or reversed on appeal, effect shall be given to the decision of the appellate court as if the order appealed from were an order not only of the High Court by which it was made, but also of the High Court in Calcutta or the High Court of East Bengal, as the case may be.

(7) Any reference in this Article to a High Court shall be construed as including a reference to a judge or division thereof; and for the purposes of this Article proceedings shall be deemed to be pending in a particular court until that court has disposed of all issues between the parties including any issues with respect to the taxation of the costs of the proceedings.

14. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the High Court of East Bengal of any relevant provisions of Part IX of the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in relation to Pakistan, and the provisions of this Order shall have effect subject to any provision made on or after the appointed day with respect to the High Court in Calcutta or the High Court of East Bengal by any legislature or other authority having power to make such provision.

[THE] HIGH COURTS (PUNJAB) ORDER, 1947

[G. G. O. 5, dated 11-8-1947.]

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order:—

1. This Order may be cited as the High Courts (Punjab) Order, 1947.

2. (1) The Interpretation Act, 1889,[a] applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) References herein to an order made by any court or judge shall be construed as including references to any sentence, judgment or decree passed or made by that court or judge.

[a] (1889) 52 & 53 Vict., c. 63.

3. As from the 15th day of August, 1947, (hereinafter referred to as "the appointed day"), there shall be a High Court of Judicature for the Province of East Punjab; and the said court is hereinafter referred to as the High Court of East Punjab.

4. (1) Between the coming into force of this Order and the appointed day, His Majesty may appoint a Chief Justice of the said court and may appoint such other judges of the said court as he thinks fit, and any appointments so made shall take effect as from the appointed day:

Provided that no person shall be qualified to be appointed a judge under this paragraph unless, under the law in force at the time of the making of this Order, he would have been qualified to be appointed a judge of the High Court at Lahore, and no person shall be qualified to be appointed Chief Justice under this paragraph unless, under the said law, he would have been qualified to be appointed Chief Justice of the High Court at Lahore

(2) If any judge of the High Court at Lahore, having elected to be a judge of the High Court of East Punjab, is appointed to be a judge of that court in accordance with the preceding provisions of this Order, then, as from the appointed day, the judge so appointed shall cease to be a judge of the High Court at Lahore.

5. The High Court of East Punjab shall be a Court of record, and shall have, in respect of the territories for the time being included in the Province of East Punjab and in the Province of Delhi, all such original appellate and other jurisdiction as, under the law in force immediately before the appointed day, is exercisable in respect of the said territories by the High Court at Lahore.

6. (1) The High Court of East Punjab shall have the like powers to approve, admit, enrol, remove and suspend advocates. vakils and attorneys, and to make rules with respect to advocates, vakils and attorneys, as are, under the law in force immediately before the appointed day, exercisable by the High Court at Lahore.

(2) The right of audience in the High Court of East Punjab shall be regulated in accordance with the like principles as, immediately before the appointed day, are in force with respect to the right of audience in the High Court at Lohore :

Provided that, subject to any rule made or direction given by the High Court of East Punjab in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Article, any person who, immediately before the appointed day, is an advocate, vakil or attorney entitled to practise in the High Court at Lahore, shall be recognised as an advocate, vakil or attorney entitled to practise in the High Court of East Punjab.

7. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court at Lahore shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of East Punjab, and accordingly that High Court shall have all such powers to make rules and orders with respect to practice and procedure as are immediately before the appointed day exercisable by the High Court at Lahore:

Provided that any rules or orders which are in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court at Lahore shall, until varied or revoked by rules or orders made by the High Court of East Punjab, apply with any necessary modifications in relation to practice and procedure in the High Court of East Punjab as if made by that Court.

8. (1) The High Court of East Punjab shall have a Seal consisting of the Royal Arms with an exergue or label surrounding the same with the inscription "the Seal of the High Court of Judicature in East Punjab."

(2) The law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court at Lahore shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court of East Punjab.

9. The law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court at Lahore shall, with any necessary modifications, apply with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court of East Punjab.

10. The law in force immediately before the appointed day relating to the powers of the Chief Justice and of single judges and divisional courts of the High Court at Lahore, and with respect to all matters ancillary to the exercise of those powers, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of East Punjab.

11. The High Court of East Punjab and the judges and divisional courts thereof shall sit at such places in the Provinces of East Punjab and Delhi as the Chief Justice of the said court may, with the approval of the Governor of East Punjab, appoint.

12. Subject to any relevant provisions contained in Part IX of the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in India after the appointed day, the law in force immediately before the appointed day relating to appeals to His Majesty in Council from the High Court at Lahore and the judges and divisions thereof shall, with any necessary modifications, apply in relation to appeals to His Majesty in Council from the High Court of East Punjab and the judges and divisions thereof.

13. (1) Subject as hereinafter provided, the High Court at Lahore shall have no jurisdiction in respect of the territories for the time being included in the Province of East Punjab or in the Province of Delhi.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Order :—

(a) any proceedings which, immediately before the appointed day, are pending in the High Court at Lahore on its original side, including any proceedings then pending in the said High Court as a court of reference, shall be heard and determined by that court;

(b) the High Court at Lahore shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine any appeal from an order of a judge of the said court on its original side as if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of East Punjab shall have jurisdiction to hear or determine any such appeal; and

(c) the High Court at Lahore shall have the like jurisdiction to review any order made by any judge of the said High Court as it would have had if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of East Punjab shall have no jurisdiction to review any such order.

(3) Subject to the preceding provisions of this Article, all proceedings pending on the appellate side of the High Court at Lahore immediately before the appointed day, shall, where the Court of origin is, as from that day, situated in the Province of East Punjab or in the Province of Delhi, stand transferred by virtue of this Order to the High Court of East Punjab.

(4) Subject to the following provisions of this Article with respect to appeals, any order made by the High Court at Lahore either—

(a) before the appointed day ; or

(b) in any proceedings with respect to which the said High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraphs (2) and (3) of this Article; shall for all purposes have effect not only as an order of the High Court at Lahore but also as an order made by the High Court of East Punjab.

(5) Subject to the following provisions of this Article with respect to appeals, any order made by the High Court of East Punjab in proceedings transferred to that High Court by virtue of this Article shall for all purposes have effect not only as an order of that court but also as an order made by the High Court at Lahore.

(6) Where any such order as is mentioned in paragraphs (4) and (5) of this Article has, whether before or after the appointed day, been confirmed, varied or reversed on appeal, effect shall be given to the decision of the appellate court as if the order appealed from were an order not only of the High Court by which it was made, but also of the High Court at Lahore or the High Court of East Punjab, as the case may be.

(7) Any reference in this Article to a High Court shall be construed as including a reference to a judge or division thereof; and for the purposes of this Article proceedings shall be deemed to be pending in a particular court until that Court has disposed of all issues between the parties, including any issues with respect to the taxation of the costs of the proceedings.

14. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the High Court of East Punjab of any relevant provisions of Part IX of the Government of India Act, 1935, as it applies in relation to India, and the provisions of this Order shall have effect subject to any provision made on or after the appointed day with respect to the High Court at Lahore or the High Court of East Punjab by any legislature or other authority having power to make such provision.

[THE] INDIA (ADAPTATION OF EXISTING INDIAN LAWS) ORDER, 1947.

(G. G. O. 16, dated 14-8-1947.)

WHEREAS sub-section (3) of section 18 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947 (hereafter in the recitals to this Order referred to as "the said Act") provides that save as otherwise expressly provided in the said Act, the law of British India and of the several parts thereof existing immediately before the appointed day shall, so far as applicable and with the necessary adaptations, continue as the law of each of the new Dominions and the several parts thereof, until other provision is made by laws of the Legislature of the Dominion in question or by any other Legislature or other authority having power in that behalf;

AND WHEREAS sub-section (1) of section 9 of the said Act provides that the Governor-General shall by order make such provision as appears to him to be necessary or expedient for bringing the provisions of the said Act into effective operation and for removing difficulties arising in connection with the transition to the provisions of the said Act;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by the said Act, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the India (Adaptation of Existing Indian Laws) Order, 1947.

(2) It shall come into force on the fifteenth day of August, 1947.

2. (1) In this Order—

"appointed day" means the fifteenth day of August, 1947.

"existing Indian law" means any Act, Ordinance Regulation, rule, order or bye-law which immediately before the appointed day has the force of law in the whole or any part of the territories which as from that day form the territories of the Dominion of India, but does not include any Act of Parliament, or any Order in Council, rule or other instrument made under an Act of Parliament, or the General Clauses Act, 1897.

(2) The General Clauses Act, 1897, applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of a Central Act.

3. As from the appointed day, all existing Indian laws shall, until repealed or altered or amended by a competent Legislature or other competent authority, in their application to the Dominion of India and any part or parts thereof, be subject to the adaptations directed in this Order.

4. (1) Where an existing Indian law contains a provision defining the territories to which the law extends, or a provision referring to the territories which are within the scope of that provision, that provision shall be so adapted as to exclude any territories which on the appointed day are not to form part of the territories of the Dominion of India.

(2) Without prejudice to the general effect of the preceding paragraph, references in any existing Indian law to "the whole of British India" (or "British India"), to "Bengal" and to "the Punjab" shall, except where the reference occurs in a title or preamble or any citation or description of an Act, Ordinance or Regulation and except where the context otherwise requires, be replaced by references to "all the Provinces of India", to "West Bengal" and to "East Punjab", respectively.

5. Any reference in an existing Indian law to a High Court which as from the appointed day ceases to be a High Court for any part of the Dominion of India shall —

(a) if the reference be to the High Court of Judicature at Lahore, be replaced by a reference to the High Court of East Punjab, and

(b) in any other case, be omitted.

6. Any words in an existing Indian law signifying that the Governor-General or Governor is to act in his discretion or to exercise his individual judgment shall be omitted.

7. Any reference in an existing Indian law to the exercise of the functions of the Crown in its relation with Indian States (including any provision the operation of which depends on the exercise of such functions) shall be omitted, and references in any such law to the Crown Representative shall be omitted or construed as references to the Central Government as the context may require.

8. Any reference in an existing Indian law to the Indian Legislature or to a Chamber or the Chambers thereof shall be construed as a reference to the Central Legislature.

9. (1) Any tribunal, authority, officer or official body constituted or appointed before the commencement of this Order under an existing Indian law for, or with jurisdiction over, the whole of India or the whole of British India shall, as from the appointed day, be deemed to have been constituted or appointed for or with jurisdiction over, the whole of the Dominion of India, and any reference in an existing Indian law to any such tribunal, authority, office or official body as aforesaid shall be construed accordingly.

(2) Any reference in an existing Indian law to a tribunal, authority, officer or official body whose jurisdiction or authority immediately before the appointed day extends—

(a) to the whole of the Province of Bengal or over parts of that Province which on the said day fall partly within the Province of East Bengal and partly within the Province of West Bengal, or

(b) to the whole of the Province of the Punjab or over parts of that Province which on the said day fall partly within the Province of East Punjab and partly within the Province of West Punjab, or

(c) to the whole of the Province of Assam or over parts of that Province which on the said day fall partly within the Province of Assam and partly within the Province of East Bengal, shall be construed as references to such tribunal, authority, officer or official body as the appropriate Government may by notification in the official Gazette constitute or appoint in that behalf, and any such direction may be given so as to have effect from the appointed day :

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall apply to any tribunal, authority, officer or official body to which or to whom the provisions of paragraph (1) of this Article apply.

(3) For the purpose of sub-paragraph (2) the expression "appropriate Government" means, as respects a law relating to a matter enumerated in List I of the Seventh Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, the Central Government, and as respects any other law, the Provincial Government of West Bengal, East Punjab or Assam, as the case may be.

10. Any court, tribunal or authority required or empowered to enforce an existing Indian law shall, notwithstanding that this Order makes no provision or insufficient provision for the adaptation of the law for the purpose of rendering it consistent with the provisions of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and of the Government of India Act, 1935, as applicable to the Dominion of India, construe the law with all such adaptations as are necessary for the said purpose :

Provided that if any question arises regarding the adaptations with which such law should be construed for the said purpose, the question shall be referred to the Central Government if the law relates to a matter enumerated in List I or List III in the Seventh Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, and to the Provincial Government in any other case, and the decision of that Government on any such reference shall be final.

11. The General Clauses Act, 1897, shall in its application to the Dominion of India, until repealed or altered or amended by the Central Legislature, be subject to the adaptations specified in the Schedule to this Order.

12. The provisions of this Order shall not render invalid anything duly done before the appointed day under an existing Indian law, and anything so done for British India or for parts thereof including territories thereafter included in the Dominion of India shall, as from the appointed day and until altered, varied or undone, have effect as if it had been done after the appointed day for the whole of the Dominion of India or as the case may be, for such territories thereof as aforesaid, by a competent authority and under and in accordance with the provisions then applicable to the case.

13. If by order under section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, provision is made for authorising the continued carrying on for the time being on behalf of the new Dominions or on behalf of any two or more of the Provinces therein referred to as the said new Provinces of services or activities previously carried on under the authority of an existing Indian law on behalf of British India as a whole or on behalf of the former Provinces which those new Provinces represent, then, notwithstanding anything herein contained, such law shall, as from the appointed day, or where the order under the said section 9 is made after the appointed day, as from the date of the making of the order, have effect in its application to the Dominion of India according to the tenor of that order.

THE SCHEDULE.

(See Article 11.)

Adaptations of the General Clauses Act, 1897, in its application to the Dominion of India.

[Note :— Adaptations of the General Clauses Act, 1897, have been incoporated in that Act as printed in Vol. IV of this Manual. Hence the text of this schedule is not reproduced here.]

[THE] INDIA (ADAPTATION OF INCOME-TAX, PROFITS TAX AND REVENUE RECOVERY ACTS) ORDER, 1947.

(G. G. O. 31, dated 10-12-1947)

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the Indian (Adaptation of Income-tax, Profits-tax and Revenue Recovery Acts) Order, 1947.

(2) It shall be deemed to have effect from the fifteenth day of August 1947.

2. In their application to the Dominion of India and any part or parts thereof, the Central Acts specified in the Schedule to this Order shall, as from the fifteenth day of August 1947, and until repealed or altered or amended by a competent Legislature, be subject to the adaptations specified in the said Schedule.

3. The provisions of this Order shall have effect notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the India (Adaptation of Existing Indian Laws) Order, 1947.

(f) to section 247, the following shall be added :—

"Provided that no rule made under this section shall have effect so as to give to any of the persons aforesaid less favourable terms as respects remuneration, leave or pension, or less rights as respects disciplinary matters, than were given to him by the rules in force immediately before the establishment of the Dominion.

Explanation.—In this section, 'remuneration' includes leave pay allowances and the cost of any privileges or facilities provided in kind."

[THE] INDIA PROVISIONAL CONSTITUTION (SECOND AMENDMENT) ORDER, 1948.

(G. G. O. 35, dated 10-2-1948.)

WHEREAS in the exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, the Governor-General was pleased to make the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947, providing for adaptations and modifications of the Government of India Act, 1935 ;

AND WHEREAS it appears to the Governor-General to be expedient to make certain further modifications of the said Government of India Act, 1935 ;

AND WHEREAS sub-section (5) of section 19 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, provides that any power conferred by that Act to make any order includes power to vary any order previously made in the exercise of that power ;

NOW, THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers conferred on him as aforsaid and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the India Provisional Constitution (Second Amendment) Order, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 23 of the Government of India Act, 1935, as adapted by the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947, for the word "one-sixth" at both places where it occurs the word "one-tenth" shall be substituted.

[THE] INDIAN INDEPENDENCE (ADAPTATION OF CENTRAL ACTS AND ORDINANCES) ORDER, 1948.

[G. G. O. 37, dated 23rd March, 1948.]

WHEREAS sub-section (3) of section 18 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, provides that save as otherwise expressly provided in the said Act, the law of British India and of the several parts thereof existing immediately before the appointed day shall, so far as applicable and with the necessary adaptations, continue as the law of each of the new Dominions and the several parts thereof, until other provision is made by laws of the Legislature of the Dominion in question or by any other Legislature or other authority having power in that behalf.

AND WHEREAS sub-section (1) of section 9 of the said Act provides that the Governor-General shall by Order make such provision as appears to him to be necessary or expedient for bringing the provisions of the said Act into effective operation and for removing difficulties arising in connexion with the transition to the provisions of the said Act;

NOW, THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers conferred by the said Act, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the Indian Independence (Adaptation of Central Acts and Ordinances) Order, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. In this Order, the expression "Central Act", has the meaning assigned to it by clause (8aa) of the General Clauses Act, 1897, and the expression "Ordinance" means any Ordinance made by the Governor-General under section 72 of the Government of India Act as set out in the Ninth Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935.

3. (1) The Central Acts and Ordinances specified in the Schedule to this Order shall, until repealed or altered or amended by a competent Legislature or other competent authority, have effect subject to the adaptations directed by that Schedule and by paragraph (2) of this Article.

(2) Wherever the expression "the whole of British India" or the expression "British India" (otherwise than in the expression "the whole of British India") occurs in a Central Act or Ordinance, whether in an Act or Ordinance specified in the Schedule to this Order or not, then, unless that expression is by that Schedule expressly directed to be otherwise modified, or to be omitted, there shall be substituted for the expression first-named the expression "all the Provinces of India", and for the expression second named the expression "the Provinces" :

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall apply to —

(i) the Revenue Recovery Act, 1890 (I of 1890),

(ii) the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890),

(iii) the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (XI of 1922),

(iv) the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940 (XV of 1940), or

(v) the Business Profits Tax Act, 1947 (XXI of 1947).

(3) References in paragraph (2) of this Article and in the Schedule to this Order to any Central Act or Ordinance shall be construed as references to that Act or Ordinance as amended or modified by any subsequent Act or Ordinance and as in force in the Dominion of India immediately before the coming into force of this Order.

4. The Provisions of this Order shall have effect notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the India (Adaptation of Existing Indian Laws) Order, 1947.

(c) all proceedings pending in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Coorg immediately before the appointed day shall stand transferred by virtue of this Order to the said High Court;

(d) any order made before the appointed day by the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Coorg shall for all purposes have effect, not only as an order of that Court, but also as if it were an order made by the said High Court.

[THE] ORISSA HIGH COURT ORDER, 1948.

(S. O. 10, dated 30-4-1948.)

WHEREAS the Orissa Legislative Assembly have on the third day of March, 1948, presented an address to the Governor of Orissa for submission to the Governor-General that a High Court be constituted for the Province of Orissa and the said address has been submitted to the Governor-General;

NOW, THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 229 of the Government of India Act, 1935, as adapted by the India Provisional Constitution (Amendment) Order, 1948, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order :—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the Orissa High Court Order, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on the date of its publication in the Gazette of India.

2. (1) The Interpretation Act, 1889[a], applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) In this Order "the Act" means the Government of India Act, 1935, as for the time being in force in the Dominion of India.

a. (1889) 52 & 53 Vict , c. 63.

3. (1) As from the [a][twenty-sixth day of July, 1948] (hereinafter referred to as "the prescribed day" there shall be a High Court for the Province of Orissa which shall be a court of record and shall consist of a Chief Justice and such other judges as the Governor-General may from time to time whether before or after the prescribed day, appoint in accordance with the provisions of section 220 of the Act :

Provided that any appointment so made before the prescribed day shall not take effect till the prescribed day.

(2) The said High Court is hereinafter referred to as "the High Court of Orissa".

[a] Substituted for the words "fifth day of July" by the Orissa High Court (Amendment) Order, 1948.

4. The High Court of Orissa shall have, in respect of the territories for the time being included in the Province of Orissa, all such original, appellate and other jurisdiction as under the law in force immediately before the prescribed day is exercisable in respect of the said territories or any part thereof by the High Court in Patna.

5. (1) The High Court of Orissa shall have the like power to approve, admit, enroll, remove and suspend advocates and attorneys and to make rules with respect to advocates and attorneys as are under the law in force immediately before the prescribed day, exercisable by the High Court in Patna.

(2) The right of audience in the High Court of Orissa shall be regulated in accordance with the like principles as immediately before the prescribed day are in force with respect to the right of audience in the High Court in Patna :

Provided that subject to any rule made or direction given by the High Court of Orissa in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Article any person who immediately before the prescribed day, is an advocate entitled to practice or an attorney entitled to act in the High Court in Patna shall be recognised as an advocate or an attorney entitled to practice or to act, as the case may be, in the High Court of Orissa.

6. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Patna shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of Orissa and accordingly that High Court shall have all such powers to make rules and orders with respect to practice and procedure as are immediately before the prescribed day exercisable by the High Court in Patna:

Provided that any rules or orders which are in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Patna shall, until varied or revoked by rules or orders made by the High Court of Orissa apply with the necessary modifications in relation to practice and procedure in the High Court of Orissa as if made by that Court.

7. (1) The High Court of Orissa shall have a seal of such form and design as the Chief Justice may direct.

(2) The law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to the custody of the seal of the High Court in Patna shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the custody of the seal of the High Court of Orissa.

8. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court in Patna shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court of Orissa.

9. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day relating to the powers of the Chief Justice, single judge and division courts of the High Court in Patna and with respect to all matters ancillary to the exercise of those powers, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of Orissa.

10. The High Court of Orissa and the judges and division courts thereof shall sit at such places in the Province of Orissa as the Chief Justice may with the approval of the Governor of Orissa appoint.

11. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day relating to appeals to His Majesty in Council or to the Federal Court from the High Court in Patna and the judges and division courts thereof shall with the necessary modifications apply in relation to the High Court of Orissa.

12. (1) Except as hereinafter provided the High Court in Patna shall, on and after the prescribed day, have no jurisdiction in respect of the Province of Orissa.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in paragraph (1) of this Article or in Article 4,—

(a) the High Court in Patna shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine any appeal from, or to review, any order of a Judge of that High Court, whether on its original or appellate side, as if this order had not been made, and the High Court of Orissa shall have no jurisdiction to hear or determine any such appeal or to review any such order ; and

(b) the High Court in Patna shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and dispose of any application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council or the Federal Court from an order of that High Court as it would have if this order had not been made, and the High Court of Orissa shall have no jurisdiction to hear or dispose of any such application.

(3) All proceedings pending in the High Court in Patna immediately before the prescribed day, other than proceedings with respect to which that High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraph (2) of this Article, shall, where the court of origin is situated in the Province of Orissa, stand transferred by virtue of this order to the High Court of Orissa.

(4) Any order made by the High Court in Patna—

(a) in any proceedings with respect to which that High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraph (2) of this Article, or

(b) before the prescribed day in any proceedings transferred to the High Court of Orissa by virtue of paragraph (3) of this Article, shall for all purposes have effect, not only as an order of the High Court in Patna, but also as an order made by the High Court of Orissa.

(5) For the purposes of this Article, proceedings shall be deemed to be pending in a court until that court has disposed of all issues between the parties, including any issues with respect to the taxation of the costs of the proceedings.

(6) References in this Article to a High Court shall be construed as including references to a judge or division court thereof and references to an order made by the court or a judge shall be construed as including references to a sentence, judgment or decree passed or made by that court or judge.

13. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the High Court of Orissa of any relevant provisions of the Act, and this Order shall have effect subject to any provision that may be made on or after the prescribed day with respect to that High Court by any legislature or authority having power to make such provision.

[THE] UNITED PROVINCES HIGH COURTS (AMALGAMATION) ORDER, 1948.

(S. O. 17, dated 19-7-1948).

WHEREAS both Chambers of the Legislature of the United Provinces have presented addresses to the Governor of that Province to amalgamate the High Court in Allahabad and the Chief Court in Oudh, and the said addresses have been submitted to the Governor-General;

NOW, THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers conferred by section 229 of the Government of India Act, 1935, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order:—

1. (1) This order may be cited as the United Provinces High Courts (Amalgamation) Order, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on the date of its publication in the Gazette of India.

2. (1) In this Order,—

"the Act" means the Government of India Act, 1935, as for the time being in force in the Dominion of India;

"appointed day" means the twenty-sixth day of July, 1948; and

"existing High Courts" means the High Courts referred to in section 219 of the Act as the High Court in Allahabad and the Chief Court in Oudh.

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an act of Parliament.

3. As from the appointed day, the High Court in Allahabad and the Chief Court in Oudh shall be amalgamated and shall constitute one High Court by the name of the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as "the new High Court").

4. (1) Every person who, immediately before the appointed day, is a permanent judge of either of the existing High Courts shall as from that day be a permanent judge of the new High Court.

(2) Every person who, having been appointed an additional judge of either of the existing High Courts for a term extending beyond the appointed day, is immediately before that day an additional judge of that High Court, shall as from that day be an additional judge of the new High Court, and shall be deemed to have been so appointed until the expiration of the said term.

(3) Every person who, immediately before the appointed day, is an acting judge of either of the existing High Courts shall as from that day be an acting judge of the new High Court, and shall be deemed to have been so appointed under sub-section (2) of section 222 of the Act.

5. (1) The person who, immediately before the appointed day, is the Chief Justice of the High Court in Allahabad shall be the Chief Justice of the new High Court.

(2) The other persons who by virtue of paragraph (1) of Article 4 of this Order become permanent judges of the new High Court shall rank in that Court in the following order, namely:—

Firstly, the former Chief Judge of the Chief Court in Oudh and the former puisne judges of the High Court in Allahabad, according to the priority of their respective appointments as such Chief Judge or puisne Judge, and secondly, the former puisne judges of the Chief Court in Oudh, according to the priority of their respective appointments in that Court.

(3) The persons who by virtue of paragraphs (2) and (3) of Article 4 of this Order become additional judges and acting judges of the new High Court shall rank in that Court according to the priority of their respective appointments as additional judges or acting judges in either of the existing High Courts.

6. Every person who, immediately before the appointed day, is an officer or servant of either of the existing High Courts shall as from that day be an officer or servant, as the case may be, of the new High Court, and shall be deemed to have been appointed to a corresponding office or post in the new High Court on the same terms and conditions of service (or on terms and conditions as similar thereto as the changes effected by this Order may permit) as were applicable to him immediately before the appointed day:

Provided that nothing in this Article shall be deemed to prevent the Chief Justice of the new High Court from altering the designation or the duties of any office or post.

7. (1) The new High Court shall have, in respect of the whole of the United Provinces, all such original, appellate and other jurisdiction as, under the law in force immediately before the appointed day, is exercisable in respect of any part of that Province by either of the existing High Courts.

(2) The new High Court shall also have inrespect of any area outside the United Provinces all such original, appellate and other jurisdiction as under the law in force immediately before the appointed day is exercisable in respect of that area by the High Court in Allahabad.

8. (1) The new High Court shall have the like powers to approve, admit, enrol, remove and suspend advocates and attorneys, and to make rules with respect to advocates and attorneys, in the whole of the United Provinces as are, under the law in force immediately before the appointed day, exercisable by either of the existing High Courts.

(2) The right of audience in the new High Court shall be regulated in accordance with the like principles as, immediately before the appointed day, are in force with respect to the right of audience in the High Court in Allahabad.

Provided that, subject to any rule made or direction given by the new High Court in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Article, any person who, immediately before the appointed day, is an advocate entitled to practise or an attorney entitled to act in either of the existing High Courts, shall be recognised as an advocate or an attorney entitled to practise or to act, as the case may be, in the new High Court.

[a][Provided further that notwithstanding the amalgamation of the existing High Courts all undertakings given by persons who have held office as Judges of either of the existing High Courts or of the new High Court not to practice as advocates within the jurisdiction of either of the existing High Courts shall be deemed to continue in force, and the Chief Justice shall issue directions prohibiting from practice as advocates such persons to such extent as may be appropriate having regard to the terms of their undertakings, and for this purpose the said undertakings shall be construed as applicable to the new High Court.]

[a.] Added by para. 2 of the United Provinces High Courts (Amalgamation) (Amendment) Order, 1948. [4-11-1948].

9. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Allahabad shall, with the necessary modifications apply in relation to the new High Court, and accordingly that High Court shall have all such powers to make rules and orders with respect to practice and procedure as are immediately before the appointed day exercisable by the High Court in Allahabad:

Provided that any rules or orders which are in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Allahabad shall, until varied or revoked by rules or orders made for the new High Court, apply with the necessary modifications in relation to practice and procedure in the new High Court as if made by that Court:

Provided further that the Chief Justice may, in his discretion, order that any rules or orders which were in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to practice and procedure in the Chief Court in Oudh shall, until varied or revoked by new rules or orders made for the new High Court, apply with the necessary modifications in relation to practice and procedure in the new High Court sitting at Lucknow.

10. Any rules or orders which, having been made by either of the existing High Courts for regulating the practice and procedure of, or otherwise exercising control over, courts subject to its superintendence, shall until varied or revoked by rules or orders made by the new High Court continue to apply with the necessary modifications in relation to the said subordinate courts.

11. (1) The new High Court shall have a seal of such form and design as the Chief Justice may direct.

(2) The law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to the custody of the seal of the High Court in Allahabad shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the custody of the seal of the new High Court.

12. The law in force immediately before the appointed day with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court in Allahabad shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the new High Court.

13. The law in force immediately before the appointed day relating to the powers of the Chief Justice, single judges and division courts of the High Court in Allahabad and with respect to all matters ancillary to the exercise of those powers shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the new High Court.

14. The new High Court, and the judges and division courts thereof, shall sit at Allahabad or at such other places in the United Provinces as the Chief Justice may, with the approval of the Governor of the United Provinces, appoint:

Provided that unless the Governor of the United Provinces with the concurrence of the Chief Justice otherwise directs, such judges of the new High Court, not less than two in number, as the Chief Justice may, from time to time nominate, shall sit at Lucknow in order to exercise in respect of cases arising in such areas in Oudh as the Chief Justice may direct, the jurisdiction and power for the time being vested in the new High Court:

Provided further that the Chief Justice may in his discretion order that any case or class of cases arising in the said areas shall be heard at Allahabad.

15. The law in force immediately before the appointed day relating to appeals to His Majesty in Council or to the Federal Court from the High Court in Allahabad and the judges and division courts thereof shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the new High Court.

16. (1) All proceedings which, immediately before the appointed day, are pending in either of the existing High Courts shall, by virtue of this Order, stand transferred to the new High Court and shall be continued as if they had been proceedings instituted in that High Court.

(2) Any order made by either of the existing High Courts in any such proceedings as aforesaid shall for all purposes have effect, not only as an order of that Court, but also as an order made by the new High Court.

17. As from the appointed day,—

(a) the Letters Patent of His Majesty dated the 17th March, 1866, establishing the High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces and Chapter II of the Oudh Courts Act, 1925 (U. P. Act IV of 1925), shall cease to have effect except for the purpose of construing, or giving effect to, the provisions of this Order;

(b) the Government of India (High Court Judges) Order, 1937, shall be further amended as follows:—

(i) in the First Schedule, in the entry relating to the High Court at Allahabad, for the figures "12" the figures "21" shall be substituted, and the entry relating to the Chief Court of Oudh shall be omitted; and

(ii) in the Second Schedule, the entry relating to the Chief Court of Oudh shall be omitted, and in the Note, the words "a Chief Judge and an acting Chief Judge" shall be omitted ; and

(c) references in any Indian law to either of the existing High Courts by whatever name shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be construed as references to the new High Court.

18. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the new High Court of any relevant provisions of the Act, and this Order shall have effect subject to any provisions that may be made on or after the appointed day with respect to the new High Court by any Legislature or authority having power to make such provision.

RULE II (Amendment of Order VI, Rule 15(1).)

In sub-rule (1) of Rule 15, Order VI of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, in so far as it applies to the Bombay City Civil Court, there shall be substituted a comma for the full stop, and the following shall be added at the end of the sub-rule.

"Within the local jurisdiction, before one of the Officers of the Court empowered to administer oath, and elsewhere in India, before the Officer indicated by section 139 of the Code."

RULE III (Addition of Rules 13 to 22 in Order VIII).

The following Rules 13 to 22 shall be added after Rule 10 (12?) in Order VIII of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, under the heading "counterclaim" ; and they shall apply only to proceedings taken in the Bombay City Civil Court :—

"COUNTERCLAIM.

13. A defendant in a suit in addition to his right of pleading a set off under Order VIII, Rule 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, may set up by way of counterclaim against the claims of the plaintiff any right or claim in respect of a cause of action accruing to the defendant either before or after the filing of the suit but before the defendant has delivered his defence and before the time limited for delivering his defence has expired, whether such counterclaim sounds in damages or not, and such counterclaim shall have the same effect as a cross suit so as to enable the Court to pronounce a final judgment in the same suit, both on the original and on the counterclaim, and the plaintiff (if so advised) shall be at liberty to file a written statement in answer to the counterclaim of the defendant within four weeks after service upon him or his pleader of a copy of the defendant's counterclaim ; and the Court or Judge may on the application of the plaintiff before trial, if in the opinion of the Court or Judge such counterclaim cannot be disposed of in the pending suit or ought not to be allowed, refuse permission to the defendant to avail himsels thereof, and require him to file a separate suit in respect thereof.

14. Where any defendant seeks to rely upon any grounds as supporting a right of counterclaim, he shall in his written statement state specifically that he does so by way of counterclaim.

15. Where a defendant by a written statement sets up any counterclaim which raises questions between himself and the plaintiff along with any other persons, he shall add to the title of his written statement a further title similar to the title in a plaint setting forth the names of all the persons who, if such counterclaim were to be enforced by cross-suit, would be defendants to such cross-suit and shall deliver copies of his written statement to such of them as are parties to the suit within the period within which he is required to deliver it to the plaintiff.

16. Where any such person as in the last preceding rule mentioned is not a party to the suit, he shall be summoned to appear by being served with a copy of the written statement and such service shall be regulated by the same rules as are herein or under the Civil Procedure Code contained with respect to the service of a writ of summons.

17. Any person not a defendant to the suit, who is served with a written statement and counterclaim as aforesaid, must appear thereto as if he had been served with a writ of summons to appear in a suit.

18. Any person named in a written statement as a party to a counterclaim thereby made, may deliver a reply within the time, within which he might deliver a written statement if it were a plaint.

19. Where a defendant sets up a counterclaim, if the plaintiff or any other person named in manner aforesaid as party to such counterclaim, contends that the claim thereby raised ought not to be disposed of by way of counterclaim but in an independent suit, he may, at any time before reply apply to the Court or a Judge for an order that such counterclaim may be excluded and the Court or a Judge may, on the hearing of such application make such order as shall be just.

20. If in any case in which the defendant sets up a counterclaim, the suit of the plaintiff is stayed, discontinued or dismissed, the counterclaim may nevertheless be proceeded with.

21. If the defendant to the counterclaim makes default in putting in a reply to the counterclaim, the defendant in the suit who is the plaintiff to the counterclaim may, in such cases, get the suit set down on motion for judgment on the counterclaim, and such judgment shall be given as the Court shall consider him to be entitled.

22. Where in any suit a set off or counterclaim is established as a defence against the plaintiff's claim the Court or a Judge may, if the balance is in favour of the defendant, give judgment for the defendant for such balance, or may otherwise adjudge to the defendant such relief as he may be entitled to upon the merits of the case."

RULE IV. (Addition of Rules 23 to 30 in Order VIII).

The following Rules 23 to 30 shall be added after Rule 20 (22?) in Order VIII of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908 under the heading "Third Party Procedure"; and they shall apply only to proceedings taken in the Bombay City Civil Court:—

"THIRD PARTY PROCEDURE.

23. (1) Where in a suit a defendant claims as against any person not already a party to the suit (hereinafter called the third party)—

(a) that he is entitled to contribution or indemnity, or

(b) that he is entitled to any relief or remedy relating to or connected with the original subject-matter of the suit and substantially the same as some relief of remedy claimed by the plaintiff, or

(c) that any question or issue relating to or connected with the said subject-matter is substantially the same as some question or issue arising between the plaintiff and the defendant and should properly be determined not only as between the plaintiff and the defendant but as between the plaintiff and the defendant and the third party or between any or either of them, he may by leave of the Court or a Judge, issue a notice (hereinafter called the third party notice) to that effect, sealed with the seal of the Court. Such notice shall be filed with the Registrar and a copy thereof served on such person according to the rules relating to the service of writs of summonses.

(2) The notice shall state the nature and grounds of the claim or the nature and extent of any relief or remedy claimed or the nature of the question or issue sought to be determined, and shall, unless otherwise ordered by the Court or a Judge, be served on the third party within the time limited for filing the written statement of defence and therewith shall be served a copy of the plaint.

(3) The third party shall, as from the time of the service upon him of the notice, be a party to the suit with the same rights in respect of his defence against any claim made against him and otherwise as if he had been duly sued in the ordinary way by the defendant.

24 If a person not a party to the suit who is served as mentioned in Rule 23 (hereinafter called the third party) desires to dispute the plaintiff's claim in the suit as against the defendant on whose behalf the notice has been given, or his own liability to the defendant, the third party must enter an appearance or file a 'Vakalatnama' in the suit, within eight days from the service of the notice. In default of his so doing, he shall be deemed to admit the validity of the decree obtained against such defendant, whether obtained by consent or otherwise, and his own liability to contribute or indemnify, as the case may be, to the extent claimed in third party notice:

Provided always that a person so served and failing to appear within the said period of eight days may apply to the Court or a Judge for leave to appear, and such leave may be given upon such terms, if any, as the Court or Judge shall think fit.

25. Where a third party makes default in entering an appearance or filing a 'Vakalatnama' in the suit in case the suit is tried and results in favour of the plaintiff, the Judge who tries the suit may, at or after the trial, pass such decree as the nature of the case may require, for the defendant giving the notice against the third party:

Provided that execution thereof be not issued without leave of the Judge until after satisfaction by such defendant of the decree against him. And if the suit is finally decided in the plaintiff's favour, otherwise than by trial, the Court or a Judge may, on application by motion as the case may be, pass such decree as the nature of the case may require, for the defendant giving the notice against the third party at any time after satisfaction by the defendant of the amount recovered by the plaintiff against him.

26. If a third party enters an appearance or files a 'Vakalatnama', the defendant giving notice may, after serving notice of the intended application upon the plaintiff, the third party and any other defendant, apply to the Court or a Judge for directions, and the Court or Judge may (a) where the liability of the third party to the defendant giving the notice is established on the hearing of the application, pass such decree as the nature of the case may require in favour of the defendant giving the notice against the third party, or (b) if satisfied that there is a question of issue proper to be tried as between the plaintiff and the defendant and the third party or between any or either of them as to the liability of the defendant to the plaintiff or as to the liability of the third party to make the contribution or indemnity claimed, in whole or in part, or as to any other relief or remedy claimed in the notice by the defendant or that a question or issue stated in the notice should be determined not only as between the plaintiff and the defendant but as between the plaintiff, the defendant and the third party or any or either of them, order such question or issue to be tried in such manner, before, at or after the trial of the suit, as the Court or Judge may direct, or (c) dismiss the application.

27. The Court or Judge upon the hearing of the application mentioned in Rule 26 may, if it shall appear desirable to do so give the third party liberty to defend the suit, either alone or jointly with the original defendant upon such terms as may be just, or to appear at the trial and take such part therein as may be just, and generally may order such proceedings to be taken, pleadings or documents to be delivered, or amendments to be made, and give such directions as to the Court or Judge shall appear proper for having the question and the rights and liabilities of the parties most conveniently determined and enforced, and as to the mode and extent in or to which the third party shall be bound or made liable by the decree in the suit.

28. The Court or a Judge may decide all questions of costs as between a third party and the other parties to the suit, and may order any one or more to pay the costs of any other, or others, or give such direction as to costs as the justice of the case may require.

29. (1) Where a person served with a third party notice by defendant makes as against any person not already a party to the suit such claim as is defined in Rule 23, he may by leave of the Court or a Judge issue a third party notice to that effect, and the preceding rules as to third party procedure shall apply mutatis mutandis to every notice so issued and the expression 'third party notice" and "third party" in these rules shall apply to and include other notices so issued and every person served with such notice respectively.

(2) Where a person served with a notice under this rule by a third party in turn makes such a claim as is defined in Rule 23 against another person not a party to the suit, the procedure prescribed by the preceding rules shall be followed as regards such further person and any other further person or persons so served and so on successively.

30 Where a defendant claims against another defendant (a) that he is entitled to contribution or indemnity or (b) that he is entitled to any relief or remedy relating to or connected with the original subject matter of the suit and substantially the same as some relief or remedy claimed by the plaintiff or (c) that any question or issue relating to or connected with the subject-matter is substantially the same as some question or issue arising between the plaintiff and the defendant making the claim and should properly be determined not only as between the plaintiff and the defendant making the claim but as between the plaintiff and the defendant and another defendant or between any or either of them, the defendant making the claim may without leave of the Court or a Judge issue and serve on such other defendant a notice making such claim or specifying such question or issue, and the same procedure shall be adopted for the determination of such questions between the defendants as would be issued and taken against such other defendant, if such last mentioned defendant were a third party; but nothing herein contained shall prejudice the rights of the plaintiff against any defendant in suit."

RULE V. (Amendment of Order XIII, rule 4)

In sub rule (1) of Rule 4 of Order XIII, Civil Procedure Code of 1908, in so far as it relates to proceedings taken in the Bombay City Civil Court, at the end of the sub-rule the words "officer in Court" shall be substituted for the word "Judge".

RULE VI (Amendment of Order XVIII, rule 5)

In relation to proceedings taken in the Bombay City Civil Court, for the existing rule 5 of Order XVIII of the Civil Procedure Code the following Rule shall be substituted :

"5. Upon the hearing of any suit the evidence of the witnesses shall be taken down in writing by or in the presence and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge, not ordinarily in the form of question and answer, but in that of a narrative, and the notes so taken shall be sufficient for all purposes and shall form part of the record "

RULE VII (Amendment of Order XX, rule 3)

In relation to proceedings taken in the Bombay City

Civil Court for the existing rule 3 of Order XX of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, the following rule shall be substituted :

"3. The judgment shall be dated and initialled by the Judge. When the judgment is once initialled by the Judge, it shall not afterwards be altered or added to, save as provided by section 152 or on review."

RULE VIII (Amendment of Order XX, rule 7)

In relation to proceedings taken in the Bombay City Civil Court, for the existing Rule 7 of Order XX of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, the following rule shall be substituted :

"7. The decree shall bear date the day on which the judgment was pronounced and it shall be engrossed in the office of the Registrar and be signed by him and sealed with the seal of the Court."

RULE IX. (Addition of Rule 17 in Order XXXIII)

In order XXXIII of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908, in so far as it relates to proceedings taken in the Bombay City Civil Court after Rule 16 the following rule shall be added as Rule 17 :

"17. Any person may be allowed to defend as a pauper either before or after he has entered appearance and the rules in this Order shall apply to him mutatis mutandis as if he was a plaintiff and his written statement was a plaint."

RULE X. (Addition of Rule 18 in Order XXXIII)

In Order XXXIII of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 in so far as it relates to proceedings taken in the Bombay City Civil Court after Rule 17 the following rule shall be added as Rule 18 :

"18. No cause suit or matter commenced or carried on by a pauper plaintiff or defendant shall be compromised on any account whatever without leave first had and obtained from the Judge in Chambers or the Court".

RULE XI (Amendment of Order XXXVII, rule 1)

VI.—Three Important Old Regulations.

The Bengal State Prisoners Regulation, 1818[a]

(Bengal Regulation III of 1818)

[7th April, 1818.]

A Regulation for the confinement of State Prisoners.

Preamble.

1. WHEREAS [b][reasons of State connected with defence, external affairs or relations with Acceding States or with the maintenance of public order] occasionally render it necessary to place under personal restraint individuals against whom there may not be sufficient ground to institute any judicial proceeding, or when such proceeding may not be adapted to the nature of the case, or may for other reasons be unadvisable or improper;

and whereas it is fit that, in every case of the nature herein referred to the determination to be taken should proceed immediately from the authority of the [c][Government]; and whereas the ends of justice require that, when it may be determined that any person shall be placed under personal restraint, otherwise than in pursuance of some judicial proceeding, the grounds of such determination should from time to time come under revision, and the person affected thereby should at all times be allowed freely to bring to the notice of the [c][Government] all circumstances relating either to the supposed grounds of such determination, or to the manner in which it may be executed; and whereas the ends of justice also require that due attention be paid to the health of every State prisoner confined under this Regulation, and that suitable provision be made for his support according to his rank in life, and to his own wants and those of his family; and whereas the reasons above declared sometimes render it necessary that the estates and lands of zamindars, talukdars, and others [d][* * *] should be attached and placed under the temporary and whereas it is desirable to make such legal provisions as may secure from injury the just rights and interests of individuals whose estates may be so attached under the direct authority of Government;

[e][It is hereby enacted as follows:]—

[a] Short title was given by the Amending Act 1897 (V of 1897). The Regulation is amended by Act 12 of 1891, supplemented by Acts 34 of 1850 and 3 of 1858, repealed in part by Acts 16 of 1874 and 1 of 1903. For Acts 34 of 1850 and 3 of 1858 See A. I. R. Manual Vol, VII.

The Regulation is declared in force:—(a) throughout former Province of Bengal and Agra, except as regards the Scheduled Districts, by Act 15 of 1874, Ss. 6 and 7; (b) in the Central Provinces and Sambalpur District by S. 3 of Act 20 of 1875; (c) in Sonthal Parganas by S. 3 of Regulation 3 of 1872 as amended by S. 3 of Regulation 3 of 1899; (d) in the district of Khondamals by S. 3 and Sch. of Reg. 4 of 1936; (e) in the Angul District by S. 3 and Sch. of Regn: 5 of 1936; (f) in the Chittagong Hill-tracts by S. 4 of Regn. 1 of 1900; (g) in the Punjab by S. 3 of Act 4 of 1872; (h) in the N-W. Frontier Province by S. 4 of Regn. 7 of 1901; (i) in Oudh (with modifications, and with the exception of S. 10) by S 3 of Act 18 of 1876; (j) in Ajmer by S. 3 of Regn. 3 of 1877; (k) in British Baluchistan by S. 3 of Regn. 2 of 1913, (l) in Panth Piploda by S. 2 of Regn. 1 of 1929.

Extended to the areas transferred to Orissa from the Madras Presidency by Regn. 1 of 1936.

[1st January, 1827.]

A Regulation for the confinement of State Prisoners and for the attachment of the lands of Chieftains and others for reasons of State.

Preamble.

WHEREAS reasons connected with the maintenance of public order in a Province, occasionally render it necessary to place under personal restraint individuals against whom there may not be sufficient ground to institute any judicial proceedings, or when such proceedings may not be adapted to the nature of the case, or may for other reasons be unadvisable or improper; and whereas it is fit that, in every case of the nature herein referred to, the measures adopted should emanate immediately from the Governor in Council; and whereas reasons of State sometimes render it necessary that the estates and lands of zemindars, taluqdars and others should be attached and placed under the temporary management of the Revenue-authorities, without having recourse to any judicial proceeding;

the following rules have therefore been enacted:—

CHAPTER I.

Rules for the apprehension and confinement of individuals as State Prisoners.

Proceeding for placing persons under restraint as State prisoners.

1. First.—When reasons connected with the maintenance of public order in the Province may seem to the Provincial Government to require that an individual should be placed under restraint, without any immediate view to ulterior proceedings of a judicial nature, it shall be lawful for the Provincial Government provided always that, with reference to the individual, the measure shall not be in breach of British law, to cause such individual to be apprehended in such manner as the Provincial Government may deem fit, and, when apprehended, to be delivered over to any officer in whose custody it may be deemed expedient that he shall be placed, with a warrant of commitment to such officer's address.

Form and authority of warrant.

Second.—The warrant of commitment shall be in the form specified in Appendix A, and shall be sufficient authority for the detention of any State prisoner in any fortress, jail or other place within the Province.

Allowance for support of State prisoner.

2. The Provincial Government shall fix such allowance for the support of the State prisoner as may seem to it expedient in reference to the prisoner's habits and rank in society, and shall specify at the same time through whose means it is to be paid and how it is to be applied.

Report to Government as to conduct, etc., of prisoner.

3. Every officer in whose custody any State prisoner may be placed shall, on the first of January and first of July of each year, submit a report to the Provincial Government on the conduct, the health and the comfort of such State prisoner in order that the Provincial Government may determine whether the orders for his detention shall continue in force or shall be modified.

4. [First.—Powers of Judge of Circuit.] Repealed by the Repealing Act, 1873 (XII [12] of 1873).

Prisoner in custody of officer other than District Magistrate by whom to be visited.

Second.—When any State prisoner is placed in the custody of any public officer not being a District Magistrate the Provincial Government shall instruct either the District Magistrate, or any other public officer, not being the person in whose custody the prisoner may be placed, to visit such prisoner at stated periods, and to submit a report to Government regarding the health and treatment of such prisoner.

Report to Government as to confinement, etc., of prisoner.

5. First.—Every officer in whose custody any State prisoner may be placed shall as soon after taking such prisoner into his custody as may be practicable, report to the Provincial Government whether the degree of confinement to which he may be subjected appears liable to injure his health, and whether the allowance fixed for his support be adequate to the supply of his own wants and those of his family, according to their rank in life.

Representation of prisoner to be submitted.

Second.—The officer in whose custody any State prisoner may be placed is to forward, with such observations as may appear necessary, every representation which such State prisoner may from time to time be desirous of submitting to the Provincial Government.

6. [Persons already confined as State prisoners.] Repealed by the Repealing Act, 1876 (XII [12] of 1876).

CHAPTER II.

Rules for the Attachment of Lands for Reasons of State, and for Removing such Attachment.

Attachment of estates by order of Government without decision of Court.

7. Whenever the Provincial Government for reasons of State shall judge it necessary to attach the estates or land of any zamindar, jagirdar, taluqdar or other person without any previous decision of a Court of Justise, or other judicial proceeding, the grounds on which the resolution of Government may have been adopted, and such other information connected with the case as may appear essential shall be communicated, to the Judge and the District Magistrate or other civil authorities of the district in which the lands or estates may be situated.

Management of attached lands.

8. First.—The lands or estates which may be temporarily attached shall be held under the management of the officers of Government in the Revenue Department, and the collections shall be made and adjusted on the same principles, if consistent with rights of others, as had been followed by the proprietor;

Provided, however, that any change may be introduced which the proprietor may desire, and which may not infringe on private rights, nor appear objectionable to the Collector; and annual accounts of the management of the lands attached shall be furnished to the proprietor.

Attached lands how saleable in execution. Income applicable to satisfaction of decrees.

Second.—Such lands or estates, while so under attachment shall not be liable to be sold by process of law, or otherwise, without the mutual consent of Government and the proprietor; but the annual income or any portion of it may, if Government shall so direct, be applicable to the satisfaction of decrees of the Civil Court.

Rules as to cases where Government orders release from attachment.

9. Whenever the Provincial Government shall be of opinion that the circumstances which rendered the attachment of such estate necessary have ceased to operate, and that the management of the estate can be committed to the hands of the proprietor without public hazard or inconvenience, the Revenue authorities will be directed to release the estate from attachment, to adjust the accounts of the collections during the period in which they may have been superintended by the officers of Government, and to pay over to the proprietor the profits from the estates which may have accumulated during the attachment.

CHAPTER III.

Extent of this Regulation.

Extent.

10. This Regulation extends to the whole of the Provinces of Bombay and Sind as constituted under the Government of India Act, 1935.

APPENDIX A.

To the (here insert the officer's designation)

Whereas the Governor for good and sufficient reasons, has resolved that (here insert the State prisoner's name) shall be placed under personal restraint at (here insert the name of the place), you are hereby ordered, in pursuance of that resolution, to receive the person abovenamed into your custody, and to deal with him in conformity to the orders of the Governor and the provisions of Regulation XXV, A. D. 1827.

THE MADRAS STATE PRISONERS REGULATION, 1819[a]

(Madras Regulation II of 1819.)

TOPICAL INDEX.

Scheme of Index.

(1) Each Act is indexed separately.

(2) These indexes are given in the alphabetical order of the respective Acts.

(3) For this purpose each Act is treated as a main heading in the Index.

(4) Where a topic dealt with in a certain section of an Act is not indicated by the title of the Act the topic is mentioned as an independent main heading.

(5) Under the heading "Words and Phrases" are given all expressions statutorily defined.

(6) References are to Acts and sections and not to pages.

Overlooking of Precedents leads to Erroneous Decisions

"Ignorance of the Judge is the misfortune of the innocent." Latin Maxim.

(1943) 30 A. I. R. 1943 Privy Council 189 (191).— In an appeal from Allahabad the question for decision involved was as to the inherent power of the Court to grant restitution to the successful defendant. Their Lordships observed: "The decision of the Board in 46 I. A. 228 was not cited in either of the Courts in India . . . . . The application now before the Board . . . . . invoked the powers of the learned Subordinate Judge to assess the sum due by way of restitution . . . . by the method laid down in 46 I. A. 228 . . . . For this purpose the case must go back to the Court of the Subordinate Judge. . . ."

(1922) 9 A. I. R. 1922 Privy Council 11 (12) = 43 All. 469 (475) (PC). — Section 89, T.P. Act, 1882, ended after providing for the decree "and thereafter the defendants' right to redeem and the security shall both be extinguished." These words do not occur in either the foreclosure section of the Act of 1882 or the corresponding rule of O. 34, Civil P. C.

"The difficulty which had arisen as to these words in several cases, e.g., Vannikalinga v. Chidambara, (1908) I. L. R. 29 Mad. 37 — which case, it may be mentioned, does not seem to have been brought to the notice of the Board in Hot Ram's case, (1918) 45 I. A. 180—therefore no longer arises."

(1948) 35 A. I. R. 1948 Nagpur 382 (384) (DB). — "The decree [of the District Judge] was set aside and the decree of the trial Court was restored by Gruer J. in Second Appeal No. 109 of 1938 on 7-11-1940. It is against this decree that the present appeal has been filed . . . . If the above decision [namely, 1939 Nag. L. R. 358] had been placed before Gruer J. he would not have reached the conclusion he did."

(1947) 34 A. I. R. [illegible] 436 (431).—Per Kania J. — "My attention has been drawn to two [illegible] connection. One is my own judgment in (1943) 45 Bom. L. R. 400 . . . . At [illegible] attention was not drawn to the judgment of the Appeal Court in (1939) 40 Bo[illegible] — 673."

(1947) 34 A. I. R. [illegible] adras 405 (407) (DB). — "We now come to the first case referred to in the order [illegible]erence, namely, 1943-2 M. L. J. 180. There Horwill J. held that the right of a legal re[illegible]entative was merely to file a fresh application to sue in forma pauperis or institute a separate suit. No reference was made in the judgment to the decision in (1935) 58 Mad. 169 . . . . . This decision is not only in conflict with the judgments in (1928) 51 Mad. 667 and (1935) 58 Mad. 169, but it ignores the fact. . . ."

(1947) 34 A. I. R. 1947 Oudh 180 (190) (FB).—Thomas C. J. — "The learned counsel for the plaintiffs respondents has strongly relied . . . . upon my decision in A.I.R. 1936 Oudh 240 relying on 55 I. A. 139 wherein I held . . . . . But now having regard to the argument advanced, and the fact my attention was not drawn to the decision of their Lordships of the Privy Council in (1876) 4 I. A. 228, I entertain serious doubt as to the correctness of that decision. Nor was 4 I. A. 228 brought to the notice of Ashworth J. in (1926) 3 O. W. N. 321."

(1947) 34 A. I. R. 1947 Oudh 232 (233) (DB).—"No doubt in 1940 O. W. N. 561 a Bench of this Court entertained an application in revision against the order of a District Judge and set aside that order but the attention of the learned Judges does not seem to have been drawn to the Full Bench decision to which we have referred [namely, a decision of five Judges reported in (1929) 4 Luck. 589], nor was the point as to the maintainability of an application in revision considered."

(1945) 32 A. I. R. 1945 Lahore 260 (261) (FB). — Per Achhru Ram J. (in the Order of Reference) — " He (i. e., Patanjali Sastri, J. in A. I. R. 1942 Mad. 13) does not, however, appear to have noticed one of the Division Bench judgments of his own Court reported in A. I. R. 1920 Mad. 177 which also dealt with the same subject and took just the opposite view from that taken by him."

(1945) 32 A. I. R. 1945 Madras 139 (141) (FB). — "The decisions in which the contrary view has been expressed are: 45 Mad. 466, A. I. R. 1919 Mad. 220, A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 440 and 1941-2 M. L. J. 754." In the first of these cases "the Court did not, however, consider the case in 5 Mad. 141 . . . . In none of the other cases was any reason given for the view expressed and in no case was 5 Mad. 141 mentioned or considered . . . . We consider that 5 Mad. 141 should be followed."

A. I. R. Commentaries Judicially Noticed.

(1948) 35 A I. R 1948 Allahabad 19 (24, 25) (FB) Per Rajhubar Dayal J. — "Circumstances requiring remand of a case can be many and need not be exhaustively imagined at a time A good number of such cases are noted under Note 20, O 41, R 23, Civil P C, in Chitaley's Civil P C 4th (1944) Edn . I find that two other High Courts, the Madras High Court and the Lahore High Court, have given very wide powers to the appellate Court to remand the suits These amendments are given in Chitaley's Code of Civil Procedure, 4th Edn.'

(1947) 34 A. I. R 1947 Bombay 345 (350) (SB) — Per Sen J —"Chitaley in his Code of Criminal Procedure 1941 edition, has pointed out at page 1234 that there is not specific provision enabling the Court to try the case where the accused pleads guilty and the Court does not accept the same and the law in India where the Court does not think it expedient to act upon the accused's plea of guilt the usual procedure is to advise him to withdraw his plea of guilty and to plead not guilty Chitaley has further pointed out that in this country the general trend of opinion is that the accused may be treated in such cases as if he had pleaded not guilty and then the trial may be proceeded with in the ordinary way, and he has referred to several authorities in support of this view" [View approved]

(1945) 32 A. I R. 1945 Calcutta 298 (299). — The court we are taking of sub s (2), R 1 of O 40 finds support from the decision of the [redacted] High Courts and even from some earlier decisions of the Allahabad High Court itself Those decisions are noted at the foot note to para. 19 of Chitaley and Rao's Commentaries on the Code of Civil Procedure, Vol 3, page 2024." (Now see 4th Edn, page 2068)

(1947) 34 A. I R. 1947 Lahore 403 (40[redacted] J.— "In Chitaley's Commentary on S. 141, Civil P C [4th Edn., 1944) I [redacted] 741 the learned author observes that proceedings under the Indians a [redacted] 1890, have been held to be original matters the nature contemplated by th [redacted] [This view is approved]

(1948) 35 ... I. R. 1948 Nagpur 210 (2[redacted] — Per Hidayatullah J — "In my opinion, the matter is to be determined on [redacted] construction of S 91 ( ) T P Act As pointed out in Chitaley's Transfer of Property Act, 2nd (1945, Edn.], p 1372, the two phrases in S 91 (a) refer to different stages .. The passage in Chitaley can be quoted with advantage here. 'The property mortgaged is not the same thing . . after deducting the mortgagee interest''

(1948) 35 A. I. R. 1948 Oudh 116 (125) (DB). — Per Raul J — "As pointed out by Chitaley in his Commentary on S 151, Civil P C, (Note 2) it has been held by the High Courts of Allahabad, Calcutta Lahore, Madras, Patna, Rangoon and the Judicial Commissioner's Court of Oudh and Sind that there is no inherent power to set aside an ex parte decree, or restore a suit dismissed for default, except under the circumstances and conditions mentioned in O 9, R 13 and R 9 respectively The same remarks would apply to restoration of appeals under O 41, R 19, Civil P C I agree with the view thus stated."

(1948) 35 A I R. 1948 Patna 460 (462) (DB) — Per Meredith J — "I will make two quotations from Chitaley an Annaji Rao's annotated edition of the Civil Procedure Code, 4th Edn, Vol III, because those learned commentators have, in my opinion, correctly summed up the position in language which cannot be bettered At page 3009, with reference to O 41, R 4 they say. 'There is a conflict ... that the former view is correct'. Then with regard to O 41, R 33, at page 3165 they say 'The appellate Court can exercise .. .. the words respondents or parties' That is just the point which appeals to me"

(1947) 34 A. I. R. 1947 Peshawar 15 (18) (DB) "All the authorities bearing on the point were examined and the result of the examination was thus stated in the Indian Limitation Act by Chitaley etc, 2nd (1942) Edn. page 1337 'It would seem to appear from an examination of cases ..... a fresh cause of action and time would run from that date.' It is obvious that according to this view a fresh invasion of title would constitute a new cause of action for a suit from which limitation should commence to run."
